And yet the managers, instead of learning wisdom from the past, seem deter- cially in the rural districts of the consolidamined to brave the indignation of the relig- ted city, on account of the frequent burglaious, moral, and philanthropic sense of the ries and arsons lately committed. The comcommunity, and have given notice, slready, munity seems to be infested by hordes of that another grand entertainment of the most desperate villains, ready to perpetrate same kind will be given in May. A benevolent association that depends for success on measures such as this, cannot long prosper in such a country as this. Its days of usefulness are numbered, unless a speedy reformation delivers it from impending ruin. It was not to be expected that Satan would be idle at a time such as this; and just now he seems to be especially active.

It has been announced that the Masked Balls of Paris are about to be introduced under the management of a Frenchman, im- but that they are now lengthening out ported especially for the purpose. These credits to eight months, and even longer. have always been productive of immorality, scandal, and vice, and consequently receive the severest reprehension from all the respectable secular journals, and all rightthinking people. Not only so, but a police magistrate has informed the manager that face of a positive law on the subject, that | evening. will be certainly enforced. This warning was at first treated with affected contempt, but the programme has evidently been somewhat changed on account of it, while the encouragement already received, is by no means such as was evidently anticipated. Most probably the Tribune hits the nail right on the head, in the following telling paragraph, which we commend to the apologists of this, and every other innovation of a like character:

Some of the city journals are earnestly deprecating the Masquerade Balls which are proposed to be given at the Academy of Music, apprehending therefrom serious damage to the public morals. We should share these apprehensions if we supposed persons who have any morals likely to attend such balls.

To Ape European Customs and tastes, has become altogether too common in our Republican country, but no where else is it carried to such rediculous extremes as in this city. For instance, it is said that the ter, is pastor, have exhibited a spirit worthy books most frequently called for at the Astor of all commendation. Finding the room Library, are those which treat of heraldry and genealogy; and that two professors of wants, they began the erection of a tempoheraldry find full employment in searching rary building, on a lot previously secured, for and painting Coats of Arms! If those most ambitious of distinction in this way, would trace, truly, their own genealogy back a short distance, it is not at all improbable that many of them would arrive, sooner than they are willing to admit, at carpenter and blacksmith shops, butcher shops, and tanvards, where their ancestors laid the foundation for those fortunes, upon which their descendants now pride themselves so much.

Not withstanding the opening of the Spring, many workingmen are out of Employment, and since the Societies have suspended, in a great measure, their operations, and private charity is not supposed to be needed, many of these men find it almost impossible to secure food for themselves and families. Nor is there much prospect of a better state of things for them during the present season. It has been proposed to send large numbers of them into the interior and to the West, where labor is abundant and the wages good. But unfortunately, many of them are so unacquainted with agricultural pursuits, that at the first they would be of little use to their employers; and the expenses of their transportation would be very considerable.

Prov. Woon, the renowned discoverer of the invaluable "Hair Restorative," still continues to labor in behalf of the afflicted. His medicines are universally admitted, by the American press, to be far superior to all others for causing the hair on the head of the aged, to grow forth with as much vigor and luxuriance as when blessed with the advantages of youth. There can be no doubt, if we place credit in the innumerable testinonials which the Professor has in his possession that it is one of the greatest discoveries in the medical world. It restores, permanently, gray hair to its original color, and makes it assume a beautiful silky texture, which has been very desirable in all ages of the world. It frequently happens that old men marry beautiful and amiable young ladies, and not unfrequently crusty old maids make victims of handsome, good natured.

young gentlemen, and by what process it has never been determined, until lately, when it was

It is intended that the two vessels, which are

May, shall, before commencing to lay the cable, proceed to sea, and in the deep water, about three hundred miles from the Irish coast, rehearse a series of experiments in paying out and hauling

n, and put to a practical test several suggestions and appliances that have been proposed by various ingenious persons. The two ships will then return to England and report progress, and should

MR. W. S. OLOW, Teacher of Music.

This Institution is located in a healthful and beautiful region of country, and affords superior facilities for studys and personal comfort, with entire freedom from all imm ral associations. The moral and religious culture of the pupils is recarded as of prime importance. The Students for the most part board in the tamily of the Principal, and it is his constant sim to surround them with the influences and restrictions of a bristian home. The course of instruction is comprehensive and thorough, embracing all the branches of study necessary to prepare the pupils for active business pursuits—for teachers in common or his schools, or for admission into the Sophonogra or Junior Class of the best Colleges or Universities of our country. Superior advantages are afforded to young ladies desiring to perfect themselves in the principles and practice of instrumental music on the Piano Forte. Particular attention will be given to the French language.

Commolious buildings are erected where the popils are the French language.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

From Rev. D. X. JUNKIN, D. D., Hol idaysburg, Pa.

L. Caron, Esq., Turtle Creek, Pa:—Dear Siv:—You ask me to express my opinion of your School. If I could not conscientiously express a favorable one, I would frankly in tell you so, and decline saying anything about it; for I am chary of compliments, and cannot violate truth in order to extend them. The man who commends an inferior school, at which the time of the pupils would be wasted, or spent to little profit, commits a social wrong; whilst he who calls benefit.

I am, therefore, free to say, that with the locality, appointments and arrangements of your Assdemy, I was well satisfied. Your location is beautiful, healthful, and convenient, your buildings spacious, comfortable, and well adapted; your neighborhood intelligent, moral, and exempt from temptations for youth. I deemed your assistants capable, faithful, and diligent; the rectations I witnessed the server highly creditable. And what impressed me as peculiarly destrable, in a school for, young gen'lemen, was the delightful family organization, at once cheerful and orderly, which seemed to prevail. Any one could see that the public field that they were in a pleasant. Christian Roms, where for, with parental kindness and wisdom. both their education and their personal comfort were cared for, with parental kindness and wisdom. Mrs. Caton has, in my opinion, rare qualifications for the responsible position she occupies.

As my visits were wholly unexpected, I must have seen Cottage Hill Academy in its every day character.

Hoping that you may always enjoy the patronage which such a school ought to command, and that you may be very successful in training the youths committed to your care, for usefulness and happiness in earth and heaven,

I remain very respectfully yours. Pastor First Presbyterian Church, Hollidaysburg.

P. S.—I have heard those who had sons at your Institution, express themselves well satisfied.
