REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET. POR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT, ISAAC G. GORDON, or Jefferson County. FOR STATE TREASURER,

ROBERT W. MACKEY, of Allegheny County. The Democrat is mum as to its present position on the back pay steal of the last Congress. The "practical and educated farmer," whose "sojourn here has been short," doesn't seem to know his own mind on that point, or he is afraid to express it. He last week put on Mrs. Caudle's nightcap, and very sagely observed as to the editor of the AGITATOR: "In company with his compatriots, we suppose he defends the 'grab.' There is no doubt that we are in accord overwhelming majority of our "compatriots" condemn the grab absolutely. So far as we know, there are but two journals that defend that gigantic swindle, and both of them are Democratic sheets, the Harrisburg Patriot being at the head and the Wellsboro Democrat at the tail. Here is the latest ut terance of our local exponent of "correct English" on that subject: "The Slabtown Index, the Mudhill Alle gator, and a legion of other newspapers are mad because President Grant, his Cabinet, the Supreme Court Judges, the heads of Departments, and Congressmen have had their salaries increased so that they may live in decent style. All their blowing does not amount to anything. A committee of the Senate and House reported the appropria tion bill, and it passed. Some people ob-ject to it becaus the Congressmen did not strike out the item as to their increase. The salaries are not too high; not half enough. * * Very many of the Congressmen do not receive enough to pay their ex penses while in Washington. As it costs a large sum to live in that city, ten thousand dollars a year is little enough for their services. We hope in four years from hence. when a Democratic President will be inaugurated, that the Executive will receive hundred thousand dollars a year, and the other officials in proportion. A rich and populous people cannot afford to be stingy. Both as to sentiment and style, this is

In another part of this sheet will be found the proceedings of the State Convention .-The body scems to have been composed of practical workers. There was no buncombe or twaddle indulged in, and no time wasted. The delegates knew what they wanted, and went the shortest way to work to secure it. We believe the result of their labors will shtisfy the voters of the whole State. The platform is an excellent one. We would especially commend the fourth resolutionthat in regard to the submission of the proposed new Constitution. As for the ticket, it seems to have been a partial surprise to many political prophets, but it is conceded on all sides to be a good one. The re-nomination of Mr. Mackey for State Treasurer was made almost without an organized opposition. He has filled the office for three years, and during all that time has been a fuithful and efficient public officer. The fact that since he entered upon his duties $5,000,000 of the State debt have been paid off and that it is now being reduced at the rate of about $200,000 per month sufficiently demonstrates the integrity and the administrative capacity of the "Office-seekers." In another part of this week's AGITATOR we give place to "a growl from the ranks," which will be found decidedly spicy reading for all sorts of people. It was received some time ago, but has been crowded out of our columns from week to week by matter of more seeming importance. Most people will, we believe, agree with the writer of this "growl" in deprecating the evil which he so pointedly condemns. Probably every "office-seeker" who ever engaged in a personal canvass of the county will join "Erastus" in heartily condemning the practice, for such a canvass must involve an expend iture of money, of time, and of self-respect which many can hardly afford to make .--We know that some of the candidates who have heretofore engaged in this practice have felt impelled to do so by what seemed to be the established custom and popular expectation. Our correspondent recognizes this fact, and he will probably agree with us that the "office seekers" are not alone to blame for this disagreeable mode of electioncering. The people themselves have had not a little to do in fostering it, and when the great body of them grow thoroughly and sincerely sick of it, as some of them already aro, this style of boring will be quickly dropped, because it will be found politically unprofitable. We believe it is of ess real value even now than inany politicians suppose, and we trust the time is near at hand when it will be thought indecent, as it is certainly indelicate, for any man to ask another personally to vote for him.

There is considerable humbug in the talk about the office seeking the man, and all that sort of thing. We have known a few cases where men have been elected to office in that way; but such instances are very rare indeed. Ordinarily the people have very little time, opportunity, or inclination to seek out candidates upon whom to bestow their favors. As we read history, in every age of the world since the patriarchal men have been advanced in social and political position because, primarily, they desired and labored for their own advancement. "Seek and ye shall find" is a rule that applies to the concerns of another and a better life, but even during this one it is candidate leave money with one and anothitis decisions and accepts its work, it is the generally the case that those who seek are the only ones who do find. But there are various ways of seeking of-

in a manner at once effectival, respectful, and unobtrusive, and future candidates nay, if they appreciate the popular feeling, save self-respect and shoe-leather by the nore lavish use of printers' ink.

The Vienna Scandal. An interesting abstract of the report of the gentlemen appointed by the State Department to investigate the charges made against the American Commissioners to the Vienna Exhibition was given to the public list week. While it is evident from the tong of the correspondence with the Secre tary that the gentlemen to whom the investigation was intrusted-John Jay and Thos. McElrath-were from the first somewhat prejudiced against Chief Commissioner Van Buren, and that their dislike was heartily repaid in kind, it must be admitted that their condemnation of that officer seems fully borne out by the testimony. The Special Commissioners report that the evidence shows no taking of money by any members of the commission excepting Gen. Van Buren and Mr. Mayer, his first assistant. The Chief Commissioner received what he called a loan of $500 from one man to whom he gave permission to open a bar in the American department, and he also received, as it appears, $1,000 from another source for the same consideration. Mayer admitted that he land received money for concessions for bars, and charged that his chief had shared in the spoils. This confi with the people on this question, for an dential assistant claims to have acted with the knowledge and under the orders of his chief-a claim which is flatly contradicted by Van Buren. The Commissioners do not undertake to decide this question of veracity

State Committee.

On motion of Mr. Houston, of Philadelbetween Mayer and Van Buren, though their opinions are not entirely hidden. They are sufficiently explicit, however, in condemning Gen. Van Buren for '' having permitted, through a period of months, from a want of clear-sighted intelligence and due vigilance, thanks in a neat speech, when committees of the loose management, marked by irregu- one from each Senatorial district were aplarities, which have arrested the success of pointed on permanent organization and res the commission and brought dishonor on the Republic." It must be admitted that this-is drawing it quite mild in regard to a man who wrote to the Secretary ... State after the suspension of the correct Mayer that "a great wrong had been done to a worthy man." There is one phase of this scandalous iece of business to which little attention has been directed, but which deserves the everest condemnation. The "loans" and advances received by the Chief Commissioner and his assistant appear to have been made by men who were anxious to open pars for the sale of liquor under the anspices of the Commission. Messrs: Jay and McElrath report that five such bars have peen opened on the grounds of the Exposition, and three of them were obtained by the payment of moneys and the promise of an interest in the expected profits. The means employed seem to have been worthy of the end in view. Decent Americans who have visited Vienna recently must have been highly edified by this set of groggeries established by Van Buren's corrupt Commission for the dispensation of "American drinks" in the name of the nation and under the national colors! We are glad to read that the State Department advised the seller of liquor licenses that the establishment of a single bar would be of questionable propriety; but it is matter for regret that the establishment of this particular American institution was not absolutely prohibited. Such a prohibition might not have saved the Commission from falling by its own corruption, but it would have saved the American name from an additional scandal. It is certainly to be hoped that the ecommendation of the Special Commission hat these have should be at once disowned by the present American Commissioner will e promptly acted upon. While such a course would not wipe out the disgrace brought upon our name in the eyes of the world, it would at least show that we have the grace to feel ashamed of our humilia-

and long suffering people, or they would ere this have stamped with everlasting infamy and disgrace that class of men who periodically tramp over the county in search of office. Every year about this time they start out, "some in rags," some on foot, and some in "velvet gowns," and all of them with that hungry look which characterizes sylvania, have faithfully administered her officers, and that the reins of government. the half-fed hound of a poor backwoods hunter. You can tell one of them as soon heartily indorsed by the party in October as he lands in your town, by the way he looks out of his sheepish eyes and by the tions, and the taxes should be reduced in anxious shamelessness with which he introduces his business to you. If you will stop to listen to him, he will modestly (?) put forth his claims—as if a being so degraded as to tramp over the country begging for office had claims upon decent, hard-working people-and ten to one if he don't finally worm something out of you which he will construe into a pledge, and so report you all over the county. But his first business when he comes is to look for some noted politician of the place with whom he can intrust the substantial arguments, and from whom he will receive the assurance that the town will "go for him." To the farmers and lesser lights of the party these tramps have various arguments. One wants the office because he has been "unfortunate in business," which in nine cases out of ten creased should be promptly and uncondi simply means that at one time, when he was following a legitimate business and one which he was fit to follow, he had been prosperous; but that since he has forsaken an honest calling for politics, he has squandered and fooled away his property, and is now one of the party's paupers, literally begging bread from door to door. If the conest working men of the county would arrest a few of them as vagrants "having to visible means of support," it would abate his nuisance. But another one says "it belongs to our part of the county"-as if "our part of the county" meant anything more than his own | ple, and its reform is urgently demanded. nterest. What do you suppose the taxpayers of Jackson card whether "our member" lives in Brookfield or Clymer, if he only epresents their interests in the Legislature well and faithfully? What do you suppose the business men of Lawrenceville care where the Sheriff hails from, if their interests are only safe in his hands and the law s faithfully executed by him? Another one says, "Let it go around."-Well, I say let it go around. But if it goes around to those who are deserving or only decently fit for it, the office wouldn't reach im in a thousand years. And so it goes. Every man has his claims—and oh, how the people despise them all! But the people have nothing to say; their interests are not consulted. All they can do is to fight the

Does it require rights, and the Republican party will be agreeable to the body of electors and more money to induce the people to vote for a their ally in every just effort to attain that conducive to self-respect in the elected.— good man for office? Shall honest people, The present wide diffusion of the public who are heartily disgusted with political inpress presents a ready means of presenting trigues and snap-games, be, dragged to the the "claims" of every would-be candidate polls, like sheep to the slaughter, by the usual resolutions for the appointment of the hirelings of some man who seeks a place which never did and never will seek him?

"But the people would not know we are candidates if we did not go and see them." So much the better for the people; the less they know of you the better. The propie do know some mon in this county who scorn to be seen tramping over the hills in search of office-good, honest, true, men; men of ability and integrity, fit for any office the people have to give; and they would be ought out by these same people.

I know of some good, honest, noble hearted men who have periodically traveled iver the county in search of votes, who have said to me that they deplored this custom and despised it, and wished it was other erwise, but that no man could get an office without so humiliating himself. To which I have but one answer: then stay in your office, your store, or on your farm until you are sought after. Don't belittle yourself for money or honors. And although the great word "Honorable" mny never be written before your name, yet honor will be indelibly stamped on your heart and conscience

I have only written the above as a text upon which I trust the people of the county will enlarge until our political atmosphere shall become a little purer—so much so at least that an honest man can breathe, in it ERASTUS. without strangulation. July 22, 1873.

Third, That the Administration of Gov Hartranft calls for our warmest approba During the short time he has been in the Executive Department he has establish ed a State policy which has justly endeared him to the people of this Commonwealth and has amply justified the confidence we placed in him

Fourth, That while earnestly in favor o constitutional reform, and of such a manpunishing the corrupt abuses that have crept in under our present system, we de mand, emphatically and especially, that whatever is done or left undone, the main purpose for which the Constitutional Convention was called, the absolute prevention of special legislation, shall be so placed be fore the people as to secure their separate and decisive expression thereon. Fifth, That the reduction of the State debt from $41,000,000 to $26,000,000, the repeal of all State taxes on real estate, the establishment of schools for the support of soldiers' orphans, the maintenance of our excellent and prosperous system of common schools, the establishment of the policy of paying off our debt at the rate of two mill ions a year, and the generally flourishing condition of our prosperous old Commonwealth, are evidences that the Republicans, ous forms of labor. Ninth, That as retrenchment is required o lighten the burden of taxation and to continue the reduction of the public debt, an increase of salaries is unwise, and we condemn without reserve the voting for or receiving increased pay for services already rendered, whether in State or Nation, and demand that the provisions of the late act of Congress by which the salaries were in-tionally repealed. Tenth, That we heartily denounce corruption wherever found, and are sincerely desirous for honesty, economy, and political purity in all official administration. cure this is the duty of every citizen; and o this end every good man should fee bound not only to participate in politics but to labor actively to see that none but good men secure party appointments or noming

The passengers were taken off by schooner which came alongside. Vice President Wilson has so far recov ered from his recent illness as to visit Boston. Absolute rest has recuperated his en ergies, and he seems in a fair way of being able to onter upon his duties as presiding officer of the Senate by the time Congress issembles again. It is rather a curious fact that East Stafordshire, England, will now be represented in Parliament by two of the largest brewers in the world-Mr. Bass, of "Bass's ale," ind Mr. Allsopp, of "Allsopp's ditto." The constituency cannot be said to be unmindful of the claims of Beer. The Boston Post pithily remarks that the political faction represented by the New York Tribune "is on ice to prevent putre-faction until buried." This is the way outspoken Democrats show their gratitude to raitors and deserters from the Republican ranks.
