

LIVE PLEASANTLY.—There are some people who not only seem determined to make the most and the worst of the evils of their lot but find a dreary-satisfaction in inflicting them on their friends in the shape of long, tedious and oft told recitals. They are never tired (though their hearers are full weary) of the dismal recitation and repetition of the wrongs the tenants, the slaves, the ungrateful, the requitals they have received at the hands of men, the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, which have been ever since they showed their faces in this bad world.

A French wit and a philosopher has said, Our path through life is thick set with thorns. We may as well brush quickly and lightly past them.

VALUABLE.—The value of this article as a stimulant of vegetable life cannot be too highly appreciated. It contains the element of plants in a state of ready solution, and, when applied, acts not only with immediate and obvious effect, but with a sustained energy which permits to a few even of the most concentrated manures. When it is not convenient to apply it in irrigation—the most economical method, perhaps, of using it—it should be absorbed by some material which may be used as an ingredient in the compost heap. Soda, muck and other similar articles should be deposited where it is to be used, and absorbed, for the benefit of crops. In this way several loads of muck, suitable for the support and sustenance of any crop, may be made at comparatively small expense. The highly-purposive character of this fermentable liquid quality is admirably fitted for the irrigation of compost heaps of whatever material composed of things potent for life, it must, of necessity, impart additional richness to almost any material to which it may be added. Try it, and mark the result.

A WORD TO WIVES.—We once heard of a man who longed himself because he couldn't bear the idea of having every morning. We hope no housekeeper will be driven to this extremity by the daily recurring and unresponsive question, "what shall we have for dinner today?" We say we hope so, because fair hands are lifted in dismay and despair, looks over the coffee-cups, have been seen when this question has come up for consideration. Reflect, ladies! how much worse to have no dinner at all, and no prospect of any more, unless the hand of charity bestows it. And what a chance, too, this duty affords you to show delicate attention to a weary husband by consulting his preferences in this particular, and say what you will, husbands trust and do eat, when the most intellectual and interesting.

LOST SHEEP.—A preacher of the Methodist Church was traveling in one of the back settlements, and stopped at a cabin, where an old lady received him very kindly. After setting pavillions before him, she began to question him, "Stranger, where might you be from?" "Madam, I reside in Shelby county, Kentucky."

ENTY.—Evny ought, in strict truth, to have no place whatever allowed it in the heart of man; for the goods of this present world are so vile and low, that they are beneath it; and those of the future world are so vast and exalted, that they are above it.—Cotton.

[From the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, March 10.]
We are gratified to hear of the continued success, in New York, of our townsmen, Mr. H. T. Helmbold, Druggist. His store, next to the Metropolitan Hotel, is 78 feet front, 230 feet deep, and five stories in height. It is certainly a grand establishment, and speaks favorably of the merit of his articles. He retains his Office and Laboratory in this city, which are also model establishments of their class.

The proprietor has been induced to make this statement on the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are

GENUINE PREPARATIONS.
And, knowing that the intelligent refrain from using any thing pertaining to Quackery, or the Patent Medicine order—most of which are prepared by self-styled Doctors, who are too ignorant to read a physician's simplest prescription, much less competent to prepare pharmaceutical preparations.

A WORD OF CAUTION.
Health is most important; and the afflicted should not use an advertised medicine, or any remedy, unless its contents or ingredients are known to others besides the manufacturer, or until they are satisfied of the qualifications of the party to offering.
