In descending from the ceiling, Whiting had fallen and broken his leg. We took them both into custody. In the building were found all the appliances of the counterfeiter and a large sum of spurious money. But even to this day day I caunot, without a thrill of dread, think of our experience with the phantoma.

VOTING ON AGE-A CURIOUS CASE. -The West Chester Republican says A question that excited c usiderable at tention arose at the Sads wry District, at the recent election. It appears that C. Pussey Thorne, son of J. William Thorne, came of age on the day of election. The Copperheads, anxious to exclude every Republican ballot, chal lenged his vote upon the grounds that he was not born until seven o'clock in the evening, at which the law provided the polls should close : It was argued on behalf of the ap-plicant—and correctly too—that the aw' recognized no fractions of a dayand that he was entitled to vote even though he had not been born untieleven o'clock and fifty-bine minutes. P. M., on said day. The Democratic election officers, however, contended that he must be between the age o twenty-one and twenty-two years, and that he would not have reached that period until the hour of seven han passed. In reply to this, Mr. Thorne. Senior, asked the officers if they recognized three hundred and sixty-five days and six hours as a year; and they re-plied that they did. He then showed six leap-years had occurred during the lifetime of his son ; and further mathamatically demonstrated that he had lived twenty-one times 365 days and six hours, and eighteen hours to spare,-This rather dumb-founded the Democratic officers, but they still refused to ac cept the ballot. At three minutes be fore seven o'clock the Republican judge took the ballot and deposited it in the box, much to the chagrin of the very intelligent' Democracy! The vote was recognize any fractions of days, it did enment of their readers? The election perfectly legal-as the law does not not matter at what hour in the day he is over, and it can do no harm.

Then, again, what] was the cause of an explosion so com plete as to almost triturate the parti cles? Was it in the density of the earth's atmosphere that broke it, or was the explosion due to the contract o certain gases of the meteor with the constituents of the air? It is more consoling to adopt the theory, because we will then feel as it our atmo-phere served as a cuirass to the earth. 3334 would continue 'to protect us from the stray globes like that of Warsaw. The shock and the spring of the air must have been something beyond the computation of man; for it did not knock people down, and yet it occurred a something like fifty miles from the carth, and the pieces picked up show it
