he has read Dr. Smith's recent work. "The History of Jefferson College." The diligent and patient research which the author has applied to his subject, must prove eminently satisfactory to the numerous Alumni and friends of that institution: while at the same time there is one commendable feature of the work which will render it acceptable and useful to the Christian public generally. I refer particularly to the large space he has appropriated to biographical sketches. The late Dr. Alexander in writing the history of the celebrated Log College, on of a Bible, by American missionaries, to which exerted so decided an influence upon ne chief ruler of a people lately redeemed our Church, at an early period, occupied no om heathenism and barbarism, cannot be less than four fifths of the work with biograllowed to pass without a rebuke and con-emptuous sneer. DR. M'KINNEY:-It is a well-known principle, that what affects vital godliness and the spread of true religion in connexion with one branch of the household of faith, is felt more or less distinctly by all. Hence different branches of the kingdom of Christ feel a deep interest in all that transpires, in sister communions, touching the great cause for which we each, in our separate fields, are laboring. All evangelical Churches have been watching with intense feeling, for years past, the movements in the Episcopal Church of England and of America, and many earnest prayers have ascended to God in behalf of the evangelical portion of that communion-prayers, too, unread from t. it will be admitted by all thinking and the prayer-book. And we trust that this interest may never flag; for that will be a dark day to the world when the children of God are only solicitous for the cause of evangelism as it may be connected with their own particular communion. The Agricultural Fair.

In our advertising columns may be found notice of the approaching Fair, of the Agricultural Society of Allegheny County. Such exhibitions, we consider as highly beneficial. The improprieties which are, some times, attendant should be frowned upon and banished, and the exhibition be made to accomplish its great design, consistently with good morals. To this end good men must be concerned, and do their proper part Of one feature occasionally exhibited, we entirely disapprove; that is, the trial of the speed of horses-horse-racing. This is not presented in the advertisement before us; but there is another thing equally bad; that is, the exhibition of Lady Equestrians. Such an exhibition we regard as shameful. As sometimes practised, it is disgusting. Though the course may be open each afternoon, we wish that there may be no lady equestrians to enter it. We are decidedly iffied by ministerial consent as to be equivalent favorable to female horse-back exercise. We love almost to a "surrender" by the government to see ladies ride, and ride well; but not to exhibit themselves as a show. Modesty forbids it. a last protest against the bill on the ground of

By the steamers Vanderbilt and Asia, which arrived at New York, we have European news to the 22d of August.

The suffering and loss on the part of our Missionaries are much greater than we stated last week; but there is still an indefinitness in the reports, owing to the interruption of the mails in India. The capture of Cawnpore by the insurgents is confirmed, as also the consequent massacre of the European inhabitants. There had been several contests between the revolters and the British troops, in all of which the latter were victors. But there have been no decisive operations. The troops which had departed from England for Canton had been intercepted and were landing at Calcutta; but still, they were too few in numbers to effect much, except when acting on the defensive. Delhi still held out. and all the pative troops in Oude had revolted. The complication of Indian affairs began to excite alarm in England. Vigorous debates had taken place in Parliament, and the rapid drain of men and vessels for India was regarded as a means of weakening the country of its defences.

THE TELEGRAPH.—Up to the 22d, the Directors had not decided upon the practicability of making another attempt to lay the cable this season. A conference, however, had been held in London between the Directors of the Company and the commanding officers of the ships composing the Telegraphic Expedition. The results of this conference appear to have been eminently satisfactory. They unanimously expressed the opinion that no form of submarine telegraph could be devised more suitable to the object intended to be accomplished. They also stated that no natural obstacle exists to prevent the laying of the cable. The only censurable part of the arrangements appears to be the construction of the brakes in-tended to control the cable. These, in their present condition are pronunced unsuitable, and they will probably be modified. The officers in-clined to the belief that an attempt to lay the cable in the months of October and November would be successful. A correspondent of the London Times broaches a novel idea—that the mammoth ship Great Eastern, which could with ease contain the entire cable, be employed in place of any other vessel. A letter from Mr. Cyrus W. Field, addressed to his family in New York City, speaks hopefully of this enterprise.
The Divorce Bill.—The so called Divorce and

The clauses so objectionable to the clergy of the Church of England were so modprinciple, on account of many of its provisions. Lord Palmerston thought it was a very great improvement of the law; but he avowed that he never gave a more reluctant consent to any thing than to the clause of concession to the scruples of certain of the clergy.

So far as the clergy are concerned there, the hill as it stands enacts that after the lapse of the period allowed for appeal, and supposing the decree of dissolution to stand fast, "it shall be lawful for the respective parties to the marriage to marry again, as if the prior marriage had been dissolved by death," provided that "no clergyman in holy orders of the United Church of England or Ireland shall be compelled to solemnize marriage of any person whose former marriage may have been dissolved on the ground of his or her adultery; or be liable to any suit, penalty or censure for solemnizing or re-Mass Convention assembled, agree to participate fusing to solemnize the marriage of any such

DIED-At Ontonagon, Lake Superior, on Thurs day evening, 20th inst., of cholera infantum JENNIE MADILENE, daughter of Rev. J. Irwi and Martha B. Smith, aged 9 months and 3 days

Disp-On the 29th of July, in Newport, Mrs. SARAH F. LOUDEN, in the 51st year of her The subject of the above notice had been member of the Presbyterian Church about thirty

DIED-May 18, near Washington, O., George W. WILLIAMS, in the 12th year of his age. George was indeed a remarkable boy-re markable for his love of truth and for his obedience to his mother. Young as he was, he knew the Saviour, and died triumphing in the faith. He delighted in the study of the Bible and ber the Sabbath day to keep it holy. An account of his remarkable statements as to his own religious experience, and of his exhortations to his weeping friends, when on his death-bed, would be too long for this paper, but will be turned into an article for the columns of the Sabbath School Vising two hundred and fifty dollars, for each and every slave emancipated, each State providing Russian Government has just given orders in iter, that all may see and read them. W.M.F. DIED-At her residence, in Rural Valley, Arm strong County, Pa., August 6th, Mrs. MATILDA CASEDY, in the 44th year of her age.

> Mrs. Casedy was long reminded before her departure, by the inroads of disease, that death was approaching. At one time, during the progress of her disease, she expressed a desire to be spared a little longer, if it was the Lord's will, with her family, who needed her Christian counsel and instruction. But before the "silver cord was loosed," she expressed entire resignation to the will of God. She was willing to die, and to give up all those objects for which she expressed at one time a wish to live; and "to depart and be with Christ, which is far better." She had been for a number of years a member of the Presbyterian church of Rural Valley. Her departure was one of peace. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

DIED-On the 7th inst., at the house of his father, Alexander M'Coy, Indiana County, Pa., John G. M'Coy, aged 22 years and 10 months. His early years gave promise of great usefulness. He was a diligent student, and was pleased with the prospect of being engaged in the ministry of the Gospel, for which he was preparing himself, when he was cut down by a protracted and painful disease. Two years ago he applied, with his older brother, for membership in the Harmony Presbyterian church, under the care of Rev. J. H. Kirkpatrick, and was received by the Session with great cordiality. During his illness he manifested Christian resignation, and MEMBERS OF THE BOARD.

the morning of his being seized with a fatal at-

ick of his disease, some of his friends followed him to the woods, afraid from some indications that he might need their help. They found him hat he might need their help. They found him ngaged, as usual, in devotion; and he directed PRESBYTERIAN BANNER heir attention to the 445th hymn, describing it s most beautiful, and expressive of his feelings.

the last verse of this hymn is: "God is our Sun, whose daily light Our joy and safety brings; Our feeble flesh lies safe at night, Beneath his spreading wings." His friends mourn, but not as those who have hope, and his example and experience, testify t his brothers and sisters of the value of religon, and recommend it to their acceptance.

DIED-August 19th, at her residence in Armptiong County, Pa., Mrs. Mary B. M'FARLAND, in the 73d year of her age.

Virs. M'Farland was a native of Ireland, but re hoved to this country shortly after she was in cried. She and her husband spent the greater post to f their lives in Washington County, Pa., st. were for a number of years members of the Prisbyterian church of Raccoon. At the time of least the country should be post for a number of years members of the Prisbyterian church of Raccoon. At the time of least the country should be post for a number of years members of the Prisbyterian families are very much dispersed, least the charge connected with the Presbyterian families are very much dispersed, her was connected with the Presbyterian families are very much dispersed, her was connected with the Presbyterian families are very much dispersed, her was connected with the Presbyterian families are very much dispersed. Mrs. M'Farland was a native of Ireland, but he; death she was connected with the Presbyteriah church of Rural Valley. About one year ag; she became a member of the last named church, but, through age and infirmities, it was hei death she was connected with the Presbytenot her privilege, at her new home, to sit down with the people of God, to celebrate a Sayiour's dying love. She was a woman who passed through as much trouble as usually falls to the lot of individuals. But two of her eight children are surviving. A few years ago, within one year four of them were conveyed to their last earthly four of them were conveyed to their last earthly resting place; and after a few months her husbauk was borne to the "narrow house." The con lolation of surviving friends and relatives now is, the is an inhabitant of those tranquil regions on High, where sorrow and trouble are unknown, and where death never comes.

IED-August 16th, SAMUEL MARTIN MITCHELL, son of Rev. B. Mitchell, of Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, age I nearly 21 years. . I that a death-bed where the Christian lies?

Yes, but not his; 'tis death itself there dies." I fe was beginning to unfold itself to him in brightness and promise. The prospect of an how brable and useful future was surely his. Few yot ag men of his age had warmer friends, and more numerous admirers. Everything combined was calculated to attach him to the present life. But in the flush of early manhood the fell destroyer, consumption, marked him for its victim. Though it is hard at such a time of life to lie doorn and die, yet, with Christian resignation, he submitted to the will of his Heavenly Father. As his hopes for this life, dear as they were, fac led from before him, he was cheered with that bet er hope which is "an anchor both sure and ste, dfast, and which entereth into that within the var." His last hours were calm and peaceful, be pind what most mortals are privileged to entered the sure and was a least of the sure and what most mortals are privileged to entered the sure and what most mortals are privileged to entered the sure and was a least of the sure and sure and what most mortals are privileged to entered the sure and was a least of the sure and sure and what most mortals are privileged to entered the sure and sure and was a least of sure and sure how prable and useful future was surely his.
