"Why did all of our Democratic, Congressmen take their part of the back salary grab?"-Kentucky Paper .. This conundrum is respectfully referred to "our Democratic Congressmen." We " give it up"; but that's what they will never do with the grab.

The aggregate vote of this State for Governor last year was 671,147, of which number Hartrauft received 358,387. This year the total vote for State Treasurer was 464,-294, and Mackey received 244,823. That is to say, Hartranft last year received 52.65 all the votes cast for State Treasurer. This will do pretty well for an "off year."

The dispatches from Washington frequentdead yet. The other day the Director of the Mint undertook to enlighten the world on the subject of the payment of silver coin by the Government in five dollar driblets, and his explanation wound up with the valvalle information that the Government will not undertake to control the disposition of the coin after it is paid out. The coin will then become the property of the holders, and they may do what they please with it"! And this is sent by telegraph all the way from Washington at the expense of the Associated Press!

The official canvass of Ohio shows that Allen, the Democratic candidate for Governor, received 756 more votes than Noyes, the Republican nominee; but in the total vote of the State Allen is in a minority of 481, against a total vote of 517,710 at the year is nearly 15 per cent. less than the Democratic vote of last year; 10,040 votes were cast for the prohibitionist candidate, and 9,991 for the third-party ticket. The Republicans elect all their candidates for State officers except Governor, while the Democracy secure the Legislature by a small ma jority. The "great Democratic victory" hath this extent—no more.

The Mifflinburg (Union county) Telegraph of last week says:

"The next addition to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania will probably be the Hon. Henry W. Williams, President Judge of the Potter and Tioga District—a man eminently fitted for the position. The Philadelphia rings will hardly venture again to get a representative upon that bench, although the Hon. M. Russel Thayer, of Philadeiphia, would be acceptable and worthy; he don't train with the crowd who make the nomi

The friends of Judge Williams-and there are hosts of them all through the Northern Tier-will be glad to as-ist in his promotion in, the manner here foreshadowed. They will no doubt have something to say on that subject when the proper time comes.

The State Journal of last Tuesday speaks as follows of our Representative elect: "John I. Mitchell, of Tioga' county and Means, and re-elected to the next House is arged with great unanimity by his col-Speaker. He is, without doubt, a man in every way qualified for the position. His legislativ@experience is second to that o no man re-elected, his ability is of the high est order, and his moral and political worth of that high quality which always com manded the respect and confidence of al of private life, or were associated with him in public affairs. There is no doubt what ever that Mr. Mitchell will attract the sup port of nearly all the re-elected Republi-cans in the House, if he pushes his own claims with anything like the vigor with which he devotes himself to the discharge of his public duties; and if he is accorded the Speaker's chair, he will fill it worthily and with honor to all concerned."

This spontaneous tribute to Mr. Mitchell's Susquehanna...... by his constituents in this county of both Washington..... political parties. Certain it is that no more Westmoreland,...... faithful and incorruptible public servant can Wyoming.... be named for the Speakership, and if his colleagues shall award him that position, he will, as the Journal says, fill it worthily and with honor to all concerned. It is of the first importance to all persons insuring against fire that they procure idsurance in companies that are authorized to do business in the State in which the insured property is located. Some recent decisions sha W. Davis, R.; John Lamon, R.; A. K. of the higher courts of Indiana and Kentucky hold that all contracts of insurance made within those States by companies not having the right to do business there are absolutely illegal and void, and this principle has been affirmed by Judge Davis, of the Supreme Court of the United States, presiding in the Circuit Court in Indiana. The Attorney General of Indiana, in a recent opinion, says that a policy issued by an agent in violation of a law declaring his act to be criminal, has been decided by the Supreme Court to be void, after a destruction by fire of the property insured. The statutes of the several States impose certain conditions upon all insurance companies to enable them to obtain authority to transact ley, R. business and make binding contracts within the State, and all persons accepting policies from agents of companies that have not complied with those conditions are wholly with: out indemnity against loss, except at the caprice of the companies whose void policies they hold.

Constitutional Amendment. The Constitutional Convention of this State completed the work of constitution making last Thursday, and adjourned to meet again to canvass the votes after the people have accepted or rejected the revised document. It is nearly a year since the Convention met and entered upon its labors; and if the new Constitution is not an improvement upon the present one, it is not because plenty of time has not been spent. in framing it.

The closing sessions of the Convention were spent in passing an ordinance for a special election and in fixing the manuer in cided that the election shall be held on the second Tuesday of December next, and that the Constitution shall be voted for as a unit, no separate vote being allowed upon any article. In Philadelphia the election is to be conducted by Commissioners appointed by the Convention, and in other portions of the State the regular election officers will Reduced. R. R. R. R. S. Campbell, R.; David McKee, R. Bedford and Fulton—Juo. M. Reynolds, D. Berks—M. McCullough, D.; Benjamin E. Dry, D.; Dr. A. Smith, D. Bear—S. R. McCune, R. Brodford—E. R. Myer, R. J. H. Webb, R. second Tuesday of December next, and that the State the regular election officers will conduct it. This decision to submit the document as a whole we regard as an unfortunate one.--We fear it will go far to endanger the rejection of the whole Constitution. It is but natural to suppose that a document which Wainright, R.; J. C. Newmyer, R.; A. B. the Convention has required a year to frame Young, R.; A. C. Hays, R.; B. C. Christy, contains many articles and sections upon which there will be a great diversity of copinion. But those voters who object to any clause of the instrument will be obliged To forego their objections or vote against the whole Constitution, however much they may like some features of it. This manner Columbia—Charles R. Brockway, D.

of submission makes the proposed Constitution as weak as its weakest point when it comes before the people for discussion.— Besides this, the action of the Convention has something of the appearance of an atempt to crain the document down the thronts of the people. It says to the voters, in effect; "You shall accept all of this, if you would secure legislative reform, upon which you have set your hearts." This is a position which those who desire the adopion of the new Constitution should have been slow to even stem to take.

The time which the Convention has alowed for the consideration and discussion of the fundamental law of the State which is designed to stand for generations, is exceedingly short, At present the people know absolutely nothing of the document upon which they are to vote, and by the time it is submitted to their inspection not more than five weeks will remain before election day. That early day in the middle oper cent, of the total vote for Governor, and of winter was probably selected so as to sethis year Mackey receives 52.73 per cent. of cure, if possible, the adoption of the new constitution before the meeting of the next Legislature. The people certainly feel quite as anxious as the members of the Convenly remind us that the noodles are not all tion can to provide some check upon the evil of local and special legislation, and with this object in view they will excuse the short time left before the election and the inclement season at which it is appoint-

We regret the hindrances to the adoption of the new constitution, to which we have have above referred, all the more because we believe its articles provide for many valuable reforms which should be at once adopted. To be sure our knowledge, so far, of its provisions has been multly gathered front the meager reports of the daily papers, and it is hardly possible to form an opinion upon such very slim data. By pext week the whole document will probably be laid before our readers, and then they will all have a chance to consider it without prejudice or passion. In the meantime, we trust 20.787. The total vote of the State is 448, they will hold themselves in readiness to judge it upon its merits and without re State election last year. Allen's vote this gard to the unfortunate action of the Con vention.
