BAPTIST MEETING .- Rev. N. L. Reynolds will preach in Bunnel Hall, Thursday evening, 19th inst. The public is cordially invited to attend.

To CORRESPONDENTS .--- If the author of strictures upon our notice of the "Tyng trial," will give us his name, not for publication shall be glad to give him andience next week. A real name should always accompany such articles.

HOTEL CHANGE .- Mr. William Townsend, of the Townsend House, has sold out to Mr. D. D. Holiday, late of the Mansfield Hotel Mr. Holiday took charge Monday morning.

GONE WEST .- Mr. C. A. Deane, the conclusion of whose letter from Richmond we publish this week. set out on his return to Colorado Monday morning. He returns to resume his work on the Government surveys. He has our best wishes for health and success.

BAKERY .- Mr. Charles Stevens fitting up the building next door to Sears & Derby's shoe shop for a Bakery. We see no good reason why a Bakery should not prove a good investment in Wellsboro. Fresh 'crackers are a great luxury. Hurry them up.

FIRST OF THE SEASON .- Mr. Tim Spanlding, of Chatham, sent the Agitator a few days since four cakes of very nice Maple Sugar, and for which he has our thanks.

FIRE IN BLOSSBURG .- Mr. Henry Hollands writes us that the Brewery owned and operated by Mossrs. Taylor and Jones, was destroyed by fire Saturday night, March 7. The fire was discovered a little before midnight by some passeers by, who rescued the safe and books. It is believed to have been fired by some evildisposed person. Loss about $18,000, upon which there was a partial insurance.

JAMES G. CLARK .- This popular ballad singer and composor will give one of his delightful entertainments in the Presbyterian Church, in this village, Friday evening, March, 20. It is seldom that the public has an opportunity to listen to so sweet a singer, and to those who have heard Mr. Clark no further commendation will be needed to insure him a full house. No man or woman, susceptible of improvement, can hear him and not feel measurably bettered. His songe are chiefly of his own composition.

PUBLIC SALES .- Mrs. Elizabeth Tyler, of Delmar, will sell at auction on the premises, Wednesday, 25th inst., at 10. A. M., 21 superior cows, a span of mares, a quantity of hay, oats, potatoes, and dairy utensils. The all the time night and morning, drove them up most of the time from pasture, kuit, six pairs of striped mittens, tended baby for her daughter "considerably," and did many other things "too numerous to mention." The temptor, in the shape of strong drink, separated husband and wife."

We regard these facts as perfectly authentic, though such labors appear too great for belief. But we hope no woman in Tioga county or elscwhere will undertake to compete with Mrs. Hall, who may be ranked among the noted women of bioneer times.

Gossrp.-Who has not delighted in Burns's song-"For a' that and a' that"? Probably no poem of its rank, ever effected a more permanent lodgmont in the minds and hearts of the people. We regard it as worthy a warm. place in the affections of the people, and doubt if it could be displaced even were the effort made. Burns aimed at snobbery in high life, and hit the mark fairly. But there is snobbery in low life, High Constable or any other person of said Bor-or in common life, rather, and it was reserved for ough, to take up and deliver to the Pound Master snobbery let us pursue the subject a little further. The constitution of the United States very prop-erly prohibits titles of nobility. This provents the growth of an hereditary aristogracy, but does not prevent snobbery. A snob is any man of woman who undertakes to npo the style and manners of the great. A man may undertake this on a fortune of ten thousand dollars as well this on a fortune of ten thousand dollars as well as upon a fortune of a million. A snob is also any man or woman who affects to despise wealth or competency. Contempt for money is either sheer hypocrisy or irrational nonsense. Moneyis a good thing, and its uses are manifold. One uses it to make more; he is the miserly snob. Another uses it to gain the name of a wholesouled fellow; he is the assining snob. Another uses it to make a grand display and astonish the vulgar; he is the ostentatious enob. It is pure. snobbery to despise either riches or poverty, and there is not much to choose between them. As a rule, rich people, think less about their money than men and women of moderate estate. The ushot of the whole matter is that suchbory, whether it pertain to "lord or loon," is the result of ill-breeding,-only this and nothing -We beg our valued correspondent "A. F. B.,"

He now hopes in a few days to resume work with his own hands.— He desires us to apologize in his behalf for the delay of work during his sickness. He is now again prepared to receive orders, with the hope able, with additional help, to execute them with more than his usual promptness-

Thankful for the increasing patronago which is coming to him from far and near, he hopes, with renewed health, to fully satisfy all who may have ccasion for his services.

DENOREST'S MODEL MONTHLY .-- Ladies never weary of praising this Magazine for its beauty and usefulness. Its patterns are worth more than the price of each number, and, with the admir-able models furnished by its illustrations, are invaluable to ladies living in the country. We do not know much about the "Household" and other exclusively fominine departments, except that housekeepers think everything of them, but we do know that the reading matter is varied and unexceptionable, and that, altogether, it is as welcome a visitant as can be found in the parlor or family circle. Price, $3.00 per year, with a handsome premium. Send for a circular.-W.
