Thaddens Stevens for Grant and Wade. Lancaster, March 29.—The following letter from the Hon. Thaddeus Stevens has been received by one of his personal friends in this city. It speaks for

Washington March 26, 1868. MY DEAR SIR: I received your letter of the 24th this morning, and am very glad you intend to be at Chicago personally. If your constituents and mine have indicated a preference for Vice President, as I rather think they have from their vote, I should deem it duty as a matter of personal fidelity to begin by voting for that person, whether he be a friend of mine or not, as no man seems to me justified in violating the wishes of his constituents to please any other person. But, if the person thus indicated as their first choice should fail of a probability of election or gradually decline, then, if I were there, or my wishes were to be consulted, I should use all of my efforts in favor of B. F. Wade. He is a true man in whom you and Frand every radical man can confide; and you will find that the country, as well as our particular friend will profit by his success. I wish you would show this letter to your colleagues, as I shall be kept from the Convention, and desire to see an hones man placed in that position of great contingent responsibility. As to the candidate for the Presidency I presume you all agree that none other than Gen Grant is to be thought of. Honest firm, and well indoctrinated in principle, without ostentation, and without pride, I do not see how a better selec tion can be made. His judgment of men is so sound that I have full faith that he will call around him the ablest and purest men of the nation. With Grant and Wade to guide and defend us, this nation in four years will have acquired a prosperity which will be the wonder of the world. Universal Freedom maintained by Universal Suffrage on this continent cannot fail to have

THADDEUS STEVENS. To R. J. Houstin esq., Lancaster,

Very respectfully,

THE ENGLISH PRESS ON PRESIDENT Johnson.—The London Morning Star says, editorially : . President Johnson seems determined to bring the contest between himself and the Legislature to an issue. Having failed to entrap Gen. Grant into an attitude of hostility to Congress, he has at length issued an order, removing Mr. Stanton from the Ministry of War, and appointing Adsintant General Thomas in his room. Mr. Stanton has referred the matter to Congress, and, mean time, réfuses to give up possession. The Senate ha passed a resolution-declaring the order of Mr. Johnson illegal, and both the Senate and House of Representatives have requested the Reconstruction Committee to consider what further action should be taken. One telegram even states that the House of Representatives has passed by a majority a resolution to impeach the President for this act of illegality. It is hard to see how they can avoid such a course, and were it not that the devious ways of American politicians on the eve of a Presidential election are inscrutable, we cannot divine what President Johnson expects to gain by his wilful and defiant course, except to plunge the country into exlitement and contention. In a mon-rehial State, a contention of this na-ture would almost necessarily lend to civil war. There is no fear of such ! result in America, simply because Mr Johnson cannot cammand a man, muse ket, or $1,000. There may be excitenent case, there may be a State trial before the Supreme Court, but the appeal will be to law, not to violence .-Mr. Johnson evidently expects that he can drive his adversaries into the extreme position of impeaching him, the more moderate people throughout the Union will come over to his side. In this we believe he will be mistaken.-In the American community, when the question fairly comes to the front, whether the view of the law taken by the Houses of Legislature, or that taken by Mr. Andrew Johnson is to be upheld, the people will side with their representatives, and send Mr. Johnson back to Tennessee. It is a pity for the great Republic that in place of the firmness, combined with wisdom, which distinguished Mr. Lincoln, she should now have in a Chief Magistrate an obstinacy which keeps the whole nation in turmoil. The contrast at once shows the strength and weakness of a republican form of government.— The people may be mistaken in thei choice, but they can also get rid of their President if he sets himself above the law. If Mr. Johnson had been a king in a limited monarchy, he would have run a great chance of losing his head in a less metaphorical fashion than he seems already to have done. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.--II calling the attention of our readers to this valuable preparation, we do so with a full conviction that it is a high ly scientific remedy for Dyspepsin, and all diseases arising from a disordered state of the Liver or Stomach. In making this assertion, we are sustained by the testimony of many of the eminent professional men of the country. Lawyers, physicians, and clergymen, all bear witness to its great usefulness. It contains no alcoholic stimulant, but purely medicinal, being compounded most celebrated physicians of his day, and is well known and used by the fac-ulty of the present time. It has been before the public in its present shape for over twenty years, and during that time has become "known all over the world," To those in need of a remedy of this character, we would say procure it at once, and do not waste your time and money on the many worthless compounds that now flood the market; and those who are not in immediate want of it, we would advise to be prepared to ways in the house.—Cleveland Leader.

TRIAL OF ANDREW JOHNSON.

The Senate assembled at the hour of noon on Friday, and the trial proceeded. The entire examination of witnesses during Friday related to the reports made of the Presidents speeches on his the Republican ticket was elected by poke in the forts around Washington famous swing "around the circle," and at Washington. The testimony runs through many columns and is not particularly interesting. It was offered to show that the often disgusting and generally disgraceful speeches of the President since the 22d of February, 1866, were correctly reported. This fact was established beyond dispute.

The testimony for Impeachment was more important during the session of Saturday. The testimony of Robert S. Chew, Chief Clerk of the State Department, was important as cumulative evidence of the fact, previously established, of a change being made in the forms. of commissions issued to officers, after the passage of the Tenure-of-Office law. Formerly the Commissions ran "during the pleasure of the President for the time being ;" but after the passage of the Tenure-of-Office law, they were changed to read, "subject to the conditions prescribed by law." Mr. Chew testified that the old form of Commissions. had not been used since the passage of the law referred to; that the President had signed Commissions in the new form. The object of This testimony was to show that the President had recognized the binding force of the law in all hisofficial acts up to the removal of Secretary Stanton in February last. The defence attempted to prove that the removal of Stanton during the session of the Senate was not unprecedented .-The precedent cited was that of the remoyal of Pickering by the Elder Adams

The President informed Mr. Woon that he could do nothing for him, as he, Wood, cast his inthence for dent and did not know whether the Senate was notified of the fact or not. Mr. Butler asked leave to put in a transcript of the Senate record to show that the President had not notified the Senate of Mr. Blodgett's suspension. The Chief Justice said that could be done at any time. This closed the testimony for the prosecution.

Mr. Curtis opqued for the defense in a speech occupying some hours in the deivery. n Columbus. We notice that the authorship of the Vilmot Proviso is becoming a subject of comment in the papers since the death of Judge Wilmot. History has given the honor of its presentation in Congress to DAVID WILMOT, and rightly. We have heard Judge Wilmot say that the authorship of the Proviso could be rightly claimed by no man of the period, it being taken from the Ordinance of '87. By the same authority we can state that its renewal in thedays of annexation was the result of a conference among free-soil demorats, cof whom Judge Wilmot was prominent, and that he took the responsibility of proposing what was felt to be an unpalatable measure to the Southern wing of the democratic party. The idea of restricting the "spread" of Slavery originated with the Fathers. It experienced a revival in 1819-29, and owed its second revival to the boldness of David Wilmot in 1846. It carried in the House by a vote of 94 to 78, only two northern men, voting against it .-Being near the close of the session the Senate did not act upon it. Judge Wilmot presented it again in 1847, the House still stood firm and passed it, but the Senate did not act upon it. It bears the name of "The Wilmot Proviso," and will carry that name while history is written. The Ku-Klax Klan is a secret organization in the rebel States, having for its object, judging from its work, the intimidation of the loyal portion of Southern citizens, and the murder of noise made by the cocking of a rifle. The Ku-Klax Klan is composed of the most virulent and abandoned rebels. Its real object is apparently the driving out of the Southern States all who retain respect for the old flag.
