MESSAS. EDITORS :- Your having published their first card or proposition, showed that you felt interested in the enterprise of forming a new settlement of Presbyterians in the West; and this encourages the friends of the enterprise to ask space in your colamns to further this good object, by giving notice of its progress. This I have been requested to do. The gentlemen who ini tiated this project are members of the church I serve; and whilst I should be very sorry to lose them as parishioners, I am so pro-foundly convinced of the importance of in-burgh Dispatch. augurating this method of making new settlements, that I not only acquiesce, but am willing to aid in effecting the organization as far as my other duties will permit. The columns of the Presbyterian, of about twenty years ago, contain a series of articles from my pen, urging the importance of adopting some method of concerted colonization, so as to forestal the hardships of emigration, and to husband instead of squandering the materials for new congregations in the West. which materials are constantly draining off from the old congregations in the East.

I do not propose now to reiterate the I do not propose now to reiterate the as neatly and constantly as the cleanest grain arguments then presented. It seems not to would have been. These propose to invest some smaller some amount of capital in the purchase of lands; and the prospect is that an organization will be speedily effected. Let those who desire to join, communicate with the Secretary, (John A. Crawford, Esq.,) without delay. Two or three able and excellent ministers, personally known to me, have made inquiries; and there can be no doubt that some prudent, able, and godly men will be found to go along as part of the emigration, and pastor of the church. I am profoundly convinced that a very short and conclusive argument can be constructed to prove that it is the Christian duty of the followers of Christ who design to emigrate, either to join some such organization, or to go where church and schools are already established. We have no right to do as Lot did-go to a country where we will be cut off from the body of the faithful, and from proper means of education, merely to get good land, plenty of it, and a chance to grow rich amongst wicked people. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God," &c.

Very respectfully, D. X. JUNKIN. Hollidaysburg, Pa., Aug. 4, 1859.

Some of the means used to induce remov. others—thus bringing their greatest point of vi-bration at the most advantageous position over the sounding board, at the same time giving am-> disagreeable sharpness to the sound, you will find pads one third larger than in other instruments, of a fine elastic felt, three quarters of an inch -when damp, they swell and work stiffly, some times not at all; when dry, or much worn, they rattle, and move the hammer uncertainly. Mesers. Steinway obviate this by a regulating pleasure. This, too, gives a durability to the most sensitive part of the mechanism, and places it beyond control of a damp or dry atmosphere or the wear and tear of use. The spring of the key is a spiral deeply embedded, instead of an ordinary and exposed spring; it is, therefore beyond danger of accident, and can never loose its susceptibility to the touch. Every joint and mortice of the interior mechanism is softly pad-ded, rendering the possibility of rattling or any noise in the mechanical working, out of question. To sum up all, we remember to have seen few instruments so carefully made and so nicely adjusted in all their parts—with an eye, at once, to brilliancy of volume, sensitiveness and promptness of action, elegance and durability of construction, and an easy get at-ableness to remedy, and correct any part that may chance to get out

There is great demand—and we are not surprised at it-for these instruments. We have seen a letter from which we learn that Carl Formes has recently purchased for his own use, one of Steinway's Louis XIV, three stringed pianos, at a cost of $550. They are popular, and deservedly so. It will be worth our reader's while to call at the Messrs. Kleber's rooms, and

In our columns this day may be found the advertisement of Mr. M. D. Wellman, of his improved Grain Drill and broad cast seed sower. We examined this agricultural machine last Fall, at the fair, and then expressed an opinion favorable to its merits. On Saturday last, we examined it again. Mr. Wellman has been studying the machine closely and has added whatever improve-ments were needed to perfect it. We think it would be impossible to "olog" the grain so that the sowers would fail to drop their grain steadily and surely. Oats, mixed with straw, shavings and other light, chaffy material, were distributed Another point is that the grain is sown uniwith prompt and very encouraging favor. ment of the germ. The whole ground, moreover, would soon pay for itself. HOSE WHO HAVE LOST TEETH will be glad to learn that they may now have them replaced by artificial sets. which are for all purposes of mas tication and articulation in no way inferior to natural Teeth. These qualities, which have so long been sought for in the dental art, have been attained by the employment of Percelain and Coral, or Vulcanite, as a base. The difficulty hitherto has been that lightness could not be secured without sacrifices of strength; both of these desirable qualities are combined in the new material.

Gold and all other metalliciplate for the insertion of artificial teeth must soon fall into disuse altogether, since the Coralite and Porcelain work proves itself vastly superior. It is more elegant and cleanly, free from corrosion and all metallic taste, very pleasant to wear in the mouth, and less expensive. PERSONS AT A DISTANCE, in want of teeth, will find PERSONS AT A DISTANCE, in want of testh, will find it to their advantage to avail themselves of the improvements embraced in these styles, which, with the reduction of price and perfection of fit, will amply repay the trouble and expense of a journey to Pittsburgh. Our facilities for manufacturing them are such that a job can be got up in less than half the ordinary time.

AGP Testh drawn without pain, and no charge to those having teeth inserted.
