DARING OUTRAGE IN WILLIAM-SPORT.-A series of most during outrages were perpetrated in the upper part or the city on Monday evening last! For some weeks, a protracted meeting has been in progress at the Methodist Protestant Chapel, on Gilsons linve been converted to that faith, was quietly proceeding home from the meeting, when several men emerged from the vicinity of the groggery keld by Mrs. Kelly, on Gilmore street, and attacked Mr. Gilson with billies and .bludgeons... In the struggle he arose and was knocked down six times, and beaten in such a manner that he now lays in a critical condition, with little or no shope of his recovery. On the same evening, and while going from the same church, a Mr. Miller, accompanied by his wife, and her, sister, was attacked on Campbell street, not far very badly injured. The screams of the ladies finally alarmed the fellows rants have been issued for their arrest. - West Branch Bulletin, Nov. 16.

It is idle to contend that the general understanding of the mode of redeeming the 5-20 bonds was not that they were not the face value of gold. Every man who can claim reasonable intelligence knows that the general understanding was that these bonds were payable in gold. If the bond itself does not stipulate so much in terms, such was the underdenied it at the time the loan was in market, or subsequently. The nation wanted the use of its notes, and the only way to get it was to provide a way to fund them in evidences of debt bearing interest. At that time there was a great surplus of currency, owing to the increase of production and the temporary abolition of credit. This currency was in danger of being diverted from the channels which led direct to the the Government were likely to be emupon the market. The rapidity with which they were taken by the people is matter, as well as a wonder, of history. In spite of the public sneers of Copperhead leaders, and the private inuendoes of sneaks, all eager to destroy public credit, the parallel of this exhibition of patriotism has no existence in history. True, the bulk of the loan was taken by men and women who never inquired whether the bonds should be coin at maturity or not; but it soon came to be known in fluancial circles that such was the promise. STABBING AFFRAY.-A serious adlition to the excitement of an unusually exciting Court week was made on Monday week by an affray between two citizens of Belmar in which one of the parties, Mr. Goorge, English, stabbed and langerously wounded, Mr. Spencer Brown. Mr. Brown was working Mr. English's farm upon shares, and some dispute arose between them in adjusting their affairs. There was a clinch and some scuffling, closing by English drawing a knife and striking Brown in the right breast, in flicting an ugly wound. Dr. Webb was called in to examin the wounded man. The knife punctured the lung, and for several days the case was in doubt. We believe Mr. Brown is recovering
