The first trial of the elective indictory in Pennsylvania gave us a Democratic Supreme Court, and every chief justice since has been a Democrat. Black was a violent proislavery man. Ms Attorney Ceneral of the United States he advised Mr. Buchanan' that he had no power to employ force against rebels .-He wrote, it is alleged, President Johnson's veto of the reconstruction act; and we presume he holds with the dis tinguished counsel of Jefferson Davis that the amendment abolishing slavery is no part of the Constitution. Lewis presided at the Vallandigham meeting in Indopendence Square, which was presided over by gentlemen more than suspected of seession proclivities. Lowrieshared these views, and believed the draft and legal tender laws to be unconstitutional. Woodward, from his speech in Independence Square, in 1860, to the present time, has openly expressed similar doctrines. All of them believe the State bounty laws to be unconstitutional, and that the national banks are proper subjects for State legislation, a doctrine which would lead to their extinction by State authority; and they all were opposed to the war and the war measures_of the General Government and gave their hearty assent to the submissive Chicago platform, which, if carried out, would have dissolved the Un-

They were all opposed to the amendment abolishing slavery; to the amendment protecting the national debt against repudiation; and they approved the veto of the reconstruction act. These are fair representatives of the Democratic party and of a Democratic judiciary, advocating doctrines really subversive of the Union and distasteful to the loyal citizens of our Common-

We thus group these gentlemen and their principles and views, as representing those which must be subscribed to nee for a scat on the Supreme Bench.—Could any Union Republican vote for either of the above named gentlemen? If not, then we ask, how can be vote for any Democrat for Supreme Judge who must naturally entertain the same views, promulgate the same decisions, and engraft the Calhoun theory into the law of a loyal State like Pennsylvania? But it is argued the candidate may be man of great learning and ability. True, and so much the worse. All the chief justices were men of learning and great ability, but that only made their pernicious doctrines more dangerous, and their decisions more mischievous.

We must do something to strengthen the hands of Congress—show it that the people are ready to sustain their representatives and Senators to the uttermost. The indignation of the loyal masses at the usurpations and bad faith of the President is deep. But the President cannot be checked so effectually as by the defeat, of the Copperhead candidates in the fall elections .-If you desire to encourage a bad man to as compared with the last fall's majorid usurn all the powers of the Government, you can do it by sitting idly down and grumbling. Every Republican who neglects to vote right and promptly this fall says to Mr. Johnson "I am with you--go ahead."

We shall see who desires to encourage Andrew Johnson. If it be true, as stated, that Mr. Gorham, late Republican candidate for Governor in California, was identified with the State robbers who have infested that State from its birth, we rejoice in his defeat. For thieves we have no folded. Watch out for fraudulent tick- vote and no apology; and when justice overtakes them we have no regrets. It is said that the nomination of Mr. Fay by the protesting Republicans defeated Gorham and elected Mr. Haight, the Democratic nominee. In that case we join with the protesting Republicans in thanks for the defeat of Gorham, prefering an honest war Democrat though slightly tinctured with Johnsonism, to any Radical Republican who is even suspected of stealing. Haight, the succesful candidate, though nominated by the Democrats, was originally a Republican, and has a good war record. Still Mr. Haight is a Johnson man, like Seward and Randall, and may be counted on to sustain the Administration.

The American Cooking Stove. FTER twenty years experience in the man-A ufacture of stoves, we became convinced, tome six years since, that, a vast amount of money was being expended by the people of this country, in buying cheap and worthless stoyes, large portion of which was wasted; and that true economy consisted in buying the bast stoves that could be made, notwithstanding the price was higher. With this view we proceeded to construct the American Cooking Stove, and spared no pains or expense to make it the best and most perfect stove that could be made. And we have experimented with it, and carefully watched its operation for the last six years, and when an improvement suggested itself, we have at once adopted it, and we have several of these improvements secured by letters patent. this manner we do not hesitate to say, we have brought it to a higher state of perfection than has heretofore been attained in cooking stoves. The recent improvements in this stove has added largely to its convenience and effective ness. In all the varieties of stoves we manu facture, we study usefulness, durability, conve nience and economy in operation, rather than cheapness in price, and in so doing we are satis fied we study the interest of those purchasing our stoves.
