Mr. Skinner went home with new views. But for Tom's sake I did not let the matter rest there. I gave a prescription which I thought suited exactly to Tom's case, and which I have never known to fait, and as it works with er known to fail; and as it works with boys of the Tom Skinner stripe as charmingly as Rarey's does with wild horses, I give it for the benefit of all parents and school committees, thus:— "Take Tom out of school for one week; don't leave him any leisure wherein to torment the cat or stone the neighbors' hens, take him out into the field, make him work at your side from morning till evening, so that he will be sure to sleep o'nights; never strike him or whip him; work him six days in suc-cession, at the end of which time you may reasonably expect all the bad spirits have worked out of him at the rate of one per day. Then let him go back to school, and if the evil possession comes again, repeat the exorcism till it is effectual and complete." Tom is now under this gegimen. It works beautifully, and I am persuaded we shall have a new and better edition both of Tom at school and of Tom on a farm.

Original Poetry.

For The Agitator Ballad of Ye Leek Hook.

He had no shade trees 'round his cot, nor any flow'rs or vines.

He swore that he could whip Old Jeff-or any other man.
