The Pen and the Press.

BY JOHN CRITCH LEY PRINCE. Young Genius walked out by the mountains and streams

Entranced by the power of his own pleasan dreams.

Till the silent, the wayward, the wandering thing, Found a plume that had fallen from a passing bird's wing:

Exulting and proud, like a boy at his play, He bore the fair prize to his dwelling away; He gazed for a while on its beauties, and then He cut it, and shaped it, and called it a PEN.

But its magical use he discovered not yet, Till he dipped its bright lips in a fountain of jet And, oh ! what a glorious thing it became ! For it spoke to the world in a language of fiame While its master wrote on, like a being inspired. Till the hearts of the millions were melted or fired :

It came as a boon and a blessing to men--The peaceful, the pure, the victorious PEN.

Young Genius went forth on his rambles one more,

The vast, sunless coverns of earth to explore ; He searched the rude rock, and with rapture h found

A substance unknown, which he brought from the ground ;

He fased it with fire, and rejoiced at the change As he molded the ore into characters strange,

Till his thoughts and his efforts were crowned with success;

For an engine uprose, and he called it the PRESS

The Pen and the Press, blest alliance ! combined To soften the heart, and enlighten the mind : For that to the treasures of knowledge gave birth. And this sent them forth to the ends of the earth ; Their battles for truth were triumphant indeed, And the rod of the tyrant was snapped like a reed : They were made to exalt us, to teach us, to bless

Those invincible brothers-the PEN and the PEESS

Met in Bellefonte on the 4th of October, and was opened with a sermon by Rev. J. W. White. The meeting was largely attended, harmonious, and interesting. Mr. J. A. Reed, a licentiate of this Presbytery, was dismissed to the Presbytery of Cedar. Hollidaysburg was selected as the place for the next stated meeting of Presbytery. A church, consisting of twenty eight members and four Ruling Elders, was reported as organ-ized in Bald Eagle Valley. Calls from the churches of Bald Eagle Valley and Pine Grove, for the pastoral services of Mr. Samuel M. Moore, were presented, found in order, and for the present retained by Presbytery, Mr. Moore being a licentiate of another Presby-tery. It is understood that Mr. Moore will accept these calls. Therefore, Presbytery agreed to hold an adjourned meeting in Pine Grove, on "The wrong is done, and the wrong might have been prevented by the exercise of precisely such power as has been placed in our hands. Unless we have exerted that power for the prevention of wrong, which others have exerted in causing it to be committed. we are, on every principle of right reason, responsible for the act, and are partakers of the guilt. This is the only rule, so far as I know, by which we can estimate moral responsibility in all cases of association. ... If several men are united in a co partnership, we hold every one of them responsible for the acts of the firm, not only legally, but under the conditions which I have specified, morally also. If one partner commit no act of dishonesty with his own hands, yet, if he be cognizant of the dishonest acts of his as. sociates, if he allow them to use his capital, then share with them the gains of wickedness. he is manifestly as guilty as they. Although

Color and Dress, You ought never to buy an article be cause you can afford it. The question is, whether it is suitable to your position and habits, and the rest of your wardrobe. There are certain clothes that require a carriage to be worn in, and are quite unfit for walking in the streets. Above all, do not buy wearing apparel because it is miscalled cheap. There is no such thing; cheap clothes are dear to wear. The article is unsaleable because it is either ugly, vulgar, or entirely out of date. One reason why you see colors ill arranged is, that the different articles are purchased each for its own imagined virtues, and without any thought of what it is to be worn with. Women, while shopping, buy what pleases the eye on the counter, forgetting what they have got at home. That parasol is pretty, but it will kill by its color one dress in the buyer's wardrobe, and be unsuitable for all others. An enormons sum of money is spent yearly upon women's dress; yet how seldom a dress is so arranged as to give the beholder any pleasure! To be magnificently dressed .fe21-t* certainly costs money; but to be dressed with taste is not expensive. It requires good sense, knowledge, refinement. We have seen foolish gowns, arrogant gowns. Women are too often tempted to imitate the dress of each other, without considering "the difference of climate and complexion." The colors which go best together are green with violet; gold color with dark crimson or lilac; pale blue with scarlet; pink with black or white; and gray with scarlet or pink. A cold color generally requires a inquired Mrs. Lincoln one evening, as she warm tint to give life to it. Gray and pale blue, for instance, do not combine well, both being cold colors .- Dicken's " All the Year Round."

A Woman's True Life.

To most women, how rarely occurs the opportunity of accomplishing great things, aud making great conquests, as the on look ing world estimates greatness! But in every relation of life, and in almost every day's ABRIDGMENT OF THE DEBATES OF CONand hour's experience, there are laid in her pathway little crosses to take up and bear; little lessons to learn of patience and for bearance; little sacrifices which seem and bear; nothing to the looker on, but which, from peculiarity of temperament, may in reality be costly ones; little victories over nameles developments of selfishness; the culture of many a little hope, and feeling, and princi-ple, and suppression of many desires, repin-ings, or exactions, which make the feeble and hour's experience, there are laid in her

He was head and shoulders above all the people-not in his stature (like Saul) but in mind, and soul, and grace. Treasure these gems, and adorn thyself with them, by putting them into the golden setting of holy practice, which is the end the writer always simed at. with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred
