Mr. Nasby with the Presidential Party. P. O. CONFEDRIT X ROADS,

I am at home, and glad am I that I am at home. Here in Kentucky, surrounded by Demokrats, immersed a part of the time in my offishal duties, and a balance of the time in whisky, with the privilege of wallopin niggers and the more inestimable and soothin privilege of assistin in möbbin of Northern Ab-State, time passes pleasantly and leaves no vain regrets. I alluz go to bed nites feelin that the day has not been wasted.

The President brisked up, and from this to Indianapolis he spoke with a fluther nation's wards. The Bureau is their idity I never observed in him before. I guardian.

It showed him that the people was with him in his efforts to close his eyes on a Union of 36 by States and Union of 36 by States and Union of 36 by States and a successor was found, in the person of a respectable old citizen, who yielded to the seductive influence of anticipated gain.

Now it happened that the same evening in which these arrangements were completed, there was a Republican mass States and a flag of 36 stars onto it. Ah well, my good Pharisees, you did not do that, by quite a "ang shot."—You can crawl out of your holes now, however, and sun yourselves. Nobody will hurt you. You still live—though your presence strongly suggests Denmark. But in the meantime things have changed; and the end is not yet. Men may scoff; but there is a time com-ing when manhood shall not depend upon complexion. Eternal justice cannot forever slumber.

Almost every town of note through-out the entire Union is being furnished with an apt illustration of the career of the scriptural Esau, who bartered away his birthright for a mess of pottage.— Postmasters, tax Collectors and Asses-sors are fast being beheaded to give place to the weak-minded, mercenary seekers of governmental patronage, who purchase their temporary gain by abjuring the doctrines of freedom and truth, which they have hitherto professed to hold sacred, and pledging themselves, heart and soul, to the treacherous doctrines of the faithless Andrew.

The position in which some of these modern Esaus are placed, is truly ridiculous; heartily despised by their form-er political and social friends, and their consciences tortured by an occasional reviving spark of manhood, their only consolation is in the contemplation of the scanty and fleeting "mess of pot-tage" for which they sold themselves, and which must soon pass into the hands of more trustworthy men. Here is an instance in the experience of one of these pitiable outcasts. Andrew's guil-lotine had reached Lancaster city, and off went the head of the worthy Postmaster. For a time the office went begging; but a search warrant process was instituted, and a successor was found, in completed, there was a Republican mass meeting in the city, and the worthy citizen's wife, true to the supposed princi-ples of her liege lord, illuminated her dwelling from garret to cellar.

The Johnsonians saw it, and on the morrow the poor old citizen was interrogated as to its meaning. He replied that he was busy in the back part of the house, and knew nothing of the matter until too late to prevent it. Days passed on, the old gentleman grew exceedingly nervous and irritable, and finally, in a fit of despair caused by the stingings of this mark of confidence. If he ever had any doubts as to the people's being with him these doubts was removed.—

He would leave in their hands the flag and the Union of 36 States and the stars thereto appertaining. If he was a Judas Iskariot who was—
