CAUSES OF ANXISTY TO YOUNG MEN AND CANDIDATES.

The Board have judged it expedient to present to the seembly, and to the churches, the consideration of some the causes of anxiety to young men, who think of entring upon the work of the ministry. As the present me, in the providence of God, invites many young men turn their attention to this subject, its candid and sober scussion may result it good. The following are the topics scussed, under this head in the Annual Report.

1. The want of sufficient piety.

M. Rev. John Woodbridge presented a report of his attendance as the Delegate of this General Assembly, to the last "General Synod of the Reformed Dutch Church of the United States." united States."

A most interesting communication was forwarded to the Assembly, by Rev. Frederick Monod, from Dr. G. Fish, of France, in the name of the "General Syned of the Presbyterism Church of Paris." It was referred to the Committee on Foreign Correspondence.

A resolution was adopted granting leave to the Mollerator to call on other persons to preside during the morning devotional exercises.

The first order of the day, being the reception and commitment of Preebyterial Narratives on the State of Religion and Statistical Reports was then taken up.

Br. Musgrave, Secretary of the Board of Domestic Missions, gave the Assembly a brief summary of its action during the past year, of which the following is an abstract:

Notwithstanding the extraordinary commercial and financial revulsion which has overtaken the country, and produced, for a time, almost a total suspension of business of every kind, and bringing bankruptey to thousands, the Board have been able to execute the work extrusted to them with extraordinary success. Indeed, no sooner had the gloom began to disperse, than the contributions to its treasury largely increased. In the month of February, the receipts exceeded those of the corresponding period of the previous year by $5,000. The Board have increased the number of missionaries by twenty, making the number now employed by them six hundred and ten. The appropriations for the past year, are slightly in advance of those made during the one preceding it. The total receipts are $105,277.32; the entire disbursements for the same period are, $104,143 67. The receipts for the Board are considerably above the ecord of any previous year, and this increase is not the result of individual bequests so much as of the contributions of the churches. The excess of increase in the past year over any preceding one, is above $8,000. An average reduction of $3.00 has been made in the appropriation to each missionery, in view of the embarrassments of business; but the churches in which they above the salary; so, that the salaries received by those engaged in missionary labor average $500 cash.

The reports from the missionary churches indicate the most extraordinary success. There is a sensible manifestation of the influence of the Holy Spirit in a revival of the Church and an the second with the productions to the subject of the second with the production of the sailty and the characteristic mass is to the churches in which they labored have increased the second with the production to the sailty and the second with the production to the sailty and the second with the production of the sailty and the second of the sailty and the sailty and the second of the sailty and the sailty and the seco been brought up in the annual meetings of the General Assembly.

Dr. Musgrave said he had not had a sufficient opportunity to examine the resolutions before they were reported. The Assembly has over and over recommended means for preserving and cherishing the feeble churches and it cannot, therefore, he necessary to explain that the intention of the resolution could not be inimical to them. The particular point simed at is an important one. It is a fact that many churches are now receiving aid which do not absolutely need it, and that we are consequently unable to assist many which are entitled to it. Appropriations are asked for by Presbyteries because they were formerly made, and the vote is actually given in their favor by members who individually feel that it is wrong, but who dislike to be forward in retrenchments which might repear invidious. Many such members have privately confessed their doubts as to the propriety of such a course. The question for us now is, what is to be done? Brethren write us from California, from Iowa, from Kenses, from Nebraska, and from other distant regions that "now is the time to establish a church in such or such a place," and we are compelled to reply that we have no funds.

This state of things is wrong, and whould be remedied. regions that "now is the time to establish a church in such or such a place," and we are compelled to reply that we have no funds.

This state of things is wrong, and should be remedied. It is wrong, not only as relates to needy churches, but also to the churches which are not needy; for it injures their self-respect, their standing, and their moral influence. In regions where the extraordinary increase of the value of the lands has enriched churches as well as whole communities, it certainly is our duty to inquire into their actual condition. We have at last reached a point in the history of our Bomestic Missions where we must give more money, or we must economize. Why, mere men of the world who care nothing about personal religion, in remote regions like some of those named, have seen the necessity of the establishment of the ordinances of the Gespel, and, of their own accord, have given liberally to that object. If we neglect such ground, there are numerous schismatics ready to occupy it to our exclusion. I do trust, therefore, for the sake of the cause that you will not strike out this clause of the resolution without giving some equivalent for it.

Dr. Breckinridge moved "an amendment which shall give a distinct recommendation to the Board to unite two or more churches under one charge." Only so lately as at the meeting of the General Assembly come to the point of a dogmatic declaration on this subject. It is very possible that many years may pass before the churches will come up to the mark in their contributions; but it is also true, that while it has taken the Assembly four years to attain to a dogmatic declaration, the Churches will come up to the mark in their contributions; but it is also true, that while it has taken the Assembly four years to attain to a dogmatic declaration, the Churches contributions, as stated by the Chairman of the Board, have steadily increased during that same period, even in the face of quesual obstacles. He could hardly be persuaded that the venerable Chairman of the Board

Treatment of Consumption. Letter No. 10. If, then, Consumption is curable, the question arises, how may it be cured? Certainly not by nedicines and measures which weaken the patient, for the disease is increased by debilitymanifestly not by inhaling medicated va pors into the lungs, for inhalations cannot remove from the blood its impurities, or tuberculous elements, and hence cannot prevent the continued deposit of tubercles; in other words they cannot reach the source of the disease. In order to cure Consumption, it is absolutely necessary to employ a combination of remedial measures, for no single emedy or remedial measure can effect all the changes which must and do take place in the curative process. Thus the inhaling tube and shoulder braces are needed to expand the lungs, o increase their respiratory surface, and thereby increase the oxygen of the blood, and the general strength; in effecting this, they also remove in great measure, the inflammation and conseuent thickening of the walls of the air cells, which condition precedes the deposit of tubercle; and since the tubercle is deposited from the impure blood, it is necessary to make use of cleansing medicines, a pure diet, daily bathing, proper exercise, and every practicable measure for purifying the blood. These remedies and measures all tend greatly to increase the strength. But it is also requisite, in many cases, to add to these the use of suitable tonics and stimulants, to invigorate the system, so that the ulcer in the lungs may heal. To quiet the cough and increase or diminish the expectoration, as may be needed, proper cough medicines and inhalants must be used; to relieve pain and further reduce the internal irritation, soothing inhalations, external anodynes and mild counter-irritants, are of great value. All the above requirements exist in every case of true Consumption, and while the medicinal agents may be judiciously harmonized and combined so that the patient need take but few medicines, it is absurd to suppose that any single remedy can supply the places of both these and hygeinic measures. But in most cases, still other requirements exist—there may be exnausting chills, night sweats, fever, etc., requirpepsia, gastritis, costiveness, some form of skin disease, or female complaints, which must be cured or the lung difficulty cannot be removed. How is it possible, then, for either Cod Liver Oil, Cannabis Indica. Wild Cherry, Iodine, or any other single remedy, to fulfill so many and such varied demands? The above is a condensed outline of our mode of treatment, and should be considered with ly armed and mounted on fleet horses. They de-fy the United States troops, and swear that they will never be taken. Upwards of one hundred ested in staying the progress of Consumption, special attention by every one who feels inter-

Svo., pp. 480. Cloth. $2.25.

The present edition of this standard work has been in parts re-written, and enlarged by the addition of about on the hundred pages. Since the publication of the first edition, the author has visited the countries in which the Saviour and his Apostles ilved, and the fruits of his researches there have been made available in this new issue. The Greek text has been more carefully reviewed, and the material variations noted. The Greek words in the Notes have been translated where the remark would otherwise be obscure to the English reader. Appended are two very full Indexes—one exhibiting the contents of the Notes, the other the contents of the History. The latter gives reference not only to the page, but to chapter and verse.

It omits nothing which the translator requires, adds nothing which is unnecessary, is full on difficult passages, and silent on plain ones."
