Legs bare to the knees, and the shoulders down To the waist, I marvelled and mused at her. Her hands had been kissed and kissed by the sun, Brown as berries; she held her hair

Away from her dove-like eyes with one, And stared at me, straight as eyes could stare. One moment-then, being well content, . She dropt the tresses, that over the white, Clear brow and sweet eyes came and went Like shadows blowing across the light.

"A picture, such as the painter loves," I said, and passed, but she would not stay; Those sweet eyes staring, round as a dove's,

Held me and haunted me all the day.

One foot on the other, bare and brown-The shining fall of her dead-leaf hair-Legs and shoulders out of her gown-She held me and haunted me everywhere.

DANIEL WEBSTER AND JENNY LIND. -Jenny Lind gave a concort at Washington during the session of Congress, and as a mark of her respect, and with a view to the eclat, sent polito invita-tions to the President, Mr. Fillmore, the members of the Cabinet, Mr. Clay, and many other distinguished members of both houses of Congress. It happened that day several members of Cabinet and Senate were dining with Mr. Bodisco, the Russian Minister. His good dinner and choice wines kept the party so late that the concert was nearly over when Webster, Clay, Crittenden and others came in; whether from the hurry in which they came or from the heat of the room, their faces were a little flushed, and they all look-gentlemen were received had subsided, and silence once more restored, the second part of the concert was opened by Jenny Lind, with "Hail Columbia." This took place during the height of the debate and excitement on the slavery question, and the compromise res-olutions of Mr. Clay; and this patriotic air, as a programme, was considered peculiarly appropriate at a concert, where the head of the Government, and a large number of both branches of the legislative department were present .-At the close of the first verse Webster's patriotism boiled over; he could sit no longer; and rising, like Olympian Jove, he added his deep, sonorous bass voice to the chorus; and I venture to say, never in the whole course of her career, did she ever hear or receive one-half of the applause as that with which her song and Webster's chorus was greeted. Mrs. Webster, who sat immediately behind him, kept tugging at his coat-tail to make him sit down or stop singing, but it was of no earthly use-and at the close of each verse Webster joined in, and it was hard to say whether Jenny Lind, Webster or the audience were the most delighted. I have seen Rubini, Lablache, and the two Grisis on the stage at one time, but such a happy conjunction in the national air of "Hail Columbia," as Jenny Lind's tenor and Daniel Webster's bass, we shall flever see or hear again.

At the close of the air, Mr. Webster arose with his hat in his hand, and made her such a bow as Chesterfield Would have deemed a fortune for this son, and which eclipsed D'Orsay's best. Jenny Lind, blushing at the distinguished honer, courtesied to the floor; the audience applauded to the very echo; Webster, determined not to be outdone in politeness, bowed again; Miss Lind recourtesied, the house reapplauded, and this. was repeated nine times, or "I'm a villain else." I have seen Niagara and Taglioni.

but never while memory lasts will this fade away. GIVE US THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD. -In a miserable cottage at the bottom of a hill, two children hovered over a smouldering fire. A tempest raged without, a fearful tempest, against which man and heast were alike powerless. A poor old miser, much poorer than those children, though he had heaps of money at home, drew his ragged cloak around him as he crouched down at the threshold of the miserable door. He dared not enter lest they should ask pay for shelter, and he could not move for the storm."
"I am hungry, Nettie."
"So am I. I've hunted for a potato

Mars and Malibran; I have walked through the ruins at Pæsrum and the Coliseum by moonlight, crossed the Menai Bridge and the Thames Tunnel, paring and can't find any." "What an awful storm!" "Yes, the old tree had blown down. I guess God took care that it did'nt blow "If he could do that, couldn't he send us bread?''

"I guess so—let's pray 'Our Father,' and when we come to that part, stop till we get some bread." So they began, and the miser crouching and shivering listened. When they paused, expecting in their childish faith to see some miraculous manifestation, a human feeling stole into his heart, sent by an angel to soften it. He had brought a loaf of bread, thinking it would last him a great while, but the silence of the children spake louder to him than the voice of many waters. He opened the door softly, threw in the loaf, and then listened to the wild eager cry of delight that came from the half famished little ones.

"Itdropped down from Heaven, did'nt the reputation in the very dark it is the more saleable than any Bibles publishmen to love God forever for giving us bread because we asked him. We'll ask him every day, won't we? Why, I never thought God was so good, did how the course of the various editions embrace all the various styles of binding and sizes of type, varying in price from $2 to $30, for Family Bible, large quarto size.

you?"
"Yes, I always thought so, but I never quité knew it before."

"Let's ask hlm to give father work to do all the time, so we need never be hungry again—he'll do it I'm sure."

The storm passed—the miser went home. A little flower had sprung up in his heart. It was no longer barren. In a few weeks he died, but not before he had given the cottage, which was his, to the poor laboring man. And the little children ever after folt a sweet and solemn emotion, when in their devotions they came to those trustful words: "Give us this day our daily bread." RULES ON HEALTH.—The following ideas escaped Dr. Dio Lewis in preparing his lecture. window when you go to bed.

Never hang yourself out of an open In cold weather, always wear thick, warm clothing about your body. If you haven't money enough to buy it, attend an extinguishable conflagration in the vicinity of a first class clothing store.

If you are quite a small baby, be very careful that there are no pins in your clothes and always take a drink of milk punch out of a bottle with a gum thing on the words before gatter. on the nozzle before getting into your piece of cotton wool, make a depression in the centre with the end of your finger, fill it with as much ground pepper as will rest upon a five cent piece, gather it into a ball and tie it up, dip the ball into sweet oil and insert into the ear, covering the latter with cotton wool and use a bandage or cap to retain it in its place. Almost instant relief will be experienced, and the application is so gentle that an infant would not be injured by it but experience relief as well as adults. Heaven rarely grants to the same man the gift of thinking well, speaking order well and acting well at all times.

The American Cooking Stove. FTCR twenty years experience in the man A ufacture of stoves, we became convinced, some six years since, that a vast amount of money was being expended by the people of this country, in buying cheap and worthless stoves, a large portion of which was wasted; and that true economy consisted in buying the best stoves that could be made, notwithstanding the price was higher. With this view we proceeded to construct the American Cooking Stove, and spared no pains or expense to make it the best and most perfect stove that could be made. And and most perfect clove that could be made. And we have experimented with it, and carefully watched its operation for the last six years, and when an improvement suggested itself, we have at once adopted it, and we have several of these improvements secured by letters patent. In this manner we do not hesitate to say, we have rought it to a higher state of perfection than has heretofore been attained in cooking stoves. The recent improvements in this stove has on the house. See, it would certainly added largely to its convenience and effective have killed us."

Proofs of the Superior Quality OF THE AMERIC'N WAICH

WALTHAM, MASS. The American Watch Company, of Waltham, Mass., respectfully submit that their Watches are cheaper, more accurate, less complex, more durable, better adapted for general use and more en-sily kept in order and repaired than any other watches in the market. They are simpler in structure, and therefore stronger, and less likely to be injured than the majority of foreign watches, which are composed of from 125 to 300 pieces, while in an old English watch there are more than 700 parts How they run under the hardest trial watches can have, is shown by the fullowing letter: PENN. RAILROAD COMPANY. OFFICE OF THE GEN'L SPERINTENDENT, ALTOUNA, PA., 15 Dec., 1866. GENTLEMEN: The watches manufactured by you have been in use on this railroad for several years by our enginemen, to whom we furnish watches as part of our equipment. There are now some three hundred of them carried on our line, and we consider them good and reliable time-keepers. Indeed, I have great satisfaction in saying your watches give us less trouble, and have worn, and do wear much longer without repairs than any watches we have ever had in use on this road. As you are aware, we formerly trusted to those of English manufacture, of acknowledged good reputation; but as a class they never keep time as correctly, nor have they done In these statements I am sustained by my predecessor, Mr. Lewis, whose experience extended over a series of years. Respectfully, EDWARD H. WILLIAMS,

General Superintendent. American Watch Co., Waltham. We make now five different grades of watches amed respectively as follows: Appleton, Tracy & Co.. Walthum, Moss. Waltham Watch Company, Walthum, Mass. P. S. Bartlett, Walthum, Mass. Biltry, Hoston, Muss. Wm. Ellery, Home Watch Company, Roston, Mass. All of these, with the exception of the Home Vatch Company, are warranted by the American Watch Company to be of the best material, on the Inost approved principle, and to possess every requisite for a reliable timekeeper. Every dealer selling those Watches is provided with the Company's printed card of guarantee, which should accompany each Watch sold, so that buyers may feel sure they are purchasing the genuine article. There are numerous counterfeits and imitations

we would caution purchasers to be on their guard against imposition. Any grades of Waltham Watches may be purased of Watch Dealers throughout the country. ROBBINS & APPLETON. Sept. 4, 1867-6m. 182 Broadway, N. Y.
