A LADY FALLS INTO A CAVERN.-A subscriber living in the neighborhood of Taylorsville has given us the particulars of an accident which promised to be unfortunate in its results, but in which the victim was providentially saved. It seems that there was a meeting in progress at a church near Taylorisville, and the lady in question, to-gether with a male friend, was on her to attend it. The couple were walking leisurely on the road, when to the horror and dismay of the gentlemen, the hlady, Miss Ellen Sorey, sudeenly dissappeared in the earth. Recovering as quickly as possible from his surprise, the gentleman commenced a search for missing companion, and hearing sounds which seemed to come from the bowels of the earth, he soon discovered she had fallen into a cavern, which after wards turned out to be about eighty feet deep. Assistance was rendered by persons living in the vicinity as quickly as possible by letting down bedcords into the hole, and after much labor the lady was hauled up, to the gratification of her friends, very little injured. The carven in which Miss Sore fell is a fearful place, being about three leet in circum ference at is mouth, and eighty set deep. Fortunately she got on a leage before reaching the bottom, and was thereof saved.—Lebanon Tennesses Hre-

A SPECULATING FRENCHMAN. - A most daring fraud has been brought to light through the activity of the Lon-don police. It appears that a French-man, whose life was insured for the sum of 100,000 frames, wished to realize the amount, and in order to do so he assumed a false name, went to London, concocted a medical certificate of his death, ordered a coffin, and, after causing a solemn funeral service to be celebrated in a Roman Catholic chapel, followed it to the grave in the cemetery at Leytonstone. Suspicion was afterward excited, and measures having been taken to exhume the body, the coffin was found to be filled with shavings and stones. In the meanwhile the French man was in America, but, returning to Antwerp, was arrested by the Belgian authorities, and handed over to his own government. He now awaits his trial on the twofold charge of fraudulent bankruptcy and of attempting to de-fraud the Paris insurance company.

UNPROFITABLE LITIGATION.-The moned for the trial of the case, which seems to be interminable. The only question involved is the title of a little piece of land in the town of Newstead. the value of which is not more than $50 at the utmost. Each party claims to have the see simple, and the land has been surveyed and resurveyed by a doz-en civil engineers, no two of them arriving at the same conclusions. Altogether it is said the costs of the litigation amount to over two thousand dollars but both parties are determined to fight it out on this line, if it takes torever.— The action was begun in 1859, and has thus already extended over seven years.

STRANGE DEATH IN THE OHIO PEN-ITENTIABY.—A few nights since at the Ohio Penitentiary, after the prisoners were locked in their cells, one of the convicts died very suddenly and in a strange mannet. The guard saw him rise suddenly in his cot, sit for a moment upright, and then, as blood gushed from his nose and mouth, saw him sink back again to the reclining posture. He apparently died in a very few minutes strangling to death. Examination afterwards developed the presence of a tumor, which, by the destruction of blood vessels, had caused his death.

AN ECCENTRIC TRAVELER .-- A man from Kansas, fifty-five years old, arrived at Mobile, Alabama, in a small skiff last week, after a trip down the river of one thousand eight hundred miles. Soon after reaching there he fell into the river by accident, and was rescued by the police, who, finding that he was chilly, took him to the hospital.— The skiff contained ordinary cooking utensils, a rifle, shot gun, pistol, and also a little dog, a special favorite, who was found innocently curled up at the bottom of the boat, quietly awaiting the return of his master.

In thirty-six years, the of rate taxaation in the city and county of New abitant. In 1830 the city was govand for half a million of dollars. In the entire government of the island, ading assessments on private property for public improvements, cost more than forty millions of dollars. In 1839, the pagulation of the city was a little more then 200,000. It is now about 1,000,000. Thus, while the population of the county is five times greater than it was in 1830, the cost of governing is sixteen times

NORTH CAROLINA .- The North Carolina election seems to have gonesweep-ingly in favor of the rebel ticket. Worth is doubtless chosen Governor. The re turns from the Western counties will of course show a heavy poll for Dockery, but not sufficiently large to ballance the ows in this land only equaled the numalmost unanimous vote which Worth | ber widowed and orphaned by Slavery has received in the center and along the seaboard. Vance who was not a candidate, obtained a few votes. The Legislature will be rebel, according to present indications.

THERE are three bills before the Vermont Senate relating to marriage. The tendency of them is to reduce marriage to a limited partenership, each party putting in as much capital as seems best, at the partenership to be dissolved upon very small provocation.

CIRCULATION 1,650.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 7, 1866.

With MALICE toward none, with CHARITY for ALL, with firmness in the RIGHT let us strive to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and orphans, and to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.—A. Lincoln—March 4, 1865.

Gen. GEARY'S official majority is 17,178. The Tribune put it at 17,000 the next morning after the election .-That is pretty good estimating.

"It was not a hard matter to do one's duty as a voter this fail," said a man to us the other day. "We had only," continued he, " to see to it that we did not vote as the rebels wanted us to vote, and the thing was did."

A man is nothing unless he be honest, and a nation is nothing unless it be ust* ·

As no greater calamity could befall a man, than that he should awake each morning forgetful of the experience of the previous day, so no greater evil can befall a nation than that it should fail to be taught by experience.

If there be a man in this republic nitied.

The awful test of civil war is some thing more than that. It was God's method of teaching the race. It was His voice, heard in the thunder of battle, and in the lamentations of mothers, widows, and orphans.

It matters little whether we hold that punishment is temporal and temporary, or spiritual and eternal. It is the certainty, not the nature and severity, of punishment, which appals the the election. Had we seen it, there hearts of evil-doers.

Indisputably, nations are punished mational distinctions in the world to come. When nations ignore the plainest precepts of right, and fail to do juson the road to calamity as certainly at the thief is treading the path to the Penitenitiary.

This nation was guilty of a great crime. It had ignored the rights of an entire race for three-quarters of a century. It had enslaved, robbed, maltreated, and debased millions, and fi- ard. nally through the greed of party, had declared that this enslaving, robbing, maltreating, debasing, and buying and

> And by these almost imperceptible tion found it out in the four years of when Gen. Grant, under date of Sepwar, which closed in one respect, yet did not close in all respects, in April, bis sword, as follows: 1865. That war was the legitimate fruit of wilful and persistent wrong-doing. The wound was deep and painful, and the scars will remain as warnings to us and to those who come after us.

Happy will it be for us all if we heed its warning. Injustice is a two-edged sword, but its most terrible wound are by reaction. The victim of wrong is less to be pitied than its worker. be oppressed than to be the oppressor. Better suffer injustice than do it. Better die with the mumerically weak than live as the oppressor of the weak and helpless. There was a system, called Divine, which forbade men to read the Bible; which was shouldered upon the Almighty, and still, by law, set aside the marriage relation, established concubinage, and invited, nay, offered a large premium for adultery. This was the system of African Slavery.

Sodom and Gomorrah, it is said, were plucked up, root and branch, for lesser excesses. We fostered this awful curse as a nation, and some of us said it was ordained of God; more of us declared that the curse ought not to spread, but agreed that it might blister the South constitutionally; while a few, we called them fanatics, and stoned them-declared what we to-day declare, that such a crime could not have a constitutional existence anywhere.

Because, crime cannot be whitewash ed by legislatures or conventions.-Try it, if you please, but fall as often as you try. Then came the war, and the evil was swept away. This was divine logic. No sophistry in the awful wording of that syllogism. "

Now if it could be proved that the blood spilled in this great war, was in gallons, just equal to that which had trickled from the colored race under the whip; and if it could be proved that the number of white orphans and widand if it could be proved that the billions of treason expended to carry. on this war on equaled the aggregate sum robbed from the negro in the century which closed with the Proclamation of Emancipation-if this could be way of the transgressor is hard.

proved, what then? What then! We leave this with you reader, to think over. We have thought of it, long and seriously and shall not forget the lesson.

During the war a class of politicians dissuaded people from investing their surplus moneys in United States securities, assuring them that real estate was preferable. In the late capipaign these same politicians tried to make capital out of the fact that certain U.S. securities were exempt from taxation, and the poor.

It was bad enough to embarass the Government in its struggle for life; but when men lacked forethought to discover the source of all values, wreak their spite upon men and women who came forward with their hard earnings to the support of the Government, the quality of their loyalty would seem to smell to the skies.

We are not aware that the name of Brick Pomeroy," the editor of a Wisconsin Copperhead sheet, ever before of Ahram Prutsman, and Bingham han soiled these columns. We mention it now, first and last, that we may reprove some of our cotemporaries who quote him largely to show the animus of Edward C. DePui and Melvin C. Nichols. of the Copperhead party. Bad as our sheet, too big a liar to have influence and too abandoned to be mentioned save in the annals of crime. We beg of Dr. PRATT, of the Corning Journal, to mention the dirty scoundrel no more.

If there is a law to reach William A. Wállace, Chairman of the Copperhead who regards the great struggle of the re- State Committee, let its strong arm be bellion as the result of a disagreement extended at once. This fellow issued a between political parties, he is to be private circular to the Chairmen of Copperhead County Committees in this State, in which he urged the open and forcible corruption of the ballot-box by his mercenaries. He says:

> "Where we have the President Judge, the District Attorney, and reliable juries, the case is a very plain one. The votes (of deserters) must be polled, and you must threaten the Republican officers and fulfil your threats."

Now we regret that this circular never came to our notice until the day after should not have been a skedaddler's or deserter's vote polled in Tioga county, for their crimes. They are punished in if we could have prevented it. Here is this world, too; for there will be no a direct order from William A. Wallace to his agents in the State, to threaten Republican election boards, which is a penal offence, and to fulfil their threats. tice to all their constituents, they are We ask Col. What is this but the protest of common humanity against abuse of the defenceless, or the weaker party?

Now what is he who makes occasion to abuse the colored race, to detract from their true worth as components of the Deity. It is better to say that the race? Is it worse to kick a colored man or a dog?

The abuse of the colored people is called "prejudice." We object to that as a serious misnomer. It proceeds from seek to deepen the degrada-e negro race.

I want every man to vote according to his own judgment, without influence from me.

> "General Grant is with us, sir! There is not the slightest doubt about it! No question at all about it, sir!" Such was the burden of the song of Copperjohnson-Clymer orators in this county during the late campaign. But the editor of the New York Evening Post publishes the following wetblanket note editorially:

"The country holds with General Grant, who said in our hearing not long ago: 'The rebels we whipped, as it was our duty to do. They fought us bravely, and for one I have no spite against them. If they behave themselves, I shall think well of them; but the Copperheads and peace men in the North-the men who, during the eviled the soldiers, encouraged the enemy, and did their utmost to stop supplies and reinforce ments to our boys in the front—such men I can't forgive. I will never forget them, or have anything to do with them." If none of our fellow citizens of the Conneriohnson persuasion have received a letter from Grant since the conversation above alluded to, we submit that this is good authority.

The Catholic Church has decided that there can be no distinction in race and color in the folds of the Mother Church. We may now conclude that the gates of Heaven are not closed against the African race. We never doubted their "title clear to mansions in the skies," but it is well enough to have the question taken up by a powerful church and pronounced upon. We are not aware that any churches, as such, deny the title of the negro to immortal existence. But the members of churches are not quick to show that they believe in equality of privilege beyond the grave.
