W. D. TERBELL & CO., WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS, and dealers in Perfumery, Paints and Oils, &c., &c. Corning, N. Y., Jan. 1, 1866.-1y.

WILLIAM H. SMITH. ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW Insurance, Bounty and Ponsion Agency, Main Street Wellsboro, Pa., Jan. 1, 1860.

S. F. WILSON. WILSON & NILES, ATTORNEYS & COUNSELORS AT LAW,
(First door from Bigoney's, on the Avenue)—
Will attend to business entrusted to their care in the counties of Tioga and Potter. Wollsboro, Jan. 1, 1866.

B. ANGELL & CO., MANUFACTURERS of, and Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Doors, Sash, and Ellinds. Also Planing and Turning done to order. Knoxville, Tioga Co., Pa., Jan. 16. 1867-1y."

GEORGE WAGNER. TAILOR. Shop first door north of L. A. Senra's Shoe Shop. Cutting, Fitting, and Repairing done promptly and well. Wellshoro, Pa., Jan. 1, 1866 .- 1y

JOHN B. SHAKSPEARE, DRAPER AND TAILOR. Shop over John R. Bowen's Store. De Cutting, Fitting, and Repairing done promptly and in best style. Wellsboro, Pa., Jan. 1, 1866-1y

WM, GARRETSON, TTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW, Notify Public and Insurance Agent, Bloss-burg, Pa., over Caldwell's Store.

JOHN I. MITCHELL TTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW, Wellshoro, Tioga Co., Pa.
Claim Agent, Notary Public, and Insurance Agent. He will attend promptly to collection of Pensions, Back Pay and Bounty. As Notary

Public he takes acknowledgements of deeds, adginisters orths, and will act as Commissioner to ake testimony. Diffice over Roy's Drug Store, djoining Agitator Office. Oct. 30. 1367 IZAAK WALTON HOUSE, Gaines, Tiega County, Pa. ERMILYEA & REXFORD, PROPR'S. This is a new hotel located within easy access of the post fishing and hunting grounds in Northera Ponnsylvania. No pains will be spared the traveling public. [Jan. 1, 1866.] PETROLEUM HOUSE, WESTFIELD, PA., GEORGE CLOSE, Propri-eter. A new Hotel conducted on the principl of live and let live, for the accommodation of the public .- Nov. 14, 1866 .- 1 y. GEO. W. RYON, ATTORNEY & COUNSELOR AT LAW, Lawrenceville, Tioga Co., Pa. Bounty, Pension, and Insurance Agent. Collections promptly attended to. Office 2d door below Ford House. Dec. 12, 1866-1y R. E. OLNEY

DEALER in CLOCKS & JEWELRY, SILVER t PLATED WARE, Spectacles, Violin Strings, Watches and Jew-English and German. Hisept67-ly.

FARR'S HOTEL,

TIOUA, TIOOA COUNTY, PA. Good stabling, attached, and an attentive hos r always in attendance.

E. S. FARR, Proprietor. Hairdressing & Oheyling. doon over Willeox & Barker's Store, Wellsatting, Shampooing, Dyeing, etc. Braids, s, coils, and swiches on hand and made to or-

J. JOHNSON.

BACON, M. D., late of the 2d Pa. Cavalry, after mustly four years of army service, with a large J. meanly four years of army service, with a large meanly in field and hospital practice, has opened an about the practice of medicine and surgery, in all seathers. Persons from a distance can find good along at the Pennsylvania Hotel when desired, trist any part of tile State in consultation, or to trim angical operations. No 4, Union Block, up. ... Wellshore, Pa., May 2, 1866.—1y.

EW PIGTURE GALLERY .-

H.W. DORSEY.

FRANK SPENCER

the pleasure to inform the citizens of Tioga sty that he has completed his. NEW PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY, is on hand to take all kinds of Sun Pictures, a Ambrotypes, Ferrotypes, Vignettes, Cartes isite the Surprise and Euroka Pictures; also culticattention paid to copying and onlarg-Prefures. Instructions given in the Art on comble terms. Elmira St., Mansfield, Oct. 1, UTTENTION SOLDIERS. VM. B. SMITH, Knoxville, Tloga County, (U.S. licensed Agent, and Attorney there and their friends throughout all the SOLDIERS' CLAIMS AND DUES kinds. Also, any other kind of claim and the Government before any of the Dements or in Congress. Terms moderate, All munications sent to the above address will ree prompt attention. Jan. 17, 1866.

S. CLAIM AGENCY, For the Collection of

Army and Navy Claims and Pensions. THE NEW BOUNTY LAW, passed July 26, 1806, gives two and three pears' soldlers extra bounty. Send OFFICERS' EXTRA PAY.

tee months' extra pay proper to voluntee kere in service March 8, 1505. PENSIONS INCREASED all she have lost a limb and who have been perma-olly and totally disabled.

If other Government claims prosecuted.

JEROME B. NILES.

ellshoto, October 10, 1866-tf E. SMITH, M. D.

SURGEON. PERATES successfully for Cataract, Stra sismus, (cross eye) Removal of Tumors, icular attention paid to diseases of the Eye eneral Surgery. ultation at office free.

erences given to operations recently per hours from 12 M. to 3 P. M. eat his residence, Mansfield, Tioga County March 27, 1867-1y.*

NORMAN STRAIT. NT for the National Series of Standard School oks; published by A.S. Barnes & Co. 111 & 113 . corner of John Street, N. Y., keeps constantly ipply. All orders promptly filled. Call on or by mall. N. STRAIT.

la, l's., Jano 19, 1867-1v. C. B. KELLY, ENT for MARVIN & CO'S FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES.

leboro, September 25, 1867. J. G. PUTNAM.

ILL WRIGHT-Agent for all the best TURBINE WATER WHEELS. Also ate's Oscillating Movement for Gang and Zu. Pa., Aug. 7, 1867, 1y. Sounty and Pension Agency. 186, received definite instructions in regard to a stra boauty allowed by the act approved 1863, and having on hand a large supply of all Hanks, I am prepared to prosecute all pen-canty claims which may be placed in my reons living at a distance can communicate y letter, and their communications will be abswered. WM. H. SMITH.

o October 21, 1866. ALL BROOK COAL.—The undersigned the string make arrangements to furnish Coal between make arrangements to furnish Coal between the public.

Lead of the public of the public.

Lead of the public of the public.

Lead of the public of t

25. NOT CARE TO THE STATE OF THE PROPERTY OF

"The Agitation of Thought is the Beginning of Wisdom."

WELLSBORO, PA., DECEMBER 11, 1867.

Select Poetry. exer else with me they might choose; so

C. D. SILL, 地名 医海南斯斯 医 医细点 WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DEALER in all kinds of GROCERIES, PROVISIONS.

Wines, Liquors and

FOREIGN & DOMESTIC: GREEN &

 $[CA\ N\ NED\ | FR\ UITS\]AND$

VEGETABLES,

PERAMBULATORS, TOYS, &c., &c. A full and complete assortment of the above continued goods of the best quality always on rest to examine his Stock before buying. Corning, N. Y., March 27, 1867. SAVINGS BANK.

GROCERY AND PROVISION STORE.

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELOR AT LAW.
Having returned to this county with a view of making it his permanent residence, solicits a share of public patronage. All inspires on share of public patronagoi All business on-trusted to his care will be attended to with of high prices is being prosecuted with right and without reprieve. I can sell Sugars, Teas, Molasses, Fish, Pork, Flour, Corn Meal, Coffees, Canned Fruits, Spices, and everything intended for tamily use, giving the buyer the benefit

OF THE tall or me markets, an advantage cary approciated by everybody, excepting only those verdant who prefer PROMISING TO PAY one hun dred per cent profits to the seller, to PAYING twenty five per cent, each on delivery of the

> EVERY MONDAY, EVERY TUESDAY, EVERY WEDNESDAY,

EVERY THURSDAY, EVERY FRIDAY,

and fill up as fast as I sell out.

. L. A. GARDNER, Wellsboro, June 12, 1867.

W B have just received our new and very large stock of War to but district

SHEETINGS, SHIRTINGS, PRINTS, CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, VEST-INGS, READY MADE CLO-THING, HATS & CAPS

CROCKERY, HARDWARE, WOODEN WARE, STONE WARE, KERO-

SENE OIL, PAINTS & OILS, SUGARS, TEAS, COFFEES, SYRUPS, MOLASSES,

We are able to offer our gustomers the benefit

LAST DECLINE OF PRICES

in the New York Market, our Stock having bee purchased since the great decline in Goods. TOLES & BARKER.

A. B. EASTMAN, SURGICAL & MECHANICAL

DENTIST.

pared to execute all work pertaining to his profession with promptness and in a superior man-Teeth extracted without pain by the use of BELTING, NAWA. CHILDRY, lately improved Spray Producer. Chloroform and Ether administered when desired. All work warranted. Satisfaction guaranteed or no charges. July 3, 1807.

> THARKNESS & RILEY, BOOT AND SHOE MAKERS,

TERRA INCOGNITA. A little song has come to me,

A strain of sadness from over the sea; And I hear its music and fore it well, Though the heart that framed it I cannot tell.

A little picture comes to me, A dash of brightness from over the sea: There are clasping hands and a holy face-But the name of the artist who can trace? So I, in faith which comes to me, Believe in a land neross the sea,

In a grand perfection beyond my dream. O, land unknown! dit thee alone, Shall formless lyrics to shape be grown; In the all thapsody riseth true.

And the thoughts of beauty are ever new

Where my vaguest funcies stand supreme, ), land unknown! where all is best, In thee is my aspiration blest... For, I toul and tarry until I may, With my broken sentences, pass away.

Miscelluneous!

A GOOD STORY.

A SINGULAR AFFAIR. It is now more than thirty years (says a traveler) since I met with a very sin-gular adventure in the northern part of dexico. Thad left Chihuahua for the Rio Grande, having some Indian drivers and a Mexican guide. Near the close of the second day, just as we had fixed upon our camp, in a pleasant grove, near a running stream, a party of armed mon, six in number, suddenly made their appearance, coming from know not where, as I did not perceive them until they were close upon me.

They were all gaily drest in the fanoiful costume of the country, and five of them carried carbines, which they level eled at me as with the intention of shooting me down at once.

"Do you surrender senor?" demanded the sixth—the leader of the party who was armed with a brace of pistols and a stiletto. "Have I any choice?" said I. MDeath !"

Then, of course, I surrender." Throw down your arms, then, and permit yourself to be blindfolded at "May I ask what you intend to do with me, senor," said I, as I obeyed his order. You may ask, but I shall not tell Of course, I am in your hands and at your mercy; as I never harmed you or yours, I shall venture to hope you will not treat me harshly." I rejoined.

sign to his men, who advanced, gather ed up my weapons, and fixed a tight bandage over my eyes. Two of them took each an arm, and I was led away between them.

To the best of my judgment, we walked about half a mile, not a word being spoken. Then we began to descend some steps, and by the conferently some subterraneau place, perhaps a cave.— We went down for a comparatively long distance and then through what seemed to be a narrow passage, with sharp turns Then we went up a few steps, and down twice as many, and roon after appeared to enter a large apartment, where sev gral persons were assembled, chattering and laughing, but suddenly became Here I expected my bandage to be re moved, but it was not. I was still led forward into another parrow passage, and then into some room, the door of which opened with a harshly grating My sight being now restored to me, found myself in a small rocky cell, whose dimensions and contents I could which one of my two conductors held in his hand. The apartment was perlaps ten feet by six, and looked as if it had been hewed out, of solid rock. It a mile, and then put a heavy purse in the conductors held in his hand. She envied toothached rops, and looked as if it had been hewed out, of solid rock. It a mile, and then put a heavy purse in the received from her toothached. She tried toothached rops, and of cloves, she tried toothached rops. perceive by the light of an iron lamp had been hewed out of solid rock. It had an iron door, with a very small opening over the top, to admit air. It to leave you. Your horse's head is to-was daylight when I leftthefresh world ward Chibuahua. Do not touch your above, but there was no daylight here, bandage till you hear us whistle; then and the air was damp and floisome. A dirty matress stretched along the ground not behind you." on one side, and an earthen jug stood in one corner. These were all the room contained which had the appearance of I followed their directions, as I had tion in safety, and soon after left the i prisoner's cell. "Will you not tell me why I am here?" I said to the men, as they stood watching the expression of my features. "Because it is the wish of our chief," answered one with a grim smile.

"Have I done anything for which he wishes to punish me." "He had better answer that question

"Shall I see him soon?" "You may and you may not."
"What will become of my propertry,

"It will be taken good care of."
"May I hope it will be restored to me!"
"You may hope what you will." "Will you tell me nothing to solve the mystery in which I am involved?" "That is not our business here," said the spokesman, and then both turned to go out. "Oh, gentlemen!" exclaimed I, as horrible suspicion suddenly, flashed upon me, "pray assure me of one thing —I am not to be locked up here and left ostarve to death." "It is not for us to say," was 'the, reoly, as the heavy iron door was swung to and locked; leaving me in darkness, a prey to fear and despair.

For hours no one came near me; and not knowing what better to do, I stretched my weary self out on the mattress, and finally fell asleep. I was awakened by the creaking of the hinges of my iron door. I looked up, and could hardly believe my senses, when I beheld, by the light she held in her hand, a young, tall, beautiful lady, with black eyes and hair, very gaily and richly dressed; her soft, white tapering fingers kirly glittering with rings of great value. Behind her, like an evil genius, stood a wrinkled and ugly old woman, whose bleared eyes and hooked nose just came out of the shadow, over her shoulder, with a very unpleasant, if not startling effect. I immediately rose from my dirty couch and made my most polite how, which the younger female, after staring hard at me, in a very peculiar manner, for nearly half a minute, acknowledged by a very slight inclination of her head. "What is your name, age and country, senor?" she said, at length, speaking in the tone of one accustomed to com-am twenty-nine years of age, and I was born in the United States. Drer Wilson de Van Valkenburg's Store, in the including goods and animals ?"

about your person, and what things of value?"

I knew I might as well tell the truth, and the whole, as endeavor to conceal anything, for I was unquestionably in the hands of an organized body of brigthe hands of an organized body of brig- | tenses.

ands, who could search me, or do what- Mrs. Houghton's Cat, or Who Was the

I answered, without hesitation: "I have in money not far from a hundred dollars and a gold watch, worth a small party, at a late hour in the eveperhaps two hundred. These are all of ning. It was a very dark night-darkmy special value, my silver-mounted ness solid enough to cut, as somebody pistols and bowie knife having already has expressed it. Under the circumbeen given up." "Are you married or single?"
"I have a wife and two children."

"Where?" "In New Orleans." Do they depend upon you for sup port?"
"Entirely." "Have you other property besides your mule train?"

Only a little—worth, perhaps a few hundred dollars." Jones. 'I think you have given me honest and truthful answers," she said, look- with his eyes to peer through the darking me keenly in the eve. I have, indeed fair lady, and I hope he discerned an outline that lookedlike I may trust much to your kindness and the front of No. 62, which he occupied.

The latter stepped past her mistress litwas the residence of and placed a stone jug and loaf of bread ton, a dry goods merchant. on the ground at my feet. Then she advaliced to the corner and took away the couldn't read the name on the dooring already there. Both then turned plate. However he felt so confident he to go out, and I exclaimed pleadingly: was right, that he probably wouldn't Have mercy fair lady, and procure have done so if he could.

"What will you give for it?" she inquired.

ination.

the wicket.

you may prescribe."

It is well. Be ready in an hour.-

bery and parting present.

Mr. Grizzle's body."

fuil of eels?"

here is in him?"

im again."

"About a bushel."

"You don't say so."

you will have done with it."

"Well, then, I think you had better ou are as old as I am this minute."

'Not at all, friend Busby; and if you please, we will determine this question very soon. Just tell me what is the first

"Well, the first thing I recollect,"

A good story is told of a Glasgow merchant, who, on his death-bed, sent for a Kree church clergyman. Having some fears regarding his future pros-said Mr. Busby, "was hearing people say, "there goes old Ben. Russell."

hing you can recollect.'

children, swear!"

Adios.

But a very curious coincidence and "If necessary, everything I possess." unfortunately for Jones, as it proved, I will consider your proposition, she latch key fitted Mr. Houghton's replied, and then the heavy iron door. The door flew open, as if to its was again swung to and locked, and I lawful proprietor, and Jones, entirely was again left in darkness and solitude. undonscious that he was committing a was again left in darkness and solitude. Unconscious that he was committing a From that time, for a long period—a grave offence in the eye of the law, month, as I made it out, I saw no livestephed tranquilly inside. ing soul. There was a small door set in the larger, and once a day this was soul was in bed and asleep. I ought to probably stretched out in the dining- lay upon the forward deck and near ita opened, but being dark outside, and no except Mrs. Houghton, who had been room. But he didn't like to go down pool of blood. The Captain was tacilight being brought, I could see no one. kept awake by a severe toothache. A hand reached in a loaf of bread and Jones groped his way along until he length ceased to speak, and for the last coat and hung it up. His hat ditto.—three weeks said nothing. What I sufway into the dining-room opening out of the hall at the end, and light the fered in that time I-leave to the imag-One day the same lady I have described came and spoke to me through

gas. "I should think Mrs. Jones might have kept the hall burner lighted," he said to himself. "She knew I was go-"Are you still of the same mind, senor -willing to give all you possess for your | ing to stay out late. Confound it." This last exclamation was elicited by "Oh, yes, lady! yes! I will give all! a stumble over an article of furniture crockery, and on a chair, cold in death, all!! Oh, for the love of Heaven, set in the dining-room which he had already entered. Jones fell over it with contact, who had received the bullet intend-"Will you swear to follow my directions in every particular, and never ion on the knee, and a triffing pain in

"Yes, lady! by the most sacred oath "Its a regular man-trap," muttered Jones, picking himself up somewhat irritially. "What is it I have stumpled "Then, by the lives of your wife and irritably.

"I do; and by my hopes of Heaven?"
"You will be blindfolded and let out of your prison," she pursued, "but will not be left to go penniless. What you of feeling, the offending article was a have about your person you will be al- cradle. "A cradle in my house!" he exclaimlowed to keep, and you will be put upon the road to Chihuahua, mounted on a ed, "What can it mean?" Mr. Jones' youngest child was ten good horse, and furnished with a heavy take my advice, and leave the country, He made a stride forward—and unfor-"In every particular, kind lady, you shall be obeyed," said I, my heart wild-household, but not that in Mr. Jones'. Coming into violent collision with it,

She went away, and that hour seemmaking a hideous racket.
"Good gracious!" thought Jones, ed to me an age, as I hurriedly paced "Good gracious!" thought Jones, gle as he was being led along. He look-up and down my dark cell. Would she "what on earth induced Mrs. Jones to ed up piteously at his jailor, and every teep her promise? should I again be set the table over night in this particulation now and then tried to fawn about his lar occasion. She never has done so be-Thank heaven, she was true to her fore. I suppose I have destroyed ten or put a close bandage over my eyes, and led me away in silence, through long, narrow passages as before, and up to the world above. Oh! what a delightful ed cloves, she tried toothache. She tried toothache drops, and ed cloves, she tried toothache drops, and "But why, sir; are you his master?" ed cloves, she tried toothache drops, and "But why, sir; are you his master?" "But why, sir; are you his master?" "I am certainly his master, and he is my hand and mounted me upon a horse. Houghton, who lay in tranquil slumber "Now, then," said one, we are about unheeding her torments. unheeding her torments.

All at once she thought she heard the outer door open. Still she could hardly drowning is a hard death," remonstrat-believe it. 11 must be her imagination. ed my uncle. tear it off and ride for your life, looking | She thought, however, she would listen

No, she was not mistaken. She cer sworn to do, and reached my destina- tainly did hear a step in the hall. Mrs. Houghton began to be frighten

> She waited. Next came the sound of Jones, stumb ing over the cradle. Houghton, nervously. "Shall I wake Mr. Houghton? If I do, and he goes ikely shoot him. I'll wait a minute. She did wait a minute. and taken to the shore, whereupon Mr. Smith was dispatched to convey the in-telligence to the much afflicted widow.

"Well, Mrs. Grizzle, we have found drowsily; more than half asleep." "Wake up!"

ed Mrs. Houghton, in an energetic whis- greatest excitement of affection. I re-"Why, how many eels do you think per. "Inexe". "A what?" "There's a burglar in the house!" "A burglar! I heard him come in.-

He's making a tremendous noise below. send the cels up to the house and set Old Mr. Russell was fairly caught in he gets at the silver."

and use it," said his wife, her anxiety about the silver getting the better of her anxiety for her husband's safety. There was another crash, and a loud exclamation from Jones, as he stepped him in the face," and out of her basket on a dish that had thus far lay uninjura took a piece of meat, and the dog was ed and demolished it.

er cowardly by nature, and didn't at all ger burdensome. No one was suffered connected with this case. No rational relish a conflict with a burglar. How- to molest him, and his old age was account can be given of the body that ever, he put on his pants in a leisurely manner, greatly to Mrs. Houghton's disturbance.

Mr. Houghton didn't seem to be decided conviction that it was near the

"Here's your pistol." Mr. Houghton took the pistol with no great alacrity, and opening the door, began to descend the stairs. He heard sounds as of some one groping about, sel on Lake Champlain for a Canadian and that gave him courage. It seemed to indicate that the burglar had no "I hope he won't catch hold of me," thought, and his blood ran cold at the of Pike river, a small stream which thought. "He is probably some desper-empties into the lake on the east and ate rufffan. He slipped quietly to the foot of the stairs, and pulling the trigger, fired.

imputation, more especially as he had a fear, bounded up stairs four steps at a without stint or measure. The quarrel bound. Jones heard the report, and he too was astonished.

NO. 50.

thought. "Somebody has fired a pistol at me. Who screamed, I wonder?" Just then he stumbled across a card of vrong house.

raised. He soop reached his own house, and entered, saying nothing of his adventure.

The Houghtons did not sleep much. Mr. Houghton was convinced that he the night passed away. In the morn-had shot a burglar, and that he was ing. the hat of Andrew Weatherwax and look at him.
"Better wait till morning," he said.
"He may still be alive and might shoot recdless to say that neither he nor his wife slept much that night. With the first gliffmering of dawn, everything below being quiet, his courage returned, and supported by Mrs. Houghton, he descended to the diningroom

He opened the door nervously, but instead of seeing the dead burglar, only saw an overturned table, demolished ed for the midnight marauder.
"Could it be possible that Tom upset the table?" ejaculated Mrs. Hough

"I think it must be," said her husband be vildered. "And you shot him?"
"You told me to."

"Probably it was the cat," said Mr. Houghton, sareastically. seemed as if puss, were the only burg-lar, yet she had never heard that cats were in the habit of swearing. To this of having murdered his cousin. The day that night's adventure is a mystery warrant for his arrest was issued by S. to the bewildered pair. Of course Mr. D. M. Beckwith, then a justice of the Jones never revealed his complicity, Peace, and now a resident of Canton,

One of the most affecting stories I ever heard about a dog was told me many years ago by an uncle of mine who once lived in Paris. My uncle was Coming into violent collision with it, walking on one of the quays, when he the table was tipped over, and there was a man approach, holding a dog by a tremendous smashing of Crockery, a chain. The poor animal was fright oner was set at liberty. His counsel ened, and yet did not attempt to strugfeet, as if pleading with him.

"Poor beast, he might know, seemword. At the expiration of an hour lifteen dollars worth of crockery. It is ingly, what was going to happen to two persons entered my cell in the dark, Mrs. Jones' fault. I shall deduct it out him," said the man.

> The dog gave a low whine, and trembling, crouched close to his master. "He does not seem so very old, and

"Sir, he is quito useless." While he was speaking the words, the man unmoored a little boat, lifted the dog in, and rowed to the middle of the stream. When he came to where to Plattsburg, which for ten years he the water was deepest, my uncle saw hin lift up the dog suddenly, and

"What's wanted?" demanded he was trying to drown him. The dog off to his rescue and brought him, half drowned and wholly frightened, to the shore-his faithful dog barking, crying and licking his hand and lace in the member still the look with which my nian, embracing the dog, said hoarsely:

"No, sir; no, I was wrong; as long as I have a crust, I will give half to my

A woman who had a basket on he arm came up at the same time and said, "I should think you would, indeed, or else you dught to be ashumed to look d and demolished it.

"He's swearing," said Mrs. Houghand from that time, as long as my "He's swearing," said Mrs. Hough- and from that time, as long as my edness of his youngerdays have return-ton. "Oh, do go down quick, before uncle staid in Paris, he often saw Ponto ed to him. Friends cannot do enough on the quay, and the story of his generosity to his master made him so many friends that the dog's keep was no londered through their unjust condemnation. There is a still a mystery demnation. much in a hurry. In fact he was rath- friends that the dog's keep was no lon-

JOBBING DEPARTMENT. The Proprietors have stocked the establishment with large assoriment of modernatives

JOB AND CARD TYPE

AND FAST PRESSES, nd are prepared to execute neatly, and promptly

Posters, Handbills. Circulars. Cards. Bill

HEADS, LETTER HEADS, STATEMENTS, TOWNSHIP ORDERS, &c., &c. Deeds, Mortgages, Leases, and a full assortment of constables' and Instices' Blanks, constantly on hand. Peopleliving at a distance candepend on having their work done promptly, and sent back in return mail.

ROMANCE IN PLATTSBURG. In the latter part of June, in the year 1856, Capt. John G. Weatherwax, one port, taking with him as employees, his cousin, Andrew Weatherwax, and another boatman. On the return trip, they one morning put into the mouth just north of the Canada line, for the purpose of taking on a cargo of wood. stairs, and pulling the trigger, fired.

Orrioz-Roy'sblock,SecondFloor.

There was a piercing scream, such as it was hard to think could proceed from ed the Captain and his cousin violently quarreling. There were high and pas-sionate words, and threats employed and the angry feelings of the particular on, sermed this was at its hight near nightfall. At evening, while the witness stood alone at the stern, the Captain and his cousin resumed their quarmatches, and struck one against the rel near the bow, and for a long time wall. The light revealed to him the the noise of a wordy conflict and threats startling information that he was in the of violence continued to be heard by him. Finally, however, the quarrel "Good Gracious!" he exclaimed, the seemed to have been brought to a sud-light flashing upon him, "I've been den termination, and in a very singular ired at as a burglar. I must get out of manner. There came through the darkness to the ear of the listener the sound of a dull heavy thud, as of a powerful blow with some neavy weapon crushing through a skull, and then all was still. A few minutes more elapsed and the Captain came aft, but without his cousin. Nothing was said by him or the witness about the matter, and ing, the hat of Andrew Weatherwax turn and moody, and said nothing of his cousin; and the assistant being now he only occupant of the vessel with him, did not care to agitate the matter. It turned out afterwards, however, that the captain of a vessel lying near heard also the quarrel' and the blow, but like the near witness, of whose presence he was not aware, he preferred to say nothing about it; and the Captain, after a few more days had elasped, returned unmolested to Plattsburg, where, in an-swer to inquiries concerning his cousin, he gave only vague and what were conidered evasive replies, stating that he had gone here or there to some indefinite place, of which the Captain seemed > ter the quarrel and supposed murder-above related. The man had evidently been murdered, as hisskull was crushed in, as though a blow had been given him. The body was identified as beyond all doubt that of Andrew Weathon, sarcastically.

>
> Houghton was not sure. It occurrences upon the boat, and in ten N. Y. At the preliminary examination which insted nine days, the evidence was so strong and so conclusive against the prisoner, that Mr. Beckwith gives it as his opinion that if it had been given to a jury upon his trial, no earthly power could have saved from convietion and execution. But as-the trans-action had taken place in Canada, it was oner was set at liberty. His counsel advised him upon his release to leave the country, change his name, and live in the greatest possible obscurity, so firmly convinced was he, as well as the entire community, of his guilt. But the Captain boldly and resolutely refused to do this, claiming that he would yet be able to vindicate his entire innocence. After a time, however, the news reached the British authorities in Cannda, and in obedience to their requisition, Hon. Wm. L. Macy, then Secretary of State, issued a warrant for the Captain's arrest, and he was conveyed to Montreal, and closely confined in ail. Thither his faithful counsel followed him, and upon the trial managed to secure his acquittal by such means as are best known to skillful lawyers. Suffice it to say that there was not elicited-a particle of evidence to weaken the conviction of his guilt, and yet the Judge charged the jury that the evidence was not sufficient to convict. He was accordingly released and returned has walked among his neighbors, spurned and despised of all, bearing the brand of Cain and even abandoned by his own family relatives, because he

Early in the present month of October, Andrew Weatherwax appeared among his relatives in the southern part of the town of Plattsburg. When intelligence of his return was brought to those who participated in the scene of 1856 they refused to credit it. But he is nevertheless the veritable Andrew, and as such is received and recognized by his astonswam to him, and seized fast hold of his ished and delighted friends. The accost collar, held him up until a boat put frount which he gives of himself is, that on that July night, in '56, he left the some ying at the whart at Pike river, and vandered on to a rum shop somewhere in the neighboring settlements. Already partially intoxicated, and irritated by the events of the day, it did not take long for him to become embroiled with certain tipsy fellows he found there.-He says he was arrested, brought before a magistrate and fined. Not having the money to pay the fine, he was about to be placed in close confinement, when man stepped forward and offered to take him as a seaman, giving an ailvance of wages to pay the fine. Andrew accepted and was speedly shipped on an English vessel. He went as a common sailor to China, to Australia ind to various parts of the world in liflerent vessels. He returns now and learns for the first time of his supposed death by violence. Since the return of his cousing, Captain John G. Weatherwax is another man. The confidence, vigor and heartwas found and identified as that of Andrew Weatherwax. No other man was missing, no other stranger or settler, "I suppose you want him to shoot tering the car, an unlighted cigar in his River, to have suddenly disappeared."

VOL. XIV. BE CLOTHED:

TOSEPH INCHAM & SONS, two miles east WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS, and dealers in Wall Paper, Kerosene Lamps, Window Glass, Perfumery, Paints and Oils, &c., &c. FLANNELS, FULL CLOTHS, CASSI-MERES, DOESKINS, and can prophing to satisfy customered They diag ROLL-CARDING & CLOTH-DRESSING Twenty years experience in the business war rants them in expecting a generous patronage No shoddy cloths made.

Deerfield, June 12, 1867-46.

JOHN SUHR.

WOULD announce to the citizens of Wellshoopened a shop on the corner of Water and Craiton streets, for the purpose of manufacturing all

CABINET FURNITURE. REPAIRING AND TURNING DONE to order. COFFINS of all kinds furnished on short notice. All work done promptly and war ranted. Wellsbore, June 27, 1866.

HUGH YOUNG. Agent for the EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY THE UNITED STATES.

Insure your Life at a Home Agency. Wellsboro, April 17, 1867-16. J. B. MERRICK, SURGEON DENTIST, CHERRY FLATTS, TIOGA CO. PA.

PERATES with Chloroform, Ethor, and the celebrated Spray Producer. June 19, 1867-6m.

UNION HOTEL.

MINER WATKINS, PROPRIETOR. AVING fitted up a new hotel building on the site of the old Union Hotel, lately destroyed by fire, am new ready to receive and entertain guests. The Union Hotel was intended for a Temperance House, and the Proprietor believes it can be sustained without grog. An attentive hostler in attendance.

Wellsboro, June 26, 1867.

AVING leased for a term of years the popular and well known flotel stand lately occupied by A.M. inviett. I am prepared to furnish the traveling and local public with the best accommodations to be procured in the country. A good hoster always in artendance. Teams furnished to fishing parties.

Wellabore June 26, 1867. John W. Guernsey,

WILLIAM TOWNSEND, PROPRIETOR.

TOWNSEND HOUSE, And a second promptness and fidelity. Office 2d door south of E. S. Farr's hotel. Tioga, Tioga Co., Pa. E! R. KIMBALL, GROCERY AND RESTAURANT,

One door above the Meal Market, ...

BESPECTFULLY annunces to the cading public that he has a desirable stock of the ceries, comprising, Tens, Coffees, spaces. Sugars. Molasses, Syrups, and all that constitutes a firsty class stock. Oystem in every style at all soi Wellsboro, Jan. 2, 1867-tf.

WELLSBOKO, PENNIA

THE PLACE TO BUY DRUGS. T the Lawrenceville Drug State, where gold will find every thing properly belonging to the Drug Trade CHEAP, CHEAPER, CHEAPEST, and of the best quality for Cash. Also, Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Lamps, Fancy Notions. Violin Strings, Fishing Tackle, Window Glass, &c. Cash paid for Flax Seed. Lawrenceville, May 8, 1867.

B. B. BORDEN.

TIOGA, PA.,HAS just returned from the City with a large and desirable stock of goods consisting of DRUGS AND MEDICINES, Yankee Notions, of every description, Glass and Stuffs, School Books, Groceius, and finally every thing that is ever kept in a long and Motion Store. I would also call the attention of the public to our Stock of GERNAN LAWIS; unequaled in the wide world, and also that I am Agent for the "Morton" Gold Pen, and shall ul-ays keep a large assortment. Tioga, May 8, 1867-16. B. B. BORDEN. Glen's Falls Insurance Company, GLEN'S FALLS, N. Y.

Capital and Surplus $373,637,66. FARM RISKS, only, takets No Premium Notes required . It is LIBERAL. It pays damages by Light ting, whether Fire cusues or rot.

It pays for live stock tilled by hightning, in burns or in the field. Its rates are lower than other Companies of equal responsibility. I " PRITE, Agent,

Farmington Centre, Troga Co. Pa. May 29, 1867-15 $-\mathbf{J}_{\cdot i}$ H. RANDALL SURGICAL AND MECHANICAL

DENTIST. OFFICE at his residence on Wellsboro street, Tioga, where he may be tound from the let until the 12th, and trom the 19th until the 25th of each month. Will be in libershing at the United States Hotel, trops the 13th until the 18th, and in Lawrencoville at Slosson's Hotel from the 26th until the last day of each month. All operations connected with the dental profession, whether surgical or mechanical, will feccive especial attention. Having an improved liquid and apparatus for conumbing the gums, he is prepared to extract the patient, yet no sinjefaction, drowsiness of nausea, follows the operation. Ether or Chloro-form will be administered if advisable when de-Artificial Teeth of the kinds in erled in the most substantial and for another money. Call and see specimous of mochanical dentistry. Tioga, Pa., May 1, 1867, teeth without pain, and in a manner harmless to

DIALERS IN HARDWARE, IRON, STEEL NAILS, STOVES, TINAVARE

WATER LIME,

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS.

WALRER & LATHROP.

Carriage and Harness Trimmings. HARNESSES, SADDLES, &c. Corning, N. Y , Jan 2, 1867-1v

Grocery and Provision Store.

CORNING, N. Y.

Cigars,

DRIED FRUITS.

WOOD & WILLOW WARE, GLASS & CROCKERY WARE,

HILDREN'S CARRIAGES, CABS

nand.
Particular attention paid to Fine Grocories.
Dealers and Consumers will find it to their in-

OTHER WISE GARDNER! S

THE

SLAUGHTER :

INNOCENTS goods. I shall offer my stock of goods at fair

EVERY SATURDAY,

NEW DRY GOODS STORE

TOLES & BARKER. . (NO. 5) UNION BLOCK.) 1966年中央1964年中央第二十五年。

DRY GOODS, euch as

BOOTS AND SHOES, also a large and well selected stock of

ETC, DTC., ETC.

Wellshore, July 3, 1867.

IS permanently located at Wellsboro, Office over J. R. Bowen's Store, where he is pre-Burglar. stances it was perhaps strange that Mr. Jones found considerable difficulty in finding his way home, familiar as it At length, with a feeling of relief, he turned into the street in which he lived. I should say into the street in which he supposed he lived. The fact was that he mistook the street, and turned into one running parallel to it. "Now where's my house?" though

It was rather hard to tell. He tried ness, but not very successfully. At last a feeling of decided relief, "that's it."

She said, turning to the old woman.

But he was mistaken. But he was mistaken. It was the residence of Mr. Hough

But how should Jones know ?_Ho He took out his latch key, and insert ed it in the proper place.

It was about twelve o'clock. Every eek to bring to justice any one concern- that bone sometimes denominated the ed in your capture and imprisonment?" crazy-bone.

burse, a part of the proceeds of your years old, so that he had some ground purse, a part of the proceeds of your mule train, which has been sold to advantage. You will ride to Chihuahua as fast as you can, and report yourself heavens! Has Mrs. Jones been entertaining done well, without making of any person or thing you have heard or seen in this vicinity. After that, that I needn't break my shins over it."

The wave setting formers and the destruction or that a part of the bewildered pair. Of course Mr. Jones never revealed his complicity, and the cat still bears the blame of the nocturnal uproar, and the destruction or proceeds of the procedure of the proceeds of the procedure of the proce country. The bag given me contained the amount of a thousand dollars in "Could it be burglars?" gold. To this day I do not understand the mystery of my imprisonment, rob-A very worthy fisherman, by the name of Grizzle, was drowned some time since, and all search for his body proyed unavailing. After it had been in the water some months, however, it was discovered floating on the surface,

"Yes we have, the jury has sot on it, and found it full of eels." " Is it morning?" "You don't say Mr. Grizzle's body "No, but you must wake up at once!"
"What for? What's the matter?"
"There's matter enough?" exclaim-"Yes, it is, and we want to know what

"What's to be done ?" said Houghton, now fairly awake.
"They'll carry off my silver. I forhis own trap. He was better known as Major Ben. Russell, and being met by his old friend Busby, he was familiarly saluted by a hearty shake of the hand, "They'll carry off my silver. I forgot to bring it up to night." "I've got a pistol," said Mr. Houghton. "and I believe it is loaded." ton, "and I believe it is loaded."

"Then you'd better go down stairs poor Ponto." "How do you do, old Russell?" "Come, now," said Major Ben., "I'll not take that from you—not a bit of it; "Upon my word," says Mr. Busby, you are my senior by at least ten any human being's lungs. Mr. Houghton, his soul stricken with

He lost no time in making his way to the front door, and hurried down the teps, fearing lest an alarm might be

He bolted the chamber-door, but it is

"I don't understand it; I distinctly heard somebody swear."

throw him with great force into the strdam. If the master had thought that the "It must be somebody," thought Mrs. dog's age and infirmities would prevent combton nervously. "Shall I wake his struggling for life he was very much mistaken, for he rose to the surface. down, and if burglars, they will very kept his head well up, and trod the water bravely. The man then began to push the dog away with an oar, and at Then came the fearful crash of crock-last, losing all patience, he struck so far ery, a sound which Mrs. Houghton to deal the dog a blow that he overbalneard with a degree of terror which anced himself and fell into the river. quite cured the toothache. She felt if He could not swim, and now began the the could no longer stand it alone, so | generous animal|s efforts, not to save she gave her husband a vigorous shake. his own life, but that of the master who uncle used to tell how he stepped forward and asked the mail: He's making a tremendous noise below.

I think there may be two or three of them."

"Do you still think him useless—this noble, generous dog?"
"I think he deserves a better master," said the gentleman who had witnessed the incident; and there and then he made an offer to buy Ponto p but the > doubtless the happiest period of his life. A gentleman about to travel on a

"O, do go down Mr. Houghton, or I shall go!"

"Go if you wish to."

"I dislike smokers, they make me ill."
The gentleman, with a polite bow, rejoined: "I do not like dogs, they annoy me." Then seizing the animal by the back of the neck, he pitched it after Mr. Houghton, who did not relish this in favor of Gent.

"I dislike smokers, they make me ill."
The gentleman, with a polite bow, rejoined: "I do not like dogs, they annoy me." Then seizing the animal by the back of the neck, he pitched it after Grant for President.

unwilling to give any account. The second scene in this remarkable tragedy was the discovery of the dead body of a man in Pike river, in the exact spot where Captain Weatherwax's boat had been moored, only six days af-had murdered their kinsman. Of all who had known him, not one believed him innocent. And here we reach the last, and above all others, strange event of his history.

in the forc of one accustomed to command.

"I suppose you want him to shoot me," he muttered. "Why name is Walter Ainsworth. I were to leave the first that my soul in twenty-nine years of age, and I was born in the United States."

"What is the value of your mule train, including goods and animals?"

"Ten thousand dollars."

"Ten thousand dollars."

"Ten thousand dollars."

"The way of the first the foot of the stairs and first."

"What amount of money have you want him to shoot me," he muttered. "Why don't you down yourself?"

"The thousand dollars."

"The provides a first of the window, with the experiment well worth first."

"But perhaps he's got a lantern."

"But perhaps he's got a lantern."

"I suppose you want him to shoot me," he muttered. "Why don't you muttered. "Why don't you down yourself?"

"The thousand dollars."

"But perhaps he's got a lantern."

"But perhaps he's got a lantern."

"I suppose you want him to shoot me," he muttered. "Why don't you down yourself?"

"The thousand dollars."

"An editor never leaves any money at the window, with the remark: home for fear of fire, and never carries any many with him for fear of robbers, nor the window, with him for fear of specular deposits it in bank for fear of specular deposits in the c