A DOUBLE MURDER.—The Scranton Republican of last Wednerday gives the following account of a double murder committed near Montrose: A most brutal and barbarous murder was commit ted at O'Mara's, near the water tank in the vicinity of Montrose station, on the line of the D. L. & W. R. R., on Friday night or Saturday morning. The greatest excitement provailed among the people in the vicinity of the station, in consequence of the finding of the dead and mutilated bodies of Mrs. O'Mara and her daughter on Saturday morning, on or near der when the bodies were first found, as one leg of the mother and an arm of the daughter were cut off. the natural supposition was that they had been run over by the cars and killed. The bodies were taken to the station house and a coroner summoned. Upon closer examination by the coroner's jury, it was at once concluded that the victims had been murdered present that torn and hacked appearance made by the wheels of a car, but as though they had been severed and not killed by the cars. The amputations did not by some sharp instrument. The faces of the victims ere black and blue, and showed evidence of having been beaten with some binnt justrument. The an nonneement of these facts created the most intens excitement among the crowd describled, and suspic ion at ouce rested upon the son and brother of the victims; for it was well known by many in the neighorhood that a spirit of animosity had existed be tween the son and the mother and daughter, since the death of the father. This was owing to an alleged unequal distribution of the property by the will of the father. The young man thought that the mother and titled to.. It was also stated by those acquainted with young O'Mara, that he had often made threats of inought he would put them into execution. After the impaneling of a jury, a watch was kept upen O'Mara. to see that he did not escape during the investigation. The spot where the bodies had been found was examined and the track of a ungon discovered which was rom the direction of the house occupied by the O'Mara's. It extended no further than to where the bodsays: "Several new cases of the new throat disease have been announced, and two or three case have been announced, and two or three cound. The track was followed by the excited mulitude-which was increasing in numbers and intensi-

of feeling eve ry moment-and blood stains in the road every few yards were traced to the door of the O'Mara mausion. There was also blood found in the house. The track of the wagon in its backward course, after depositing its load of murdered victims, was not in the direction of the house. This trail was taken and followed by some of the crowd, and in a force is head of blooded cattle and a number of was found an ox cart covered with blood and hair good horses for the South last week. These This cart also belonged to the O'Maras. At every triru the chain of circumstantial evidence becam they go. The Scranton Republican of Tuesday, gives the fol lowing as the latest information on the subject: Further livestigation by the coroner's jury and the mag. strate before whom the suspected perpetrators of the horrible murder near Montrose station have been ar-raigned, strengthens the suspicion that this most retrate, who committed them to prison to await their Since the occurrence of this awful deed, attention has been called to the anapicious circumstances attending the death of the father of O'Mara, which took place a few months ago. It appears that the old man had the toothache, and his son gave him some "tooth drops," which he said he had bought of a peddler. That night the old man was seized with spasms and died., Dr. Ains, of New Milford, says he sold young O'Mara some strychnia a short time before. The body of the old man will be exhumed, to ascertain whetherleath resulted from poison.

HHLL'S VEGETABLE SIGILIAN HAR RENFWER now tands among the first, and at the head of all articles for a similar purpose. The testimony of our physi-lians is conclusive as to its valif; and we are personally acquainted with scores of cases where it has been used with the best of results. It will restore gray hair ble for the Fall trade, I am prepared to dispose of to its original color, and leaves it glossy, and in a thealthy condition; while, for heads troubled with dandruff, or any disease of the scalp, it acts like a charm in cleansing them. Try it, and you will not be disappointed.—Lowell Courier, May 2d, 1868.

A UDITOR'S NOTICE.—The undersigned having been appointed Auditor by the Orphaus' Court of Tloga county to distribute money in the hands of the administrator of the estate of John Combs, of Jackson, deceased, will attend to that duty at his office in Tloga boro, on the 29th day of October, 1873, at 10 orcleck a. m.
