The blocks are carefully sawed into pieces approaching in size pretty closely the objects for which they are to be used. By means of a finely pointed steel the outline of the shape into which the piece is to be carved is then frac-ed on the surface and the work proceeds to completion with knife and chisil, like any ordinary wood carving. Last of all comes the polishing process by which the substance, originally of a brownish color, receives the bright block lusture that has rendered it so very popular with the ladies as an arti-cle of ornament. But as, according to SOLOMON, there is nothing new under the sun, so jet is no novelty. It was known to the an-clents, who used it for the same pur-nores so surgely. poses as ourselves. Jet ornaments have frequently been discovered in Roman and in ancient British tombs. Among the articles lately exhumed in Pompeil were brooches, bracelets, and chains of jet, so artistically wrought as to defy modern imitation. England has since remote times been the chief depository of jet, and manufactures of the article flourished in that country long ago. In the days of Queen ELIZABETH the town of Whitley had already established quite a reputation for the extent of thy of their support, while the Jobbing its jet manufactures. In a manuscript department will be supplied with suf-dated 1730, entitled: "The Journey of a ficient type fast progress and ap are Portuguese Merchant, Don MANUEL GONZALES, in great Britain," the author speaks of a jet being found in Yorkshire. In the course of the last century the use of the substance for ornaments appears to have rapidly declined, and it was left to the capricious rumor of fashion to raise its reputation

The manufacture of jet is of no small importance to the places that have engaged in it as a regular branch of indus-try. The town of Whitely continues of considerable note to the present day, and exported last year over £30,di0 sterling worth of jet ornaments. Its manufacturers got up an exhibition last tall, when the beauty, variety, and finish of the articles exhibited received enthusiastic praise from artistic and industrial sources. In Oviedo, in the Spanish province of Asturia, jet is also manufactured, but its products do not appear to command such high prices as the English.

A Fearful Story of Hydrophobia.

Mr. Henry Drew, Assistant Superin-Mr. Henry Drew, Assistant Superin tendent of Public Property, has related J iople of Tioga.county, that it shall be to us the particulars of a case of hydro-phobla at the village of Waterloo, which cally in the future, and to keep pace surpasses in tragic interest almost any story of the kind we ever read :

Some six or seven years ago a madi expect to do this by a division of labor, dog went through the village of Waterloo, Jefferson county, and bit a number facilities for turning cut first-class work. of animals. Among others it snapped We are now prepared to execute all at the leg of a cow belonging to Mr. Babcock. The animal was examined. but no mark could be found, and it was with great rapidity ; and persons sendsupposed that it escaped being bitten. The animal was afterwards sold to a man by the name of Garrison, who used her milk very freely, as did two of his children. Some of the neighbors, inclu-ding Mr. Drew's family, were also supgood order.

plied with milk of this cow. At different times during the time since the cow was bitten there has been inexplicable and fatal sickness among those using her milk, and two children and labor in advance. Therefore the of Mr. Garrison's two of Mr. Drew's and Say for work should be promit. two others have been attacked with spasms and died in great agony. Mr. Garrison has also been attacked attimes with spasms. The mystery of this sick-ness was solved by the death, with every symptom of hydrophobia, a short time ago, of the cow so slightly bitten seven years ago, and in whose system mad-ness had been latent ever since. The case is a singular one, and worthy the attention of scientific men.—MAD-

We see that the Grand Jury of Mifflin County has directed the District attorney to prepare indictments against several members of election boards for receiving the votes of deserters, skedadlers, &c. We do things differently up here. Alleged deserters and skedaddlers, bring suits for damages against election boards for refusing the votes of such persons. We suspect the result in both cases will teach the plaintiffs that bords of election, beidg judges of both law and fact as regards qualifications of votes, cannot be punished for a conscientious discharge of duty. The presumption is, that the boards receiving such voters, believed them to be legal; an error of judgment, as we believe. And the presumption is that those boards which refused such votes in Tioga County, and elsewhere, refused them because they believed them to be illegal. And unless this presumption, in both cases can be shown to be baseless, and vicious, we guess that the defendants will stand acquitted and the plaintiffs be fined in the sum of the costs.

If every lawyer could fix the construction of the law to suit his own notions the case would be different; but when law butts its brains, out against the wall of fact, Common Sense steps in and dispenses both law and Justice.
