

Poetry.

For the Presbyterian Banner and Advocate. Lines for Friendship's Altar. BY W. W. WHITNEY, D.D.

Literary Notices.

BOOKS sent to us for notice, will be only attended to, unless our publishers in Philadelphia, New York, &c., may be left at our Philadelphia office, 111 South 10th St., below Chestnut, in care of Joseph H. Wilson, Esq.

above Natchez. Having left this port, the same dreary, dismal waste of woods and water appeared until, far in the distance before us, the great cotton mart of the State of Mississippi came in view. Then what a stir on board! The day was fine. Almost every passenger went on deck to get a sight of the notorious "Natchez on the Hill."

But, besides the other considerations arising from the unmistakable marks of human design in these forms, it is quite a sufficient objection to this theory that the springs in question are in our hollows, or low grounds, while the mounds are on the ridges, high grounds, and the banks of our larger streams.

But, besides the other considerations arising from the unmistakable marks of human design in these forms, it is quite a sufficient objection to this theory that the springs in question are in our hollows, or low grounds, while the mounds are on the ridges, high grounds, and the banks of our larger streams.

For the Young. Praying Better than Stealing. Some poor families lived near a large wood wharf. In one of the cabins was a man who, when he was sober, took pretty good care of his family; but the grog shop would get his earnings, and then they suffered.

Only One Brick Upon Another. Edwin was one day looking at a large building which they were putting up just opposite his father's house. He watched the workmen from day to day, as they carried up the brick and mortar, and then placed them in their proper order.

For the Ladies. A True Woman. "Buy an orange, ma'am," said a soft Italian voice. The lady made no answer. "Please, ma'am, buy an orange," repeated the timid voice, pleadingly.

Advertisements. FROM CITY COMMERCIAL COLLEGE, CHARTERS 1855. Board of 12 Teachers. ATTENDING LECTURES. Young Men prepared for actual duties of the Profession.

OUR BOARD has added to its catalogue the following volumes: GLEANINGS OF GOLD. Edited to enrich Youthful Minds. 18mo., pp. 206.

THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY has published a new edition of the "Life of Mary Lyon." The old work has been abridged in some places, while others have been enlarged, and thus a very attractive biography has been prepared.

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW. April, 1858. New York: Leonard Scott & Co. We always receive this Review with much pleasure. Its high classical and delightful literary character, we have seen in every number.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

AGRICULTURAL. MR. EDITOR:—Some time since there appeared in the Banner and Advocate, an article on the subject of barley growing. In that communication it was our purpose to call attention to the subject, and to enlist its behalf some able pen and older hand than we pretend to claim.

WEST TROY BELL FOUNDRY. The subscribers have constantly on hand a full assortment of Cast Iron, Brass, and other Bells, of all sizes, and of the most approved quality.

THE CHAMBERLAIN LOCKS OF THE WORLD, are only supplied in Ohio, (to be sold in any quantity) at the price of $100 per set, which they will be sold for $125.

READ THIS. MR. B. WOODRUFF, Esq.—You have been awarded a honorable mention, with special approbation, for your proof sheets and Right Leeches. They were considered the best of the kind, and were highly commended.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.

LETTERS FROM THE NORTH. MR. EDITOR:—Hitherto my letters have related more to the living interests of our State; should they now be somewhat more miscellaneous, and even mystical and apocryphal, I hope they may not be found uninteresting, or altogether unworthy of your columns.