That each to the other said. We stood by the river, my friend and I, The summer was scarcely past; But a change had come over earth and sky Since we saw the river last. A few of the roses had died away, A song-bird or two was hushed;

But the earth looked mournful that August day, For our hearts were dry and crushed. We left the still giver, my friend and I, We saw it never again;

And years, bearing changes to brow and eye, Have died away since then. Oh, steadfast, my friend, with the carnest eyes, My friend, with the brow serene.

O'er the vanished past we may mingle sights, Spite of weary miles between. It will not be long, for my eyes are dim,

Thy raven hair must be white; We shall meet once more by a river's brim-Death's river, dear, will not fright. A stranger will mark with a carcless eve Two graves in the church-yard sod, While we stand by the river, my friend and I,

A Litigious Man.

That glads the city of God.

Some men are never satisfied unless they are engaged in litigation. One of this kind had purchased a small summer residence in the vicinity of New York. The stable of his neighbor was built close up to the line which divided the two places; and one of its window shutters opened over the newly-purchased premises of our litigious gentlemen Being advised by his lawyer that he had a right to do so, he at once demanded this window shufter should not open outwards. The neighbor was a simple minded and law-detesting German, and readily consented to change the swing of the shutter. The proximity of the stable, however, was a constant source of irritations. Shortly after obtaining the concession referred to, our friend came into the office of his 'professional adviser in a state of agitation:
"I have got him certain, now!"

'Got whom?" asked our lawyer. "Why, that German neighbor o mine.",
"How?"

"This morning I was standing upon my piazza and I saw a goat looking out of the stable window; and, what do you think, sir, its head was seven inches and a half over the line! I can testify to this, and so can my gardener, whom I called to witness it. "Well," responded the lawyer, "and what of that?"

"What of that " almost screamed, the client.. "Do you think I am going to stand a circumstance like this? It is a trespass, sir, and I want a suit brought at once!" "Do you," remarked the legal gentleman, "really mean to have a suit com-menced for so trifling a matter?" . "Do you call this trifling? Look here, Mr. ---, you consider me, I believe, a pertty good client. My law business is of value in the course of a year, is it not?"

"Well, then, sir, I mean to have this suit brought. No man can be safe in this enjoyment of his property if he large, in quality as good, and as cheep in price tamely submits to such an outrage.— Now, sir, you may bring this suit or not. If you decline, I can find another lawyer who will act for me; and remember, I want no Justice's Court—I'll have the trial in the Supreme Court of the State of New York—I'll run the risk of costs."

"As you seem determined, I will bring the action; but remember, you must get some other counsel to try it." This suit was brought, and the owner of this goat and its neck, not knowing but what the summons served on him involved almost his own neck, employed competent counsel, who happened to be an intimate friend of the plaintiff's lawyer. After a time, and while the client of the latter was reveling in more important matters of litigation, the de fendant's counsel managed to get a discontinuance, without costs.

MAKE IT FOR LIFE.—During the present term of the Howard County (Ind.) Court, a man charged with grand larceny-gave satisfactory evidence that he was unable to employ council, and Judge Brouse appointed H. H. Bennett, Esq., of Kokomo, to defend him. Bennett, after spending some time in consultation with his client and in the examination of the case, found that the guilt of the accused would be clearly made out, and persuaded him to plead guilty to petit larceny. The court re-fusing to accept his plea, Bennett arose and said:

"Well, I reckon we can plead guilty to grand larceny:"
"Yes," replied the Judge.

"Then we plead guilty to grand lar-ceny," said Bennett.
"This being the case," said the Judge, "it remains only for the Court to fix the penalty; and we will fine you five dollars, sentence you to the State Prison for two years, and disfranchise you for

"Make it for life, your Honor," said Bennett, looking at the Judge over the top of his spectacles," the prisquer's a Democrat. This brought down the whole bar, and shook the gravity of the Court to such an extent, that the completion of the sentence was much delayed.

JOSH BILLINGS LYNCH PINS .- Aim hi if yau strike low. The man who undertakes tew jump three hundred and seventy-five feet will make a pretty good try.

I never knu a man who was always anxious tew repent of his sins before he had committed them who didn't want the sharpest kind of watching. I never bet enny stamps on the man who is always telling what he would did if he had been than. I have noticed that this kind never got thar. Faith don't appear to me tew be ennything more than tip top gdod sense; and the faith there is in this world now won't keep a man from falling in the bottom of a well, if he lets go uv the curb to spit on his hands.

When I get to not having any good luck, it it does seem to me that I kan have more of it than enny knew and not half try, I suppose it seems jist so to you, my riend, doesn't it? I kan't think uv enny talent now that iz so apt to descend from father to sun untarnished as the gift, of exaggeration. A man may have a perfect right to be born single, but I dought whether he has a right to continue so. "MY BOY DRUNK."-"Drunk! my boy drunk!" and tears started to the mother's eyes, and she bent her head in unutterable sorrow. In that moment the visions of a useful and honorable career were destroyed, and one of worthlessness if not absolute dishonor, pre sented itself. Well did she know intenderance walks hand in had with shame, and death, and his mother's cent was pierced as with a sharp point a steel. Ah! young man, if the holy is ling of love for her who hore you is not dead within you, shun that which care you are the state of that which gives her pain—adhere to that which gives her jdy. If she is with her Father in heaven, shun that course of life which shuts the gates of heaven against you, and debars you from her society forever. The drunkard can never inherit the kingdom of God.

The proprietor of a cotton factory put his notice on his gate: "No cigars or good-looking men admitted." In explanation he said: "The said of the said of nation he said: "The one will set a among my cotton, and the other among my girls. I won't admit such denogenests things into the denogenests the such denogenests things into the such denogenests the such denomination of the such denogenests the such deno dangerous things intomy establishment. The risk is too great."

The wonderful flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt, will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, operas, carriages, railroad cars, church pows, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as stilk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring skirt.

A lady haying enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, Misses and young ladies they are superior to aff others.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all indies, and is universally recommended by the fashion magazines, as the standard skirt of the fashionable world.

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz: superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and fluish; flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, inquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, or double spring skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

OAUTION.—To guard against imposition, be particutic, or double spring skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

OAUTION.—To guard against imposition, be particular to notice that skirts offered as "duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: "J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs," upon the waistband—none others are genuine. Also notice that every hoop will admit a pin being passed through the center, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strongth, and a combination not to be found in any other skirt.

For sale in all stores where first class skirts are sold

FANNING MILL, which possesses the following advantages over allother nills:

1. It separates oats, rat litter, and foul seeds, and these and cockle, from wheat.

2. It cleans flax seed, takes out yellow seed, and all other seeds, perfectly.

3, It cleans timothy seed.

4. It does all other separating required of a mill.

This mill is built of the best and most durable timer, in good style, and is sold cheap for cash, or pro-Lwill fit a patent slove, for separating cats from wheat, to other mills, on reasonable terms.
