Weep, clouds, upon the sunset west; Moan out, cold ocean, all thy pain; Moon, slip into the blue sea's breast; My love will never come again.

A Thrilling Sketch.

In the year 1836, the inhabitants living in a district bordering on Rock River, in the northern part of the State of Illinois, were much incensed by the depredations of a band of horse thieves who infested that portion of the country. Every exertion had been made to discover the men engaged in the nefarious business, but hitherto, in vain, and valuable animals were stolen, and lost to their owners, in defiance of the utmost vigilance and care.

During such a state of affairs, the citizens residing in the region of the thieves became thoroughly excited and were wound up to such a pitch of indignation, that a body of men were formed styled Rangers, whose explicit duty was to expunge the district of all suspicious characters, and endeavor to put a stop to their depredations. Shortly after this band commence operations word was conveyed to the ader of the Rangers that a valuable horse which had been stolen the night previous, could then be found on the premises of a man named Burt, locked up in the stable. Although Burt heretofore had been looked upon as an hon-est man and an upright citizen, yet the Captain deemed it his duty to at least or falsity of the report.

Accordingly he summoned some half dozen of his Raugers to meet him at a spot not far from Burt's house, and before morning, set out for the same place himself. Daylight was hardly discerniable in the east, and the hazy light o coming dawn had not yet penetrated the bottom, where the suspected man resided, as the Rangers, charged with the fearful mission of life or death, silently approached, and surrounded the dwelling. Leaving three of the band to guard the entrance, the Captain opened the door, and found the missing horse, as had been stated, safely stalled examine his farm and learn the truth

Not a lingering doubt now remained of Burt's guilt, and with a stern determination to make an example of him that would deter others from a like transaction, the Rangers returned to the house. In the meantime, Burt had risen and upon coming to the door, was seized by those in waiting, and upon demanding the reason was informed by them that a stolen animal was sound in his stable, and that he was considered a thief. Muttering something about "he knew it would come to this at last," he quietly submitted to whatever his captors had in store for him. A short consultation was held and it was resolved to hang the criminal upon a large elm tree that grew in front of his own house, it being thought that such act would strike terror and dismay into the ranks of the horse thieves. Burt had asked half an hour to pre pare for his death, and the sun had risen in all its golden majesty, ere the fatal moment had arrived which would launch him into eternity. In vain his grayheaded father and mother pleaded r his life, with trembling tonguesthey tottering forth from the dwelling, and kneeling in suppliant mood to his apparently merciless captors. In vain had the wife of his bosom knelt in tears of agony, and entreated them as hus-bands to spare his life, for each Ranger had suffered more or less in person, and they deemed the example absolutely necessary to deter others, and it seemed os though Burt must die.

The dreadful preparations were completed—the half hour had expired—and the criminal was arranged under the limb of a stout elm, over which a rope was thrown, one end being noosed around the prisoner's neck, and the other held by three of the Rangers.

Then came a moment of dreadful silence, that awful stillness which pre-ludes the launching of a fellow-being into eternity—while the three strong men who held the rope's end, gazed fixedly upon the Captain for the signal. It was given by raising the right arm; and already the noose was tightening around the doomed man's neck, when the wife of Burt issued forth from the house holding an infant a little more than a year old, in her arms. Rushing forward, she fell on her knees directly in front of the Captain, and raising the child with arms out stretched, towards him, she exclaimed in tones that would have pierced a hear of steel—

"If you will not spare him for the sake of his greyhaired sire, or the wife of his bosom, spare him in the name of God, for the sake of his infant boy!

Another dead silence reigned like pall over the spot; then, as though inspired by heaven itself, the child also stretched out its little arms towards its father, and exclaimed, in a voice heard by all, the single word: Papa!" And then, as though despairing of success, huddled into its mother's bosom, and burst into a sobbing cry. It was more than the rangers could stand, and after a short consultation, the rope was taken from the criminal's neck, and the band left the spot; and Burt became a reformed man through the powerful effects of his "Infant's Appeal."—Great West.

MINNESOTA INNOCENCE.—A verdant couple from the vicinity outside of the limits of their little native town, fell in love, were married, and on their bridal tour visiting Minneapolis. Arriving on the evening train, the turtle doves took rooms at the Nicollet. Before making his toilet the next morning the young husband's eye rested upon the "rules and regulations" tacked upon the "rules and regulations" tacked upon the door, and for the purpose of posting himself in the requirements of hotel life, he proceeded to read them.

Judge of his surprise when, after careful study, he learned that "washing in recemble prohibited except permission. ful study, he learned that "washing in rooms la prohibited, except permission is obtained at the office!" The young man looked about him. Upon the opposite side of the room were washing-bowel, pitcher, towels and all the necessaries for performing the usual ablutions, but before his face and eyes was a rule "prohibiting washing in the rooms!" What was to be done? Bride and groom were at less to know. They certainly could not think of going to breakfast without a washing, and it was rather inconvenient to go to the river for that purpose. As he reflected upon the awkwardness of the situation, he became impressed with the ideal. he became impressed with the idea that something must be done, and remembering the solemn promise made to the Justice of the Peace who, for the tri-fling sum of seventy-five cents, united them in the holy bonds of matrimony the day previous, he determined to rise the day previous, he determined to rise up in his strength and represent the case in proper terms "at the office."—He did so. Approaching the desk, he beckoned to the clerk. "Look a' here!" said he, "that 'ere kaird that's stuck on the door says that nobody can't wash into the room 'less you let 'em. Now, couldn't you let me and Jane Ann wash our faces and hands there this mornin'? There's wash things and mornin'? There's wash things and towels right in the room, and I wish

AMERIC'N WATCH WALTHAM, MASS

The American Watch Company, of Waltham, Mass., respectfully submit that their Watches are cheaper, more accurate, less complex, more durable, better adapted for general use, and more ca sily kept in order and repaired than any other watches in the market. They are simpler in structure, and therefore stronger, and less likely to be injured than the majority of foreign watches, which are composed of from 125 to 300 pieces, while in an old English watch there are more than 700 parts. How they run under the hardest trial watches can have, is shown by the ollowing letter:

PENN. RAILROAD COMPANY.
OFFICE OF THE GEN'L SPERINTENDENT, ALTOONA, PA., 15 Dec., 1866.

GENTLEMEN: The watches manufactured by you have been in use on this railroad for several years, by our onginemen, to whom we furnish watches as part of our equipment. There are now some three hundred of them carried on our line, and we consider them good and reliable time-keepers. Indeed, I have great satisfaction in saying your watches give us less trouble, and have worn, and do wear much longer without repairs than any watches we have ever had in use on this road. As you are aware, we formerly trusted to those of English manufacture, of acknowledged good reputation; but as a class they nover keep time as correctly, nor have they done ns good service, as yours.
In these statements I am sustained by my predecessor, Mr. Lewis, whose experience extended over a series of years. Respectfully, EDWARD H. WILLIAMS,

General Superintendent American Watch Co., Waltham. We make now five different grades of watches, named respectively as follows:

Apploton, Tracy & Co., Waltham, Mass. Waltham Watch Company. Waltham, Mass. P. S. Bartiett, Waltham, Mass. Wm, Ellery, Boston, Muss. Home Watch Company, Boston, Mass. Boston, Muss. All of these, with the exception of the Home Watch Company, are warranted by the American Watch Company to be of the best material, on the most approved principle, and to possess every requisite for a reliable timekeeper. Every dealer elling these Watches is provided with the Company's printed eard of guarantee, which should accompany each Watch sold, so that buyers may teel sure they are purchasing the genuine article. There are numerous counterfeits and imitations of our. Watches sold throughout the country, and we would eaution purchasers to be on their guard against imposition Any grades of Waltham Watches may be purhased of Watch Dealers throughout the country.

ROBBINS & APPLETON, Sept. 4, 1867-9m. 182 Broadway, N. Y.

The American Cooking Stove. FTER twenty years experience in the man A ufacture of stoves, we became convinced, some six years since, that a vast amount of money was being expended by the people of this country, in buying cheap and worthless stoves, a large portion of which was wasted; and that true economy consisted in buying the best stoves that could be made, notwithstanding the price was higher. With this view we proceeded to construct the American Cooking Stove, and spared no pains or expense to make it the best and most perfect stove that could be made. And we have experimented with it, and carefully watched its operation for the last six years, an when an improvement suggested itself, we have at once adopted it, and we have several of these improvements secured by letters patent. In this manner we do not hesitate to say, we have has heretofore been attained in cooking stoves. The recent improvements in this stove has added largely to its convenience and effectiveness. In all the varieties of stoves we manufacture, we study usofulness, durability, convenience and economy in operation, rather than cheapness in price, and in so doing we are sutisfied we study the interest of those purchasing our stoves. Results. By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEVENS. A Book for all Sections and all Parties. This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watered the flood-tide of rovolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with AP-PARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The great American war, has AT LAST order. The great American war has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and CHILDREN'S CARRIAGES, CABS & at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and ments of either
