

Husk Mattresses.
Our rural friends are too hospitable, when we visit them they treat us during the day with the greatest kindness, but they are often cruel to us at night, and must always consign us to a feather bed in the smothering depressions of which we pass a sleepless night. That a feather bed is a fitting thing to sleep upon, is an idea rapidly disappearing, we are happy to say; yet in many communities feather still prevail, and they are looked upon as silk dresses are, in some measure an index of the wealth, or competence of the owner. It is quite time that all this was changed, and comfort and health consulted, rather than show. We say comfort, for no one after having slept for a few weeks on a hard bed, would willingly return to feathers. Curled hair makes the very best mattress, but is expensive; the next best thing is corn husks, a cheap material, and accessible to all. The inner husks, or stalks, as they are called in some places, allowed to curl up a little, are often used without any preparation. A softer bed is made by slitting the husks in strips, half an inch or so in width; a fork may be used to facilitate stripping. The best husk-bed we ever saw was made from the husks of green corn, shredded by drawing through a flax hatchel. Husk-beds should be opened about once in six months, the husks shaken out from the fine particles and dust, and sprinkled, and allowed to lay in the sun for a while. Treated in this way the husks will be almost as good as new. We give this timely hint, in order that at husking time, those who would enjoy the luxury of a husk-bed may take measures to secure the necessary material.—American Agriculturist.

A FAMILY MAN.—Men are about the same in all ages, as will be seen by the following passage from Socrates, written long ago: "Whenever you see a man whom you know but little about, oddly dressed, or talking ridiculously, or exhibiting any eccentricity of manner, you may feel tolerable sure that he is not a married man; for the little corners are rounded off, the little shoots are pruned away in a married man. Women generally have much more sense than their husbands, especially when the husbands are clever men. The wife's advice are like the ballast that keep the ship steady. They are like the wholesome though painful shears nipping off the little growth of self conceit."

"Sally Mander safe!" Said Mrs. Partington, as her eyes fell on an advertisement. "Do tell me, Isaac, who this Sally Mander is, and what the capital will be doing that we've got her safe."
"I don't know what she's been doing," said Ike; "but I guess she's a sister to Jerry."
"Jerry who, Isaac?"
"Why, Jerry Mander," said Ike, as he resumed his work by the window catching flies.

To be a woman of fashion is one of the easiest things in the world. A late writer thus describes it. Buy everything you don't want, and pay for nothing you get; smile on all mankind but your husband; be happy everywhere but at home; neglect your children and nurse lap dogs; go to church every time you get a new dress.

A CALL.—It is related that the clerk of a rural church in England, recently made the following announcement to the congregation: "You are desired to attend a meeting in the vestry, at four o'clock, to consider on the means of 'enting the church, and to digest other matters."

A weak mind does not accumulate force enough to hurt itself; stupidity often saves a man from going mad.

LATEST FASHIONS DEMAND J. W. BRADLEY'S CELEBRATED PATENT DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE SPRING) SKIRT.
The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the "Duplex Elliptic Skirt," will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when on use to occupy small space as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinolines, not found in any single spring skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic and spring skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, Misses and young ladies they are superior to all others. They will not bend or break like the single spring, but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered; preventing them from wearing out when dragging down steps, stairs, &c.

The duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies, and is universally recommended by the fashion world, as the standard skirt of the fashionable world. To enjoy the following incalculable advantages in crinolines, viz: superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic or double spring skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION.—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that skirts offered as "duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Skirt Springs," upon the waistband—these others are genuine. Also notice that every hoop will admit a pin being passed through the center of the hoop, and that two (or double) springs braided together within, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other skirt.

For sale in all stores where first class skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere. Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent, WEST, BRADLEY & GARY, 6617, 6th St. Chambers & 79 & 81 Roade St., N. Y.

All who have any interest in war claims, will find it to their advantage to read the following acts of Congress which have recently become law:

Sec. 1. That an act of June 6, 1865, provides for all soldiers or sailors who have lost the right of both eyes, or both hands, or lost a limb, or sustained attendance, the sum of $25.
Sec. 2. To those who have lost both feet, or are totally disabled in the same as to require constant attendance, the sum of $20.
