

News Department.

NATIONAL TREASURY—This number for June has two maps and excellent reviews. I. The Nature of the Treasury; by Rev. John F. Wood, D. D. II. Power in the Presbyter; by C. Van Sleetwood, D. D.

"THE CAVALIER"—Peterson has sent us through Hunt & Miner, "The Cavalier," by G. P. R. James. A healthful tone and a pure moral sentiment, generally characterizes the writings of this author.

"The Gold Fever, or The Land of Gold." This is the title of an original poem, of twenty pages, by Mr. James M. Smith, who has been for a long time an instructor of youth. It was read before the Synod of the Association of Allegheny Co., and Iron City College, and in both cases it was well received. For sale at the periodical depts.

Blackwood's Magazine. The June number is on our table, and may be had of W. A. Gildenstern, Fifth Street. The contents are rich and varied as usual. In an article styled, "Lord Macaulay and Marlborough," the former is severely censured for alleged injustice done to the character of the latter, in his History of England, of which he is the author.

The Knickerbocker. The June number is a welcome, entertaining, and instructive as usual. To the first article, "New York Illustrated," we are indebted for the interesting facts connected with the early history of that city, of which a compend will be found in our "Eastern Summary." This monthly, while maintaining the highest literary character, never panders to idleness or frivolity. It is published by John A. Gray, 16 and 18 Jacob Street, New York.

DeGuer's Maps of the Seat of War. These maps have been carefully prepared, and are beautifully colored. The various European countries are correctly drawn, and their relative positions shown. And there are also valuable tables, showing the area, population, armies, navies, kings, and principal cities of the different European countries. These maps are published by Charles Desilver, Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, and are very valuable for satisfactory reference just now.

Colton's Maps of Europe and Northern Italy. The Map of Europe shows the chief cities, towns, and villages, and also the great political divisions of Kingdoms and States. The Map of Northern Italy embraces the whole of Sardinia, now invaded and contested by the great powers of France and Austria. It presents, also, the divisions of Sardinia, the cities, towns, and villages, mountain passes, scenes of former battles, with the date at which they occurred. So. Published by Johnson & Browning, 172 William Street, New York.

Harpur's Magazine. Messrs. Hunt & Miner, Fifth Street, Pittsburgh, send us the July number of this widely circulated and generally well read Magazine. The contents for the present month are unusually interesting, which is saying a good deal. The illustrations are handsomely gotten up, and several of the articles have been prepared with much care and ability. The editor's table, has an article on European Armies and Armies, that will give the reader a very distinct idea of the military strength of the great European nations, and that is just now so important to our country. The same attentive attention also send us "The Monastery," "St. Roman's Wall," and "Pirate," by E. F. Walter, both of which are very interesting, and are published by Peterson, of Philadelphia.

San Onofre and North Western Italy (late St. Paul and Fond du Lac) has been put under contract, and the work will be commenced immediately. The engineers and contractors are already on the ground, and it is expected that the work will be completed in the fall, and will be ready by November 1st, thus opening a continuous line of two hundred miles from Onofre to a point beyond Onofre, on Lake Winnebago.

Atlantic Cable Projects. There are three projects for an Atlantic Cable, one of which is the most promising. One, the old company, connected with the unsuccessful attempt last year, wishes a Government guarantee for twenty years, to the amount of $2,000,000 for the cable, and $500,000 for the land. The other two are disposed to give any guarantee, except on the condition that it shall commence when the cable has been successfully laid, and that the company is enabled to give, consecutively, worked for thirty days, at the rate of one hundred words per hour. This condition amounts virtually to no assistance at all, for there are very few telegraph lines in the world, and it is very difficult to get the rate of working a telegraph that distance under water, at the rate of one hundred words per hour consecutively. Days may be made which from actual obstacles the telegraph might not work at all. There are two other rival companies to the old one, both of whom propose to take the line to the Atlantic coast, and to connect it with the old line. These are unencumbered by debt, which the old company is not, and they are about to give up the line to the Government. The capital of one of these is to be $2,000,000, and is already half subscribed. The London Times thinks the old company will not succeed in raising the money.

Iron City College. No summer vacation at the Iron City College, Pittsburgh, Pa., owing to the improved prospects for active business. The college will open this coming fall. Upwards of two hundred students are in daily attendance; hence the entire Faculty is retained, and there will be no summer vacation, giving every facility for young men entering during the summer and being thoroughly prepared, at a cost of only $40, in time for the business season.

Widow's designing an unjust comment on any of the leading Sewing Machines now being sold, it may be said as a mere matter of justice, that the "Finkle" Machine, being arranged for all classes of work, from the finest fabrics to cloth and leather, and having several advantages in its construction, giving every facility for young men entering during the summer and being thoroughly prepared, at a cost of only $40, in time for the business season.

Weakness of the Stomach and Indigestion. Another Great Cure Effected by Barham's Holland Bitters. The wife of Peter De Witte, living in Holland Town, Sheboygan County, Wisconsin, suffered much from weakness of the Stomach and Indigestion. She had been under a physician's care for some time, but the disease seemed to have even his skill. She purchased some Holland Bitters at our office, which has given her so great strength and her appetite and strength are returning, and we firmly believe that this is another great cure effected by your medicine.

Another Great Cure Effected by Barham's Holland Bitters. Sold at $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.00, by the sole proprietors, BENJAMIN FAIR, JR., & CO., Pittsburgh, and Druggists generally.

Dr. McLane's Liver Pills.

When the proprietors, Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., of this invaluable remedy purchased it of the inventor, there was no medicine which deserved the name for the cure of Liver and Biliary complaints, notwithstanding the great prevalence of these diseases in the United States. In the South and West particularly, where the patient is frequently unable to obtain the services of a regular physician, some remedy was required, at once safe and effectual, and the operation of which could in no wise prove prejudicial to the constitution. This medicine is supplied by Dr. McLane's Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros. of Pittsburgh, as has been proved in every instance in which it has had a trial. Always beneficial, not a solitary instance has ever occurred in which its effects have been injurious. The invention of an educated and distinguished physician, it has nothing in common with the quack nostrums imposed upon the public by shallow impostors to the medical art. Experience has now proved, beyond a doubt, that Doctor McLane's Pills is the best remedy ever proposed for the Liver Complaint.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. McLANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, manufactured by FLEMING BROS. of Pittsburgh, Pa. There are other Pills purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. McLane's genuine Liver Pills, also his celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable drug stores, None genuine without the signature of the Inventor.

Markets. We have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

Of the prospects of the British and European Corn crop, we have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

Of the prospects of the British and European Corn crop, we have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

Of the prospects of the British and European Corn crop, we have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

Of the prospects of the British and European Corn crop, we have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

Of the prospects of the British and European Corn crop, we have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

Of the prospects of the British and European Corn crop, we have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

Of the prospects of the British and European Corn crop, we have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

Of the prospects of the British and European Corn crop, we have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

Of the prospects of the British and European Corn crop, we have no material change to notice in business. Flour has declined, and wheat is a good supply on hand. The Money Market is becoming more stringent, and Eastern Exchange is still loose. The Spring crops are doing well, and if the weather continues to be as good as it is, we may expect especially where the wheat was not injured by the frost. We learn that the wheat harvest is already beginning in some of the States, and that the crop is generally good. The yield is said to be excellent, and the amount to be gathered much larger than last year.

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

to the best of a great nation, and it is now more than ever before, that the people of this country are called upon to exercise their moral and religious duties. It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us." It is not in vain that we are reminded of the words of the apostle, "Let us not love the world, neither the things which are in the world; for if we love the world, the love of the Father is not in us, neither doth the Father love us, neither do we know him, who abideth in us, who bringeth forth the fruit of his love in us."

CHARLES DESILVER, PUBLISHER AND BOOKSELLER, 712 CHESTNUT STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA. Opposite the Masonic Hall.

SCHOOL, MEDICAL AND MISCELLANEOUS BOOKS. VALUABLE SCHOOL BOOKS. Lists of books for sale, including various school and medical texts.

DR. ADAM CLARKE'S COMMENTARIES ON THE NEW TESTAMENT. A complete commentary on the New Testament, published by Adam Clarke, L.L.D., F.R.S., M.A.

HISTORY OF ALL THE RELIGIOUS DENOMINATIONS. A comprehensive history of various religious groups, published by Charles Desilver.

JOHN ROSS'S PATENT RUBBER BOOTS AND SHOES. Advertisement for rubber footwear, highlighting durability and comfort.

WALLACE'S GUNNERY. Advertisement for a gunnery manual or course, detailing various aspects of marksmanship.

WESTBURY HILL PROPERTY. Real estate advertisement for a property in Westbury Hill, including details on acreage and location.

WASHING CLOTHES BY PRESSURE. Advertisement for a laundry service or machine that uses pressure for washing clothes.

READY MADE CLOTHING. Advertisement for ready-made clothing, including suits and dresses, available at a store.

WASHING CLOTHES BY PRESSURE. Advertisement for a laundry service or machine that uses pressure for washing clothes.

WASHING CLOTHES BY PRESSURE. Advertisement for a laundry service or machine that uses pressure for washing clothes.

WASHING CLOTHES BY PRESSURE. Advertisement for a laundry service or machine that uses pressure for washing clothes.

WASHING CLOTHES BY PRESSURE. Advertisement for a laundry service or machine that uses pressure for washing clothes.

WASHING CLOTHES BY PRESSURE. Advertisement for a laundry service or machine that uses pressure for washing clothes.

WASHING CLOTHES BY PRESSURE. Advertisement for a laundry service or machine that uses pressure for washing clothes.