Mrs. Wallace was daughter of Josep : Jordan, a Ruling

Elder in Stewartstown church. Her lif. gave evidence that she was a child of prayer Suffering more than commonly falls to the lot of one parson, (her last illness continuing three months and eleven days,) she bore it all with the utmost patience and resignation. She had within a few years seen her father, mother, two of har three sisters, her husband, and lastly, her only child, taken from her by the hand of death - still she would frequently say, amid the tears which affection demanded, that they were "not lost but gone before." The writer, within a little over a year, saw her three different times brought near the gates of death, on beds of sickness, and although he visited her frequently, never heard her express (with but one exception,) anything but the fullest, clearest, and most perfect confidence in a glorious immortality beyond the grave. The exception referred to was a temporary doubt, which soon gave place to her usual full confidence in her
