Money Matters are without any improvement. Failures, suspensions, and assignments have become so common, as to no longer excite remark. The Banks have not yet felt the benefits of the "Relief Bill," to as great an extent as was expected. Private the Institution. The resignation was accepted, and a vote of thanks passed for the zeal and fidelthat public matters receive but little atten tion. Even the State election awakened but little interest. Here, as in New York, great numbers are thrown out of employment, while not a few accustomed to plenty and splendor, begin to feel the necessity of avoiding extravagance and practising economy. The North American says that house rents have fillen immensely, and that it has not known a time when there were so many first class houses " to let," as now. If the present calamities shall be made the means of bringing our people back to something like moderation in their habits-of training them to industry, and of leading them to avoid what is merely gaudy and showy, they will not have occurred in vain, though many hopes may be disappointed, and many hearts be made sad.

We deeply regret to say, that the treasury of the Board of Domestic Missions is very nearly exhausted The balance on hand this day (October 13th) is not much more than sufficient to meet the payments of another week ! Our earnest and oft repeated appeals to the churches for aid have not been ade quately responded to, and the prospect now is that we shall very so n be unable to pay our missionaries as their salaries become due In view of this state of things, the Board, at their meeting yesterday, directed the Executive Committee to reduce the appropriaas specifily as practicable.
