XXXIXth Congress---1st Session.

Our synopsis of doings in Congress commences on the 12th inst. In Senate, Mr. Dixon, of Connecticut, introduced a bill to amend the postal law s, the chief features being the prepay ment of postage on all newspapers, sent from the office of publication or otherwise; forwarded letters not to 'e charged additional postage; and an enlargement of the money order accommodation. A bill to enlarge the powers of the Freedmen's Bureau was laid over. The Senate adjourned to Mon-in the House, Mr. Johnson, (Coppera of Pennsylvania, offered a resolution to increase the pay of members of Congress and employees of the Government. (Congressmen now get $3,000 per year and mileage). This proposition, coling from a member of the howlers about extravagance, is significant. It was rejected 147, to 5. Adjourned to

On the 15th, in the Senate, Mr. Chandler offered a preamble and resolution to the effect, that, as the British Government has refused indemnity for damage done to American commerce by her subjects, the President be requested to recall our Minister to the Court of St. James, and declare non-intercourse between the two nations. Laid over, it. That is good news. Mr. Howard offered a resolution calling for the trial of Jeff. Davis and C. C. Clay upon the charges on which they are confined. Laid over.

In the House, a resolution to amend the Constitution so as to base Congressional representation upon the whole number of votes. Referred to Committee on Reconstruction. The Committee of Ways & Means was instructed to inquire into the expediency of taxing horse-races where an admission fee is charged. The Committee on the Judiciary was instructed to inquire into the expediency of so amending the naturalization laws as to provide that all persons shall read, intelligently, the Constitution, before taking the oath to support it.

Mr. Kasson mentioned the fact that the New York News had accused Mrs. Lincoln of stealing public property from the White House. He explained that but one article had been taken, and that upon application to the Secretary of the Interior. It was an ornament for which Mr. Lincoln had a great liking during his lifetime, was asked for on that account.

On the 16th, in Senate, Mr. Chandler called up his resolution of non-intercourse with Great Britain, which was

In the House, the bill to revive the grade of General in the Army was re-ported back to the House, and the suffrage bill for the District of Columbia taken up and debated.

On the 17th, in Senate, a remonstrance against, the arming of the militia of Alabama was presented by Mr. Sumner who said the reason for arming the militia was stated to have been done to prevent disorder among the colored people there. The resolution for the establishment of Provisional

The proceedings in the legislature are ernor's message.

The following items of interest to our people appear in the report of profeedings on the 10th inst: ings on the 10th inst:
Mr. MANN (Potter) offered a resolution requesting the Judiciary committee to report a bill for the increase of the liabilities of railroad companies for the loss of life and limb. Agreed to Mr. MANN also submitted a joint resolution instructing our senators, and requesting our Representatives in Congress to vote for an amendment of the Constitution of the United States, to as to apportion members of Congress according to the whole people not dis ranchised, and to authorize the people to vote directly for President and Vice President, and to secure to all persons the right to testify in all courts.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

On the 17th, Mr. MANN read in place a bill to increase the revenue by iraposing a tax on all banks doing business in the State.

The Salt Lake Telegraph says that the people of Washington Territory di not know what to do with the six or seven hundred Massachusetts women who have been sent out to that wooden fountry, and that when the women discover the deception practiced upon these, in inducing them to go there with the promise of pleasant homes and four dollars a day, they will feel disposed to lynch the author of their misfortune. The Telegraph, however, coolly livites them to the Territory of the Saints, where there is a little room left yet. Probably half a dozen of the "big saints," would contract to marry the entire lot.

WELLSBORO, PENN'A.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY, 24, 1866.

With MALICE toward none, with CHARITT for ALL, with firmness in the BIGHT, let us strive to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and orphans, and to do all which may achieve and chertsh a just and insting peace among ourselves, and with all nations.—A. LINCOLN—MARCH 4, 1865.

The Republican State Convention will meet in Harrisburg on the 7th of next March.

Gov. CURTAIN reached Harrisburg on the 19th inst., much improved in health. This will be good news to his numerous friends.

State Treasurer KEMBLE, (just reelected) recommends that the tax on real estate for State purposes be abandoned. He shows that the State expenses and the debt can be extinguished without

A bill repealing the law providing for the education of Soldiers' Orphans introduced into the Legislature. It is proposed to make an appropriation for their education at home.

THE GREAT REVIVAL.

We note in nearly all of our exchanges from the east, that a very considerable religious awakening is going on in trust will pass, modifying the law of eviall the country east of the meridian of Wellsboro.

The east has been the birth-place of of religious, moral, and political reform. It has given birth to atheism, license, account of good and evil.

Our business is with the good that rises in the east and sweeps westward over the land, periodically.

So we hope the revival will pursue the way of its predecessors, and take-Wellsboro in its course It is needed here for several reasons. We hope it will come along and achieve several reforms, to wit:

The awakening of the well-disposed people of this neighborhood to such a degree that they will arise with strengthened spinal columns, and righteously indignant souls, to set about restricting the domination of whiskey, and finally Governments for the late sededed States banish it to the realm of the devil whence was then taken up and depated until it came. it came.

Solomon was right in saying that there is nothing new under the sun." suffrage, was the order, and was deltated | The reign of unbridled license, which the ignorant name "liberty," is nothing new. It has reigned, somewhere, since the world began. Its interregnums are few and brief. It will always rule where men regard the profits of trade as something of greater moment thanthe betterment of mankind.

We appeal to the sober, solid, and In the House the great work of the bill establishing colored suffrage in the District of Columbia by a strictly party vote of 116 to 54. The passage of the bill was received with great applause by the daily and nightly exhibitions in our solutions. In the house the great work of the best regulated town. Do the daily and nightly exhibitions in our solutions which are regarded as allowed as a solution of the salisfactory and remunerative result of the enterprise. Even now the enterprise. Even now the west by Wm. Hutchinson—containing the west by Wm. Hutchinson galleries.

The bill gives the right of suffrage to all citizens, without regard to color or all citizens, without regard to color or other qualification.

daily and nightly exhibitions in our most infallible by those experienced in the business. We anticipate success and earnestly hope that our anticipations and earnestly hope that our anticipations are regarded as an experienced in the success and earnestly hope that our anticipations are regarded as an experienced in the success and earnestly hope that our anticipations are regarded as an experienced in the success and earnestly hope that our anticipations are regarded as an experienced in the success and earnestly hope that our anticipations are regarded as an experience of those who live in the midst of its disorder and must endure it from day to day.

We guess not. We guess that even not of much interest, and probably will the most moss-grown conversative will not be until the reception of the pov- admit that there is room for improvement here.

> Go back with us, in mind, ten years. The praise of Wellsboro was the theme of every stranger who came into our community. The town was reputed abroad for its order, thrift, and sobriety. Farmers came to town, transacted their business, and went home sober and sedate. Young men had something to do and did it. Women could walk the town, on any street, without being shocked by reeling blasphemers.

> "Ah, but the town was dull and hum-drum then," some one will say. Well, so be it. If drunkenness constitutes briskness, then give us hum-drum.' But if sobriety and good order are not the pioneers of permanent thrift, then we have been taught all wrong.

Look at the town now. We have not seen a stranger of correct habits for two years who had not some censure for Wellsboro. Our repute abroad is fallen very low. Farmers come to town in the morning and stay all day, going home full of very vile whiskey at night. Do you think their families thank us, who know better, for permitting this evil to grow mountainous without rebuke? They do not thank us. They curse us in their heart of hearts.

But the revival alluded to could, pos sibly, achieve another reform.

It might, possibly, send neighborhood tattling back to the devil, whence it came. Not that Wellsboro is worse than other towns in this respect. Probably it is not. Gossip is the strawweekly literary paper published by the famous book house of Ticknor & Fields. It contains thirty octave pages, handsomely printed in double columns, with an illustrated title page. The reading matter is made up entirely of choice extracts from our part force. It is not. Gossip is the strawberries and cream of small villages. But we need to abandon it, notwithstanding. "So-and-so has said, or done, so-and-so"—is an assertion made oftenest on hearsay (which is an infernal liar) on hearsay (which is an infernal liar) and not upon ascertained fact. "Who told you?" commonly reveals the fact that nobody responsible told anybody. It is all hearsay-or common rumor, or malicious lying.

"But people will talk, you know!" Yes, we know that; but it were better had some people been born dumb for but they should be constrained, by recreation. We trust this mode of culting will be adhered to. A periodical opinion, to confine their "talk" to made up entirely of first-class light literature is needed in this country, and Every Cotamban can supply this legidar. good example, and by healthy public Loans and dis ples rather than men and women. It is none of our business whether John The Fifth Avenue Hotel paye $80,000 | Smith eats butter on his slap-jacks or with for incorrect habits, reply-" why, so-and-so is as bad as I am." Why, a man could excuse himself for stealing with just as much propriety. To all such people we'put this question: How many good deeds have you ever done because "so-and-so" set the example? Take that home with you.

So we look for some good to come out of the revival which seems to be coming this way. Let it come.

Col. Forney is just now involved in a controversy with certain clergyman of Philadelphia who object to his publishing a Sunday edition of the Press.

We suppose these protesting clergymen know as much about newspaper business as Col. Forney does about preachness as Col. Forney does about preachobject to reading a Monday paper; yet the entire composition of the last forms gustus Niles, dec'd.

ALSO—a lot of land in Elkland, bounded north by On the other hand, a Sunday paper is made up and printed, as a rule, on Saturday.

These protesting clergyman remind us of the young lady who put pantalets on her piano.

We thank our brethren of the press for their generous notices of THE AGI-TATOR and its progress in the march of improvement. The proprietors hope at the State Normal Schools has been that they have only begun the work. Already, advertisers crowd us for room. and unless the rush subsides we shall have to issue extras.

THE LAW OF EVIDENCE.

We copy below a bill lately introduced into the State legislature, and which we dence in an important and necessary particular. The old rule exclusion of interested parties from the witness stand almost everything good in the nature has long enough been a stone of stumbling in the path of justice. The jury will determine without difficulty what and despotism, also. But our purpose allowance, if any, must be made for the does not lie in resolving the east into statement of a suitor under oath. We its original elements and balancing the hope our members will vote for it.

Here is the bill: Sec. 1. That on the trial of any issue joined, or of any matter or question, or on any inquiry arising in any suit action, or other proceeding, in any court of justice in this commonwealth, or before any person having by law or by consent of parties authority to hear, receive and examine evidence, the parties thereto and the persons in whose behalf any such action or other proceeding may be brought or defended, and any and all per-sons interested in the same shall, except as here-inafter excepted, be competent to give evidence, either vive voce or by deposition, according to the practice of the court, on behalf of either or any of the parties to the said action or other proceeding; Provided, That nothing herein con-tained shall render any person who is charged with any offence in any criminal proceeding, competent or compellable to give evidence for or against himself, or shall render any person compellable to answer any question tending to criminate himself, or herself, or shall in any criminal proceeding render any husband competent or compellable to give evidence for or against his wife, or any wife competent or compellable to give evidence for or against her husband, or in any proceeding instituted in consequence of adul-tery; nor shall any husband be compeliable to disclose any communication made to him by his wife during the marriage, nor shall any wife be compellable to disclose any communication to her by her husband during the marriage.

The work at the Sylvania Oil well is now progressing favorably. The depth is fast approaching 600 feet. The indications are most favorable and we should not be surprised to hear at any tions may not end in disapointment.-Troy Times.

The Pope, it seems, no longer conceals from himself the impending doom of his temporal dominions. In addressing the French troops on the 1st of January, he expressed the fear that the enemies of the Church would go to Rome after the departure of the French troops. So, it seems, all parties in Italy are agreed that this withdrawal of the French troops will be very soon followed by a revolution in Rome, and a demand of the Romans for annexation to Italy.

A VINEGAR-MAKING ANIMAL.-In Paris there are people of curious creatures from China. One is a tortoise or small turtle, with green hair floating from under his shell. The other-creature is a hideous, revolving looking polypus, endowed with the peculiar attribute of making vinegar. It is a monstrous assemblage of fleshy membranes and glutinous tubes, and a mass of misshapen appendages, which give it a revolting and hideous aspect. You will suppose it to be lifeless, but if you touch it, it writhes and assumes various forms, proving its vitality. The structure of this creature is but little known.

The Government has sold the rolling mill at Chattanooga, its product, and the scrap iron there collected; the mill for one hundred and seventy-five thous-and dollars, the rolled iron for two hun-dred thousand dollars, and the old iron for about one hundred thousand dollars.

It is said to be a fact, that nothwith-standing the difficulties in the Fenian Brotherhood, at least $10,000 a day is yet received at the O'Mahoney palace in New York. This is ample to pay the champagne and cigar bill of the establishment No troops will be moved from Va.

DISSOLUTION.—The co-partnership heretofore existing between the subscribers in the Tin and Stove business is dissolved by mutual consent. The books and accounts are in the hands of Robert Kelsey, who will settle the same and henceforth carry on the business at the old stand.

THE LADIES' FAVORITE. - TILDEN'S Concentrated Liquid Blueing for Blueing clothes, for coloring, and for ink. Six good reasons why it sells so rapidly:

Because it is better than any other kind. S Because it is the cheapest kind of laundry blueng. Because it contains no acid, or anything that injures clothes or makes them yellow.

Because it does not spot clothes, or make then

Because it is so useful for coloring. Because it makes a perfect blue ink when the irections on the bottle are followed. Prepared by A. E. Tilden, Dansville, N. Y. For sale by John A. Roy, Wellsboro, Pa. Jan. 24, 1866.

WHAT THE ILLUSTRIOUS ABER NETHY SAID.—"Well, sir what's the matter?" said Abernethy, the great English sur geon, to a cadaverous-looking patient, who had called to consult him. "Oh, nothing serious," was the reply, "my stomach and liver are out of order, that's all., "Do you call that nothing serious?" said Abernethy; "I tell you, sir, that when these two organs are out of order, as you call it, there's not a square inch of the body that is not more or less diseased, nor a drop of blood in it that is in a healthful condition." Nothing can be more true therefore it is of the wore that can be more true, therefore it is of the very high widow Palmer and Samuel Wariner and west by lands formerly of Samuel Wariner,—containing about 83 acres, about 50 acres improved, a frame house, frame barn and apple orchard thereon;
