This hope has not as yet, on the part of his Roard been fulfilled. On the contrary, the contributions from the churches the Colportage Fund have been smaller, ince the first of March last, by fully two housand dollars, than they were during the corresponding portion of the year 1856. Owing to this, and to the other fact abovecentioned, of the increase in the number of borers, the Colportage Fund of the Board some in from the churches soon and libercreased. As the Board has no collecting agents in on to meet, it is deemed important that he above facts should at once be known. and it is earnestly hoped that pastors and sessions, as well as Presbyteries and Synods, ill deliberate and act, remembering that Board of Publication now has only this ernative immediately before it-either to ceive within the next few months greatly larged contributions from the churches, to decline to commission new colporteurs then they offer themselves for the work, nd perhaps even to reduce the number al-

DR. McKinney:-Since my last, I have eceived the following notice of some of the traits of character prominent in Rev. A. B. Church. It is from the pen of Rev. I. Pills. ury, who knew and loved him well. Broer P. says:

"Such was his meekness, that he seemed not to know the emotions of resentment. Though often in trying circumstances, he preferred to suffer evil rather than to do evil: not only to forgive his enemies, but to forget he had any. So destitute of guile, so confiding, open, and frank was he, as sometimes to give an opponent an unnecessary advantage. Yet he 'earnestly contended for the faith once delivered to the saints,' and would never sacrifice the truth for gain or friendship.

"He was ardent, naturally; to whatever subject his attention was directed, it became all absorbing, and, for the time, seemed indifferent to every other consideration. To this state of mind may be attributed his faults, so far as he had any,

"It was usual for him to dwell on the bright side of his prospects and hopes; so ence, and who knows well the feeling in the much so, that during his last sickness, he would fancy himself better, and lay plans for future labors, while his friends had no hopes of his recovery. He evidently considered his recovery doubtful, for he told me, a few weeks before his death, that 'he was settling up all his affairs as fast as he could, as there were many things which a man could one of our best Institutions-a blessing to better do for himself, than any body else could do for him.'

"He did not seem to entertain a doubt in respect to the plan of salvation, through in sentiment in the Synods here, upon this the Divinity and mediation of Jesus Christ, or in regard to his acceptance in him. As this had been his settled conviction for years, he appeared surprised that he should be questioned upon the subject." I have no doubt but your patrons will read with interest the above observations from the pen of Brother Pillsbury, who knew Brother Church intimately and long. At a meeting of the Presbytery of we have great hope, as often before ex-Schuyler, called for the purpose, and held pressed, in the ultimate success of the enterat Quincy, Illinois, on Tuesday the 15th prise. But we need more prayer, and greater inst., Rev. William McCandlish asked to be dismissed from the pastoral charge of the viction of the truth that the Lord must build church in that city. After consultation, Presbytery cited the church to appear at the coming meeting of Presbytery in Galesburgh, October 12th.

This request of Brother McC. will be a matter of surprise to many, both in Quiney, where he is very highly esteemed both as a man and a minister, and throughout this of the progress of the Lord's cause within man and a minister, and throughout this whole region of country. We sincerely our bounds. Yours, &c., trust, if it shall be necessary for Presbytery to dissolve Brother McC.'s present relations, he will not deem it necessary to leave the West. The services of a brother, whose daily walk and conversation so eminently become the Gospel, and whose Sabbath ministrations are so valuable, can hardly be dispensed with in our forming communities, where the success of the cause of Christ depends so much upon the instrument employed. We hope Brother McC. will remain among us, and continue still to take part Mr. Riggs, who offers an excellent country seat with us in the ministry here, where the for sale. field is "white to the harvest."

Brother J. C. Barr, of Princeton, informs us of the organization of two new churches within the bounds of the Presbytery of Rock River. They are both located, I think, deplorable condition. The crash is sudden and in Bureau County, Illinois. The first was terrific. Our Pittsburgh Banks have all suspendorganized near the last of July, at Tiskilwa, ed. except the "Old Pittsburgh." The Philadelon the Chicago, Peoria and Rock Island phia, Lancaster, and Harrisburg Banks have Railroad, and starts out upon what we trust suspended, and most, if not all the Pennsylvania may be a pathway of usefulness, with sixteen members. The other was organized at mere Banks, the Washington, and Norfolk, and Malden, formerly Dover Station, on the Chicago and Burlington Railroad, and is Banks. The suspension is likely to become still composed of fourteen members, two of whom are Ruling Elders. In reference to this young organization, Brother Barr adds: 'On Sabbath, before the church was one day old, we took up a collection of eight maintain specie payments, mostly, as do, also, the dollars for the Board of Domestic Mis- New Jersey Banks. New York country notes are sions. There was something really de- at two to five per cent. discount; and New Englightful in seeing this infant, before fully on land notes generally, are at about the same range. its feet, stretching forth its little hand to Governor Pollock has called a meeting of the help others." Your readers may, perhaps, think this donation of eight dollars is of affairs, and specially to legalize the suspension to be followed by a request, through so as to relieve the Banks from the forfeiture of Presbytery, of sid to the amount of one hun- their charters-possibly a very needful, but Balt. is by no means the case. They expect to hard of Publication .-- Appeal for Aid, sustain a minister one half his time, without aid from the Board. Verily, here is a model organization, and I most heartily commend its example to all new churches,

There has also been an organization at Port Byron, on the Mississippi river, within a few weeks; but as I have not been in-Nover has the entire land been more formed of the particulars, I can only give it

I mentioned in one of my late letters, that other services been made than during the the Congregational Herald reported, that ast six mentls. Divine Providence has brother, Dr. Phelps, of Dubuque, in a sermon at the dedication of a Presbyterian pen willing, for very limited pecuniary church at Maquoketa, Iowa, had stated that the Pilgrim fathers, who landed at Plymouth, were all Presbyterians save one, and the number of Colporteurs in commission that from him had descended all the Unitaas in consequence been greater during the rians of New England. We supposed, at past six months by nearly forty than during the time, that some waggish youngster had ic corresponding six months of the last been playing a Yankee trick upon the Herald. and we now find that it is even so. Brother Phelps, of course, made no such peurile statement. Below, your readers will ral prosperity throughout the length and find a report, though somewhat meagre, of breadth of the land, thus leading to the the part of the sermon referred to, taken cope that there would be a corresponding from the Maquoketa Sentinel. The proposition under discussion is, "All correct principles of civil and religious liberty, are derived from the Bible, and preserved to the world through the Church." The Dr. proceeds to show, from history, the part taken by the Presbyterian Church since the days of the Apostles down to the present. in preserving alive in the world, the principles of Bible liberty, civil and Ecclesiastical.

He says, in referring to our own land: "One of the first public demonstrations in favor of Independence, was the famous s at this time overdrawn by about six Mecklenburgh Declaration. This was drawn housand dollars, and unless contributions up by the Rev. Zedekiah Balch and his nine Ruling Elders of the Presbyterian ily, this deficiency will ere long be largely Church, Mecklenburgh, North Carolina. It was entirely in the spirit, and for the most part in the very words of the ancient he field, in accordance with what it under- "league and covenant" of the Presbyteriands to be the general judgment and de- ans of Scotland, in a former century. With re of the pastors and churches, but relies | this Declaration Thomas Jefferson was familn the spontaneous zeal and fidelity of the iar, and with this in his mind, and with such astors and churches themselves; and as the alterations as would adapt it to the occasion resbyteries and Synods, are most of them and the circumstances under which he desired to use it, it formed the basis of that Declaration he drew up and presented to the representatives of the Colonies, and which was, with some alterations by them, unanimously adopted on the 4th of July, 1776.

"Then again, in the formation of the Federal Constitution for these United States, the master-mind of that Convention was Rev. Dr. Witherspoon, the President of Princeton College, and with the Form of Government of the Presbyterian Church before him, as presenting the most perfect model of a pure, Republican Representative Government, they were led to adopt a form of government for this country, conforming, in all its leading features, to the Form of Government of the Presbyterian Church. So that, in the form of government of these United States, you have nothing more nor less than the Form of Government of the Presbyterian Church adapted to civil society. Thus, the leading element in the establishment of our free institutions, our civil and religious liberties, is found in the stern, unbending, Scriptural system of doctrine and order maintained by the Presbyterian Church. The Puritans that landed at Plymouth were not an exception to this, since the church they organized on board the Mayflower before they landed at Plymouth Rock, was a Presbyterian church, with her pastor, Ruling Elders, and Deacons. They did not, however, carry out these principles afterwards; if they had, we would not have heard of the banishment of the Quakers and Democrat has seen this document, in reference to the October elections. It is not only lengthy, but the North-West, and there seems to be a growing inclination to place the Institution wholly under the control of the General Assembly. One brother of age and experiregion where he resides, writes me: "The half-way plan will not do. It may answer for the present, but I do not think it will be approved by the Synods, as their ultimate arrangement. If the Synods will place it under the entire control of the Assembly, as Princeton and Danville are, it will become the world; but otherwise, I see no hope for it. It must go down-be a total failure." There has been, I think, a material change seven days.

And ever since has she adorned the doctrine of God her Saviour, by a walk and conver-

The summons from her heavenly Father came very suddenly. She was in the enjoyment of her usual good health in the morning, and attending to her domestic affairs until about 11 o'clock, when, suddenly seized with apoplexy, she sunk to the floor; and notwithstanding all efforts for her recovery, gently breathed her last about halfpast six in the evening. The heartfelt sympathy of a weeping congregation testifies to their high estimate of her excellence and worth. And a donation of some forty dollars, very recently presented to her by the ladies of the church, is another evidence of their warm attachment and esteem. In her short pilgrimage, she has not been without her afflictions; but they were borne with Christian meekness.
