The wind might whistle, the wind might roar And teeth he sching and throats be sere, But still he never would shut the door. His father would scold, his mother implore, "Godfrey Gordon Gustavus Gore, We really do wish you would shut the door!"

Their hands they wrung, their hair they tore, But Godfrey Gordon Gustavus Gore Was deaf as the buoy out at the Nore. When he walked forth the folks would roar, "Godfrey Gordon Gustavus Gore, Why don't you think to shut the door?"

They rigged out a shutter with sail and car, And threatened to pack off Gustavus Gore On a voyage of penance to Singapore. But he begged for mercy, and said, "No more i Pray do not send me to Singapore On a shutter, and then I will shut the door!"

"You will?" said his parents; "then keep on But mind you do! For the plague is sore Of a fellow that will never shut the door, Godfrey Gordon Gustavus Gore!"

WORDS OF WISDOM. Wranglers never want words. Kindness is stronger than the sword. A proverb is the child of experience. Oil and truth will get uppermost at the Men willingly believe what they wish to Condemn no man for not thinking as He that speaks ill of other men burns his own tongue. In prosperity we need moderation; in a versity, patience.

Satire is a glass in which the beholder sees everybody's face but his own. Prefer loss before unjust gain, for that brings grief but once, this forever. A good word is an easy obligation; but not to speak ill requires our silence, which costs us nothing.

While the gift of conversation proves clever man, the want of it is no proof of

Though a taste of pleasure may quicken the relish of life, an unrestrained indulgence leads to inevitable destruction. Mankind are very odd creatures. One half censure what they practice, and the other half practice what they censure.

A man should no more make his honesty boast than a woman should her virtue. To speak too much of either renders then questionable.

Much of the comfort of this life consists in acquaintance, friendship and correspond-ence with those that are pious, prudent and It is much better to decide a different between enemies than friends; for one of our friends will certainly become an enemy, and one of our enemics a friend. As frosts to the bud and blight to the blossom, even such is self-interest to friendship; and confidence cannot dwell where selfishness is porter at the gate.

Profanity never did any man the least good. No man is richer, or happier, or wiser for it. It commends no one to society; it is disgusting to the refined, and ahominable to the good.

He who betrays another's secret, because he has quarrelled with him, was never, worthy of the sacred name of friend; a breach of kindness on one side will not justify a breach of trust on the other. The best charity is not that which giveth aims, whether secretly or with ostentation. The best charity—that which "worketh no evil,"—is the charity that prompts us to think and speak well of our neighbors.

It is not enough that we wish well to others. Our feelings should clothe them solves with corresponding actions. The spring which has no outlet soon becomes a stagnant pool; while that which pours itself off in the running stream is pure and living, and is the cause of life and beauty wherever it flows.

THROAT, LUNGS, LIVER & BLOOD

In the wonderful medicine to which the afflicted are above pointed for relief, the discoverer believes he has combined in harmony more of Nature's most sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick, than were ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the great variety of most obstinate discuses which it has been found to conquer. In the cure of Bronschitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce if the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood purifying properties, it cures all Humors from the worst Screfula to sommon Blotch, Flimple or Erruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erraipelus, flair Rheums, Fover bores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying and invigorating medicine.

If you feel dull, droysy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish brown spott on face or body, frequent headache or distincts that with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or Biliousness." In many cases, of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases Df. Plerce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the never failing remedy, and those who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praise. The proprietor offers $1,000 roward for a medicine that will equal it for the cure of all the diseases for which it is recommended.
