How it Feels to be Blown up. Most of our readers will doubtless remember the explosion of the steamer Magnolia on the Ohio river, some ten miles above Cincinnati, in March last Mention was made at the time of the supposed fatal injuries received by Charles B. Lewis, ("Em Quad"), ex-local editor of the Lansing Democrat, who was on his way to accept a situation on the Maysville, (Ky.) Bulletin. Being now, after a lapse of more than three months, partially able to resume his duties, he thus writes up an account of his accident for the Jacksonian:
"When I bought my ticket I asked the clerk if the Magnolia was considered a safe boat. He looked at me with a half-sneering, half-pitying expression, and replied by inquiring if I had traveled much. "' Well, no-not above the average. "'Then you'll learn something by-and-by I he continued. "I did. Was seated in the cabin, be tween an ex-Colonel of a Georgia regiment and a Cincinnati pork dealer and were all talking over the impeachment matter. My fellow passengers soon became heated and angry. They were cursing Congress and the Presi dent across my head—each one as he felt—and I was looking for a muss.—

Their angry talk soon collected a crowd.
Libel their angry talk soon collected a crowd. I had just got up from my chair to keep clear of the coming fracas, when I heard a yell of agony, and before you could have counted three, up through the cabin, and almost under our feet, came a huge, jagged mass of iron. 'For an instant thereafter I was consclous of everything going on. I saw the cabin roof lifted up, heard the angry hiss of steam, the crashing of timbers and a cry from the injured and fright ened passengers that will never be forgotten. Then I was lifted from my feet;

head, and a biting sensation over my entire body. Sixteen days, afterward awoke in the Commercial hospital at Cincinnati. I knew that I was badly hurt, but could not remember how or when I was injured. "As I afterwards ascertained, I was blown out of the cabin into the river. When the explosion occurred, the steamer was just rounding the bend above California, hugging pretty close to the Ohio shore to avoid the heavy current. I must have taken a jump of at least two hundred feet, as I was picked up close to the shore. The survivors were conveyed down to the city on a tug, and here comes the only joke I can discover in the whole affair. "From some cause or other, my face was turned to as deep a black as negro ever wore, and I was accordingly treated as one. A dead cart was sent down from the hospital, and side by side with two wounded darkeys, lying on a mat-tress, I was carried up. The mistake was not discovered until the surgeons commenced shaving the hair off to get at my broken skull. I was supposed, for the first two days, to be a deck-hand, but the telegram from my wife to the editor of the Enquirer, who came and hunted me up, soon set the matter right.

I felt an intense pain in the back of my

"On awakening in the hospital, I inquired how badly I was hurt. The only answer I received was to 'keep still.' Considering that I could move neither hand or foot, I regarded this advice as entirely the way. vice as entirely thrown away. But it did not take me long to find out that, first, there was an uncomfortable 'air hole' in the back of my head; second the sight entirely gone from the left optic and the skin peeled off my face and ears; third that I had been 'steamed,' or rather cooked, from head to heels, including both arms; and lastly that the determinent of the skin t the doctors had just pulled me, through a severe attack of pneumonia. Remained in the hospital twenty-nine days, and then concluded to go home. Had not yet been able to leave my bed, but, accompanied by my brother-in-law, C. H. Rulison, Esq., who had nursed me from the third day, I made the journey.

"Getting home—my friends had been looking to see me come in a coffin—my wounds had all filled up with 'proud flesh.' This, of course, had to be burned out, driving me crazy for a night and a day, and compelling me to use a solution of blue vitriol twice a day for forty days. So you can form a slight idea of days. So you can form a slight idea of the pain and suffering, and how much 'ye local' can endure without becoming 'dead matter.'

"Now, after a lapse of almost one hundred days, I find myself once more about, but condemned to wear the savage marks of the steam-fiend to my grave. A bald spot where the iron missile agreed my shall a 'plebeld' are sile crushed my skull, a 'piebald' eye, a face that resembles a beet, and over my arms, body and limbs are scars that resemble great slices of fresh beef laid upon the skin. But after all, I am yet alive and getting ready to once more pursue the 'itemizing business,' which you know is vastly better than being fished out of the Ohio some torpid day, with no Coroner handy for an inquest."

Nose Bleed.—There are two little arteries which supply the whole face with blood, one on each side; these branch off from the main arteries on each side of the w ndpipe and running each side of the w ndpipe and running upward toward the eyes, pass over the butside of the jaw-bone, about two-thirds of the way back from the chin to the angle of the jaw, under the ear.— Each of these articles, of course, supplies just one-half the face, the nose being the dividin line, the left nostril is supplied with blood by the left artery and the right nostril by the right artery. Now, supposing your nose bleads tery. Now, supposing your nose bleeds from the right nostril: with the end of the right fore finger feel al. ng the outer edge of the right jaw until you feel the beating of the artery directly under your finger, the same as the pulse in your nager, the same as the pulse in your wrist, then press the finger har a upon it, thus getting the little fellow in a tight place between your finger and the jaw bone; the result will be that not a drop of blood goes into that side of your face while the pressure continues; hence the nose instantly stops bleeding for want of blood to flow; continue the pressure for five or ten continue the pressure for five or ter minutes and the reptured vessels in the nose will by that time probably contract so that when you let the blood into them they will not leak. Bleeding from a cut or wound anywhere about the face may be stopped in the same way. The Creator pro ably placed these arteries as they are that they might be controlled. Those to the back of the head, arms, and legs are all arranged very conveniently for being con-trolled in like manner.

CHOOSE WELL.—The line of conduct chosen by a young man during the five years from fifteen to twenty, will, in almost every instance, determine his character for life. As he is then careful or careless, prudent or imprudent, industrious or idolent, truthful or dissimulating, intelligent or ignorant, temporate or dissolute, so will he be in after years; and it needs no prophet to cast his horoscope, or calculate his chances in life.

Why is the letter R very unfortunate? Because it is always in trouble wretchedness, and misery, is the be-ginning of riot and ruin, and is never found in peace, innocence or love.

Honesty is the best policy.

The American Cooking Stove.

FTER twenty years experience in the man a ufacture of stoves, we became convinced, some six years since, that a vast amount of some six years since, that a vast amount of money was being expended by the people of this country, in buying cheap and worthless stoves, a large portion of which was wasted; and that true economy consisted in buying the best stoves that could be made, notwithstanding the price was higher. With this view we proceeded to construct the American Cooking Stove, and spared no pains or expense to make it the best and most perfect stove that could be made. And we have experimented with it, and carefully watched its operation for the last six years, and when an improvement suggested itself, we have at once adopted it, and we have several of these improvements secured by letters patent. In this manner we do not hesitate to say, we have brought it to a higher state of perfection than has heretofore been attained in cooking stoves.

has heretofore been attained in cooking stoves. The recent improvements in this stove has added largely to its convenience and effectiveness. In all the varieties of stoves we manufacture, we study usefulness, durability, convenience and economy in operation, rathor than cheapness in price, and in so doing we are satisfied we study the interest of those purchasing our stoves. AGENTS WANTED FOR HISTORY OFFICIAL OF THE WAR,

Its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results.

By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEVENS. A Book for all Sections and all Parties. A Book for all Sections and all Parties.

This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with AP-PARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and, salpromise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The great American war has AT LAST at whose hands it will receive that moderate, andid and impartial treatment which truth and ustice so urgently demand.

The intense desire every where manifested to obtain this work, its Official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, A full and complete assortment of the above make it the best subscription book ever pub-centioned goods of the best quality always on lished.
