If you kits me for another, You will note a silent tear Fall for somebody or other Who will never meet me here.
But this kiss you've only lent it,
I will keep it for her own,
As though one I loved had sent it,

Here to rest upon my brow. You may kiss me for another, One you cherish kindly here,
For a sister consin, mather,
Or for somebody else as dear.
Leave the kiss here in my keeping, Lend it with a tender breath: For my love, parhaps, is sleeping In the dreamless sleep of death.

JOHNNY SHRIMP'S COMPOSITION. Ma is my mother. I am her son. Ma's name is Mrs. Shrimp; she is the wife of Mr. Shrimp and Mr. Shrimp is her husband. Pa is my father. My name is John George Washington Shrimp. Therefore pa's name is Shrimp too; and so is ma's. My ma has a ma. She is my grand ma, ha has a ma. She is my grandy to be. My pa says that mother-in-laws ought to be vetoed. I like my grandma better than my pa does. She brings me tencent samps and bolivars. She don't bring any to pa. Maybe that's why he don't like her.

Aunt Jerusha is my aunt. When pa was a little boy she was his little sister. Llike little sisters. Dicky Mopps has a ittle sisters. Dicky Mopps has a little sister. Her name is Rose. I take her out riding on my sled. Aunt Jerusha don't like her. She calls her "that Mopps girl? "I think Aunt Jerusha ought to be ashamed of herself. Aunt Jerusha is a very plous woman. She never wants as to talk aloud on She never wants as Sun lay, and says; we ought to have cold flinners. She hears me say the catechism, and knows it all without the book, She says that Susan Jane is spoiling that boy. Susan Jane is ma, and that boy is me. She says that the baby will early show a change of heart. If a change of heart would make a baby stop crying, I wish so too.

Aunt Jerusha lives with us. Some fimes I think ma would rather have her live with somebody else. I asked Aunt Jerusha once why she didn't marry somebody and set up for herself. She said that, many and many a man had wanted to mary her, but while her poor Susan Jane was in such a state of health she couldn't think of leaving. Besides, she said what would become of your poor pa?

Aunt Jerusha sometimes has a state of health, too. On washing-days she has the headache, and does her head up with brown paper and vinegar, and I have to make toast for her at the kitchen fire. I make some for myself, too. Aunt Jerusha says nobody knows what she has done for that boy. That boy is me, again. I told pa what she said. He said it was just so. Nobody did know. Ma says that Aunt Jerusha means well, and that she's Pa's dear sister. I don't see why that's any reas-on she should always scold me when I

John G. Washington Shring. HANGING BACK.—Horses will be very commonly found to what is termed hang back in their stalls," the moment the stable door is shut and they find themselves alone; some will ever do this when persons are present. This is a habit that always excites the greatest ire on the part of the groom; the broom handle or fork usually corrects this attempt, accompanied by swearing at the horse, and sundry condemnations of always his cyes, and frequently his limbs also. We have seen men insane enough to listen at the door, or watch at a window till they found the horse had committed this heinous sin, then rush into the stable, and chastise him as unmercifully as undeservedly. We might with as much justice punish a man because he moved his person to get ease, when we had placed him in a situation that rendered his position painful; but if any man has found that he could teach the generality of grooms to think before they act, he has been more fortunate than we have in this particular. The whole secret of a horse hanging back is, that where the stall is on the decline from the manger to the stall decline from the manger to the stall hind post, standing on an inclined plane causes his loins and hind parts to ache intolerably, he hangs back in order, if possible, to get his hind legs beyond the gutter, thus diminishing, by many degrees, his standing uphill. In good and well laid stables, horses are not found to acquire this liabit; so the cause of it speaks for itself, and ought to be immediately remedied. The stall floor should be perfectly flat from the manger till it comes within a foot of the grating; it should then have a fall to grating; it should then have a fall to it of half an inch. By this, the four feet of the horse stand on quite level ground. It should slope in the same degree a foot each side of the grate, and also a foot behind it. This is sure to make the wet made by the horse run into the drain; and his hind as well as his fore legs, stand level.—Prairie Far-the care, of Distemper, Worms; Bots, Coughs, Hidebound, Colds, &c., in Horses; and Colds, Coughs, Loss of Milk, Black Tongue, Horn: Distemper, &c., in Cattle. They are perfectly safe and innocent; no need of stopping the working of your animals. They increase the appetite, give a fine coat, cleanse the stomach and urinary organs; also increase the milk of cows. Try them, and you will never be without them. Hiram Woodruff, the celebrated trainer of trotting borses, has used them for years, and recommends them to his friends. Col. Philo. P. Bush, of the Jerome Race Course, Fordham, N. Y., would not use them until he lourse. Fordham: N. Y., would not use them until he was told of what they are composed; since which he is never without them. He has over twenty running horses in his charge, and for the last three years has used no other medicitie for them. He has kindly permitted me to refer any one to him. FTER twenty years experience in the man and the twenty years experience in the manufacture of stoves, we became convinced, some six years since, that a vast amount of money was being expended by the people of this country, in buying cheap and worthless stoves, a large portion of which was wasted; and that true economy consisted in buying the best stoves that could be made not with standing the price that could be made, notwithstanding the price was higher. With this view we proceeded to construct the American Cooking Stove, and spared no pains or expense to make it the best and most perfect stove that could be made. And we have experimented with it, and carefully watched its operation for the last six years, an when an improvement suggested itself, we have at once adopted it, and we have several of these improvements secured by letters patent. In this manner we do not hesitate to say, we have brought it to a higher state of perfection than has heretofore been attained in cooking stoves. The recent improvements in this stove has added largely to its convenience and effectiveness. In all the varieties of stoves we manu-facture, we study usefulness, durability, convenience and economy in operation, rather than cheapness in price, and in so doing we are satisfied we study the interest of those purchasing our stoves. SHEAR, PACKARD, & CO., Albany, N. Y.

Knozville, August 14, 1867-tf. AGENTS WANTED FOR OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WAR,

Its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results.

By HON. ALEXANDER II. STEVENS. 1 Book for all Sections and all Parties. This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfoited with AP-PARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and sal-utary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The great American war has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and found a historian worthy of its importance, and A License, is respectfully called to the set of at whose hands it will receive that moderate, the 11th of April 1862.
