ive speeches we ever listened to, and was greeted with frequent and enthusiastic applause. He has few equals in fluency and elecution among political speakers, and his illustrations are most pointed and happy. The room was entirely too small to accommodate the audience. The general regret was that the meeting was not convened at the Court House. If possible, the Doctor's service ces will be seeured for a canvass of the county during the campaign.

"MELANCHOLY SUICIDE. Mr. Lafayette Gray, of Sullivan, writes us under date of June 2, as follows:

"A deep gloom was cast over our little community last evening by the unwelcome news that Mr. Philander Webster, of this place, had met death by his own hand. He was missed at about 7 o'clock; and upon search being made he was found aanging by a small rope from a rafter in his barn. When discovered it was apparent that he had been dead for some hours. No cause was assigned for the commission of the deed, and it was not observed by any one of the family that he was not of usual health and spirits that he was out of usual health and spirits. "Coroner Peters held an inquest upon the body and a verdict in accordance with the facts was rendered. Mr. Webster leave an aged father and three children, together with a large circle of friends to regret his untimely death."

PARLOR CONCERT.-Mr. P. P. BLISS, the celebrated vocalist and composer, gave a most delightful concert in the M. E. Church last To see is to be "convinced," and to look will cost Friday evening. The entertainment was shorn of half of its interest by the indisposition of Mrs. Bliss, one of the sweetest singers in the country, However, the half which remained was fully worth all that was charged for it. Mr. Bliss has a voice of singular power and sweetness, and under perfect control. His bass solos tested his gifts thoroughly. He passes from octave to octave with great case. The audience was not large, but appreciative; and if he will again favor us with his presence, with timely notice, the audience can be trebled.
