Has it not the indersement of one of your Bishops? And is it not found lying in the book case of every Methodist preacher? What Dr Foster's real opinious are, I can not tell, but when he has Calvinism to fight. he stoutly maintains that there is nothing worthy of blame in the enuity of the carnal heart against the holiness of God. "But do you say," the same writer thus addresses a Calvinist, " do you say the first cause of their destruction was their corruption of nature, and God only passed them by in their sins, leaving them to suffer just punishment? Then it amounts to this: these persons were left to damnation, be cause of their corrupt nature. But had they any thing whatever to do in making that corrupt nature?" The sinner, it seems, is not even to take the smallest share of guilt, he is spotless as innocence itself. Not all the steam presses in America could print, not all the libraries in America could contain the harangues, the tropes, the rant, and the fustian delivered from Arminian pulpits against Calvinists, for maintaining that human nature, fallen and deprayed, is guilty, dreadfully guilty before God. There are not, perhaps, half a dozen preachers in the whole General Conference, but take sides with total depravity, and defend human nature against God himself. Indeed, one would be quite mafe to offer a large reward, if such a thing were proper, for a Methodist minister who had ever been known to proclaim openly and honestly to the world, that the moral corruption which cleaves to mankind in itself, deserves the Divine wrath. Such a preacher would be truly an object of wonder. The Falls of Niagara would scarcely be a greater JOHN SMITH

Plowing by Steam. The Fawke's Steam Plow seems to be a success. It was lately tried at Hamilton Parke, N. Y., nd received much approbation. It has been tried at several places, in Illinois and elsewhere. It is intended for use in large fields of a somewhat even surface; and is expected to become the main implement in agriculture on the prairies Fawkes' plow is rather a series of plows, there being eight of them attached by chains to the engine and running machinery in front. They are all under command of the engineer, who can elevate them some feet from the ground, or depress them ready to commence turning the glebe. The machinery is as simple as the circumstances would permit, and evidently, will keep in repair for a long time. So we see the plow described.

THE NORTHERN LIGHTS IN MEXICO -The late celestial phenomena, which attracted so much attention here and in the tropics, were equally objects of wonder to the simple minded people of the neighboring republic. And various were the interpretations thereof. Among the Indians the general opinion seems to have been that the end of the world was at hand, and that these flickering lights were only the advancing flames. The daily contests of the white population, however, has naturally led them to a political interpretation of the phenomena, which, of course, varied with their sympathies. These thought to see St. Ignatius, St. Francis, or other founders of religious orders, riding in chariots of fire —in their hand banners on which were inscribed "death to the Puros;" while the lively imaginations of the latter saw sights equally complimen tary to their opponents. -N. CALIFORNIA FRUIT — Fruit, however, is destined to be the ultimate glory of California. Nowhere else on earth is it produced so readly or so bountifully. Such Pears, Peaches, Apricots, Nectarines, &c., as load the trees of this valley, and of nearly every valley in the State which has had any chance to produce them, would stagger the faith of nine tenths of my readers. Peach trees only six years set, which have borne four large burdens of fruit while growing luxuriantly each year are quite common. Apple trees, but three years set, 'yet' showing at least a bushel of large, fair fruit, are abundant. I have seen Peach trees four or five years from the States which have all the fruit they can a agger under yet have grown three feet of new wood over this load during the current seasons. Dwarf pears, just struck into the black loam, and nowise fertilized or cultivated, but covered with fruit the year after they were set, and thenceforward bearing larger and larger yields with each succeeding Summer, are seen 10 erably cared for fruit patch. I cannot discover an instance in which any frost tree, having borne largely one year, consults its dignity or its case by standing still or growing wood only the next year, as is common our way. I have seen Green Gages and other Plum trees so thickly set with fruit that I am sure the Plums would far out-weigh the trees, leaves and all. And not one borer, curculio, caterpillar, apple worm, or other nuisance of that large and undelightful family, appears to be known in all this region. Under a hundred fruit trees, you will not see on build which has prematurely fallen—a victim to this destructive brood .- Morace Greeley.

DISCOVERIES IN AFRICA. The Cape Town Mail, of August 20, has the following copy of a letter from Dr. Livingstone to Sir George Grey, containing a sketch of some important geograph ical discoveries in addition to those recently announced by that distinguished explorer;

"RIVER SHIRE, June 1, 1859.
"My Dear Sir George: — We have lately discov ered a very fine lake by going up this river in the steam launch about 100 miles, and then marching some fifty more on foot. It is called Shirwa, and lake N'gami is a mere pond in comparison. It is, moreover, particularly interesting from the fact reported by the natives on its shores that it is separated by a strip of land of only five or six miles in width from Nyanja, or Lake N'yinyesi—the stars—which Burton has gone to explore. Lake Shirws has no outlet, and the waters are bitter, but drinkable. It abounds in fishes, leeches, alligators and hippopotami. We discovered, also, by examining partly a branch of the Shire, called Ruo, that one portion of Shirwa is not more than thirty miles distant from a point that may easily be reached by this launch, which by newspaper measurement draws thirteen inches, and actually thirty-one. The Lake Shirwa is very grand. It is surrounded on all sides by lofty green mountains. Dzomba, or as people nearest it say, Zomba, is over 6,000 feet high, of same shape as Table Mountain, but inhabited on the top; others are equally high, but inaccessible. It is a high land region-the lake itself being about 2,000 feet above the sea. It is 20 or 30 miles wide, and 50 or 60 long. On going some way up a hill, we saw in the far distance two mountain tops, rising like islands on a watery horizon. An inhabited mountain island stands near where we first came to it. From the size of the waves it is supposed to be deep. Mr. Maclear will show you the map. Dr. Kirk and I, with 50 Makololo, formed the land party. The country is well peopled and very much like Louds in the middle of the country, many streams rising out of bogs—the veg-etation nearly identical also. Never saw so much cotton grown as among the Manganga of the Shire and Shirwa valleys—all spin and weave it. These are the latitudes which I have always pointed out as the cotton and sugar lauds; they are pre eminently so, but such is the disinterestedness of some people that labor is exported to Bourbon instead of being employed here. The only trade they have is that of slaves, and the only symptoms of impudence we met were from a party of Bajana slave traders; but they changed their deportment instantly, on hearing that we were English, and not Portuguese There are no Maravi at or near Shirwa; they ardall west of the Shire, so this lake can scarcely be called Lake Maravia; the Portuguese know nothing of it, but the minister who claimed (blue book for 1857) the honor of first traversing the African continent for two black men with Portuguese names, must explain why they did not cross the Shirwa. It lies some forty or fifty miles on each side of the latitude of Mozambique. They came to Tete only, and lacked at least 400 miles of Mozambique. We go back to Shirwa in July, and make a push for N'yin-yesi. (Signed) DAVID LIVINGSTONE."

Has uniformly given, so far as the Publishers know, entire satisfaction to all churches and Musical Associations that have used it. Scores of practical feachers have praised the book and have it now in their schools. But the fact that it has reached so many editions, has attained a sale of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND AND TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND COPIES. and is now in larger demand than ever. has, if anything can, taken the work out of the domain of criticism.

Two reasons will chiefly account for the great success of this volume:

THE SACRED MELODEON.

BY A. S. HAYDEN,

Two reasons will chiefly account for the great success of this volume:

First—The Character of the Work. It represents a new and greatly improved system of notation. In it much that is abstruce and difficult in this delightful science, is so simplified that months are made equal to years in the common way of learning the practice of musical art.

SECOND—The Quality and Style of Music. Many new pieces, destined to please as long as music lasts, may be found on its pages, and also many of the old and tried melodies, hallowed from associated recollections of sanctuary delights, and far more welcome to the heart of the worshipper than others frequently substituted for them

The mechanical execution of the work is superior altogether to the majority of Eastern Music Books, and the price much lower. price much lower.

The work may be had of Booksellers in all the principal cities and towns, or may be ordered direct from the Publishers.

Copies for examination, sent post-paid, to Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, etc., for seventy five cents remitted in postage

THOSE WHO HAVE LOST TEETH will be glad to learn that they may now have them replaced by artificial sets, which are for all purposes of mastication and articulation in no way inferior to natural Teeth. These qualities, which have so lone been sought for in the dental art, have been attained by the employment of Percelain and Coval, or Vulcanite, as a base. The difficulty hitherto has been that lightness could not be secured without sacrifices of strength; both of these desirable qualities are combined in the new material.

Gold and all otter metallic plate for the insertion of artificial teeth must soon fail into disuse altogether, since the Coralite and Porcelain work proves itself vastly superior. It is more elegant and cleanly, free from corrosion and all metallic taste, very pleasant to wear in the mouth, and less expensive.
