Jacobs gave an amusing entertainment at the Town Hall Thursday evenong of last week, consisting of comic songs, instrumental music, etc. The Hall was well filled and we believe everybody was satisfied. Mr. Jacobs is a good vocalist and a capital ventriloquist.

ORITUARY.-Mr. E. I. Stevens, prominent citizen of Middlebury, died on Thursday. In company with his brother, Mr. D. G. Stevens, he had been to Virginia, south of Norfolk, on business, and while there contracted a dysentery which caused his death soon after his return. His death is a loss to community and will be generally regretted.

THE COUNTY FAIR .- A correspondent whose note reached us too late for notice last week inquires, if the price of admission to the Fair grounds is to be the same as last year : also-if life members of the Society will be admitted free. We are informed that the Committee has not 'yet decided these matters, but that due notice will be given of the decision

A FINE CROP.—"R., C. S., "writes: "Mr. Morris P. Metcalf, of Brookfield, in this county, harvested the present season from 17 acres of new land, 514 bushels of excellent white wheat of the Soule's variety-301 bushels to the acre. Can this be beaten, anywhere?" Few localities, east of the Pocky Mountains, can beat that crop. Mr. Metcalf will sow 28 our dusky poet: acres this year. He will sell wheat for seed at "Oh prison i $2.50 per bushel at present.

YOU WANT IT.- Every family wants Lloyd's revolving map of America and Europe. It is well gotten up, hung on rollers, and by an ingenious arrangement it is made to revolve. Mr. L, R. P. "Uncle Sam has thousands of acres of land as good as you can find in Tioga county, to give way yet. The soil is productive, the water good, the climate as healthy as Pennsylvania or New York. Lines of railroad are now stretching over the State. The thousands of emigrants passing through the Southern part of the State for the far west would find better homes here. Whent usually goes 30 bushels to the acre. The drouth has damaged the crops some this season," We shall be glad to hear from Mr. Royce

A Long-Lived Family.-We have seen a table showing the ages of nine members of a Family, two of whom, Henry H. Potter, of Middlebury, father of Sheriff Potter, and Peleg Potter, of Charleston, are residents of Tioga county. The ages of the nine are as follows:

Gossip.—The saddest of spectacles s an aimless, conscienceless, ill-spent life. . The man who stands on life's 'divide' at thirty five and looking back beholds no noble action in his history, nothing but a dark record of self minisblotted out, better aspirations eliminated from the soul, and the impulses of vice pulsating in their stead,—such a man needs compassionating.

For him, oh, Pity, distill your gentlest tears!

For he has crossed the divide of life; he has in favor of virtue, and there is no hope or help for him save by a mirricle. Conscience long ago departed the inhospitable mansion of his breast,

He is a very Lazarus in spiritual poverty, without the innate good which bridged the gulf from the gates of luxurious Dives to the Promised Land.

The life of such a man is given to the devilish work of leveling down. If there be a man of generous impulses and noble intentions, the Pariah whom we have feebly described above, conceives for him a bitter and murderous hatred, every one of his class out of existence. Given him to people the earth, it would swarm with villains, thieves, gamblers, liars, and licentious monsters. His hatred begins with Divinity, and trickles its slime down through the mass of humanity, excoriating every creature above his level like the discharge of a purulent ulcer. So goes he through the world, never trying to uplift any man or woman who may (if possible) be a trifle lower, and always plotting to drag every man or woman above him down to his own level of degradation. Such is the logic of persistent ovil-doing, such, feebly pictured, young man, is the spectacle of an ill-spent life. Need we urge you to avoid the rocks upon which such unfortunates are wrecked? need we urge you to shun the paths frequented by such young men? Hardly, we presume; for it seems very like warning
