discuss in this Review. On account of this change, the name selected at first, viz., Paritan Review, has been dropped, and the first number will appear under the title of The American Theological Review.

The Young Men's Christian Association has received $14,000 of the $25,000 necessary for the erection of the contemplated building for its Hall, Library, and Committee Rooms, and is making a strong plea for the remainder of the sum necessary to the undertaking.

An unusual concern on the Subject of Religion, has been manifested for some time among the Seamen at this port, as well as at New York. A considerable number of conversions have been reported, and a hopeful degree of inquiry is found among others.

Dr. Bemis, Superintendent of the State Asylum for the Insane, at Worcester, is a man of large experience and accurate observation, so that his opinion on matters connected with insanity is of great weight. We have always believed that the insanity created by religious excitement was greatly exaggerated, and have long thought that the many cases of this kind paraded in some of the reports, was more indicative of shallow thinking and mere empiricism, than of true science.

We believe that the number of persons made insane by the influence of religious hopes and fears, has been greatly overrated. The insane mind is frequently occupied by delusions of a religious nature, when it is well known that the cause of its derangement has no connection with feelings or impressions relating to a future state of existence.

Appearance of A Revival of Trade are undoubted. The old stocks of goods have been pretty well worked off, and money is abundant. Many have quite recovered from the reverses of last year, and confidence is being gradually restored.

The Amount of Crime brought to light on the first two or three days of each week is appalling, and one not acquainted with the actual state of affairs, would be at a loss to account for the fact. But the explanation is easy to any one that will notice the low theaters, the depraved concert halls, the billiard and card rooms, the beer halls, and the whiskey shops, open on the Sabbath, playing their regular business, and the groups that congregate within them.

The Report, that Horace Greeley was about to leave the Tribune and become connected with another paper, has been contradicted by himself. Though wishing to retire somewhat from the toils of the editorial chair, for more quiet employment at least part of his time, his associates have been unwilling to allow even this. Therefore he announces himself at the head of his old journal, at least until after the next Presidential election.

A few of the Alumni of Columbia College are engaged in preparing A History of the Graduates of that Institution, from its commencement, in 1759, until the present time. Among these are found the names of some of the most illustrious men connected with the annals of their country for the last century.

The New York Observer lately called the attention of the Bible and other Publication Societies, to the fact that they had been organized for the publication and dissemination of religious knowledge, especially for the poor and destitute, and that, consequently the issuing of volumes splendidly bound, did not come within the proper limits of their appointment.

The annual report of the Superintendent of Common Schools of Pennsylvania, shows that there are eleven thousand two hundred and eighty-one schools in the State, being an increase of three hundred and twenty-five over 1857; that the number of teachers is thirteen thousand eight hundred fifty-six, and that the average of salaries of male teachers per month, is $24.26; of females, $17.22.

not a little of this may be for the accommodation of those who wish to have the Bibles and books of the Societies in an attractive form. However, it is quite time for the whole output of gold leaf and gilding, in book binding, to be done away with. As ornaments, they are altogether meretricious, and indicative of any thing else than good taste.

The people of this city have received encouragement to hope that Mr. Spurgeon will visit them about the time of the May Meetings.

The preaching in the National Theatre on Chatham Street, continues to be well attended, and the boys, so uproarious at first, are beginning to learn something of the proprieties becoming Divine worship, although those accustomed only to quiet and orderly congregations on the Sabbath, be startled a little at some of the demonstrations that are yet made.

The assemblages at the Academy of Music, to hear the Gospel, on Sabbath evenings, are as large as ever, and the lectures at the Stanton Street church have been thus far quite a success.

Though the papers do not speak in the same joyous strain as some time ago, the progress of the Work of Grace, still they say there is much to encourage a hope for yet greater things.

Modern Research among State papers and private correspondences, has done so much to disturb histories of the past, long and firmly believed, that the reader is often in great perplexity as to what he should credit, and what reject. An instance of this kind, is found in the history of Mexico.

Robertson was the first to bring to the notice of English readers a consecutive history of the conquest of that country, taken from different Spanish authorities. He threw around it the charm of his cultivated style, and invested it with a vague and delightful mystery, that captivated the imagination and awakened the sympathies of the reader.

Some three years since, the Allegheny Industrial School Society was formed, for the purpose of gathering these children together and giving them instruction in sewing, singing, and on moral and religious subjects.

The American Sunday School Union has issued a very neat tract, addressed to a professor of religion, on "Going to the Opera." Whatever may be said of the excellence of Operatic music, in defence of the institution itself, it is certain that the pieces performed in Opera at Philadelphia, have been anything but moral, and we believe the same thing is true of the Opera, as now conducted, in other places.

The most exciting topic, probably, in Congress, of a public nature, during the last week, was the Cuban Question. Bills have been introduced, in both Houses, granting thirty millions of dollars to the President, with which to conduct negotiations for the purchase of Cuba, that bright gem in the Spanish Crown.

Another very unbecoming scene has been witnessed in the Senate. The principal parties were Senators Douglas and Pritch. The words which passed were such as, by the code of honor, would call for a duel.

extending to the top of the shoulder? Really upon it, that although the latter pain is sometimes taken for rheumatic, they all arise from disease of the Liver; and if you would have relief, go instantly and buy a box of Dr. McLane's Liver Pills, prepared only by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh.

The Postal Service. The efforts of the Post Master General to raise the Postal rates, ought to be strenuously resisted. It would be a tax upon knowledge, which should not be initiated, and which freemen should not bear.

drawing day by day nearer and nearer to the grave, he manifested entire resignation, maintaining a submissive, trusting, cheerful spirit, to the last; when, on the morning of the first day of the week, he fell asleep, we trust, in the arms of Jesus, to awake in heaven, to spend an everlasting Sabbath in the "rest that remaineth for the people of God."
