Think of all the men and women
Who'are now and who have been,
Every nation since creation
That this world of nurs has seen;
And of all of them, not any
But was once a baby small,
While of children; oh, how many
Have ne'er grown up at all!

Some have never laughed nor spoken, Never used their rosy feet; Some have even flown to heaven, Ere they knew that earth was sweet; And indeed, I wonder whether, If we reckon ev'ry birth, And bring such a flock together, There is room for them on cartin.

Who will wash their smilling faces?
Who their saucy ears will box?
Who will dress them? and caress them?
Who will darn their little socks?
Where are arms enough to hold them?
Hands to pat oach shining head?
Who will plaise them? who will scold the Who will place them?

Little happy Christian children,
Little savage children, too,
In all stages; of all ages,
That our planet ever knew!
Little princes and princesses.
Little beggars, wan and faint,
Some in very handsome dresses,
Naked some, bedaubed with paint.

Only think of the confusion
Such a motley crowd would make;
And the cister of their chatter,
And the things that they would break!
On! the babble of the Babie!
Oh! the futter of the fust!
To begin with Cain and Abol,
And to finish off with us!

"Poor, but respectable people" are common enough; what we want now are a few who are rich and respectable. A young lady studying French, and find-ing that "belle" meant "fine," told some one in a letter that we had a great deal of belle weather lately. An amateur editor in Indianapolis has made a fortune by his pen. His father died of grief after reading one of his leading ar-cles, and left him $130,000. Miss Lyons, of Newark, shot her brains out because she was obliged to board with strangers. We have often wondered why more boarders didn't commit suicide. A cherubic little fellow told his kindly school teacher recently, that he doesn't want to be an angel so much as he did. He prefers to grow up, go to Congress and receive Mr. Charles Thapson recently ran his head against a young lady during a cotillon. "Ah! excuse me deah," he cried; "did it hurt, ah?" "No, sir," she replied, "it's too soft to litter anything."

When you see paragraphs stating that Mr-So-and-So, of such a place, is 111 years old, set it down in your mind that the man

Jedediah Burchard, once preaching a revival sermon, was interrupted by the entrance of Aaron Burr. "Here comes one," says the revivalist, "against whom even I will testify in the day of judgment." "Yes, sir," said Burr, "in fifty years of criminal practice I have always found the greatest rascal turn State's evidence."

"That's a very stupid brute of your's John," said a Scotch minister to one of his parishoners, a peat-dealer, who drove his merchandize from door to door in a small cart drawn by a donkey. "I never see you but the creature is braying." "Eh, sir," said the peat-dealer, "ye ken the heart's warm when friends meet."

A lady walking on Broadway a short time ago a gentleman's button caught in the fringe of her shawl. Some moments elapsed before the parties were separated. "I am attached to you, madam," said the gentleman, good-humoredly, while he was industriously trying to get loose. "The attachment is mutual, sir," was the equally good-humored reply. ed reply.

The smartest case of the kind that we have met with lately is that of a girl who makes her unsuspecting father the daily bearer of sweet missives to a clerk in his office who has been forbidden to visit his employer's house: She pins the letter in the old gentleman's cloak; and when he reaches the office and throws off the corner the cloak. and throws off the garment, the clerk gets it and responds by the same carrier.

Miss Kitty—; daughter of D—, loves her father and takes an interest in his profession. The other day a lady called in to see her, and asked her howshe was and how she was getting along. "Oh, pretty woll," answered Miss Kitty, "pretty well; plenty of colds, some bronchitis, and a little typhus fever; but as father said yesterday, to make things lively, what we want is a nice little epidemic."

A few days since one of our popular attorneys called upon another brother of the profession, and asked his opinion upon a certain point of law. The lawyer to whom the question was addressed drew himself up, and said, "I generally get paid for telling what I know!" The questioner drew a half-dollar from his waistoat pocket, handed it to the other and coolly remarked, "Tell me all you know, and give me the change."

In a night-school the other evening, ir, a village not twenty miles from Oxford, the teacher was trying to make his class understand the meaning of subtraction, and to illustrate his subject, said, "Supp osing a farmer had four hundred sheep, and he sold fifty of them, by what process would he understand how many he had left? What would he do?" A raw-loned had of four-teach, with beaming face and outstretched arm, replied, as soon as he caught the teacher's eye, "Ask the sbuppard, sir."

Danbury News-isms.

Did you ever wake up at midnight and think of Sergeant Bates.? A woman who tells fortunes from a tencup is not necessarily a sauceress. People who have luxuriated on buck-wheat cakes all winter are backing up against door jams and gate posts with a good deal of pleasing activity.

There was a fight between Danbury and Norfolk roosters in this place on Friday. The pain every good citizen must feel over such a brutal display is somewhat modified by the fact that our rooster licked.

A very unpleasant fix was that of the gent on Saturday night, who struggled manfully but hopelessly to encase himself within a pair of tight boots while a dog fight was go-ing on around the corner. He finally got out there in his stocking feet, but the fight

A Danbury young man who was once a clerk, lately went on a farm to work. The first night in his new position he was detailed to remove a calf from the apartment of its parent to another shed, and while engaged, as thousands have been before him, in shoving the contrary beast along, the mother reached under the tails of his coat with her horns, and suddenly lifted him up against the roof of the building with a force that threatened to shatter every bone in his that threatened to shatter every bone in his body. The first thing he did on returning to earth was to rub himself, the next thing was to throw up his place. and Herbal Juice, Auti-Billions Granulos, THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can by a caroul application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive stomachs and fastidious tastes. Each little Pargative Polletrepresents, in a most concentrated form, as much enthartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in the drug shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in proportion to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect, but such is not at all the case, the different active, medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and medicad, one by the others, as to produce a most scarching and thorough, yet gently and kindty operating enthartic.

alysis, will find in them any Calomel or other forms of mercury or any other mineral poison.

Being entirely vegotable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Januaice, Headache, Constitution, For Januaice, Headache, Constitution, For Januaice, Headache, Constitution, Fightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Ernetations of the Stomach, Bad taste in mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Hush of Blood to Head, High Colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pierce's Piesaant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of disasses, I wish to say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair them: their sngar-coating and being enclosed in glass bottles preserve their virtues uninhaired for any longth of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable, which is not the case with the pills found in the drug stores, put up in cheap wood or paste-board boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alternative or Purgative is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them, They are sold by all enterprising Pruggists at 25 cents a bottle.

Do not allow any druggist to induce you to take anything clse that he may say is just as good as my Pellets because he makes a larger profit on that which he recommends. If your druggist cannot, supply them, enclose 25 cents and receive them by return mail from
