She will sen cely trace its resting-place,
'Nenth December's coming snows.
The blossoms will bloom into life again
At the call of the Summer Son, But nor time nor tide can undo for her What a single year has done. Sitting beside the casement

Till the stars gleam through the firs, The large team dropping slow and cold, On those folded hands of hers. This glitter as bright in the red fire-light
As the diamond that she wore,
Era she drew it off, the mocking pledge Of a troth whose truth was o'er.

The hollow darkness around her creeps; The day's long watch is run;
And all that they swore but Death could do, A little year has done.

THE MODERN VIRGINIA TOURNA-MENT.—On my return from the gunning excursion, I suddenly stumbled upon the age of the cloth of gold, and found myself at a genuine tournament. In an open field an upright and crossbeam, like a sort of two-handed gallows, stood erect, and from the end of the longer arm dangled not a rebel, but a ring. Riding up to said ring, at full gallop, with a bean-pole couchant in the hands of each, a number of young men were making knightly efforts to carry it off. Their efforts were hailed from a platform near by, with such cries as are related to have resounded in Ivantoe either of encouragement or disapproval. To instance:

"Go it, Foosky! go it! I bet all my stamps on the knight of the lost cause!
You sou of a hitching post, go it!" In this, we get the entire genius of a tournament, much better than Scott renders it. Foosky having failed to get the ring, loud cries are made of: "Now," Snipedriver! you Gud durned knight of the bonnie blue flag, ef you don't spear that ring, I'll hit you with an Irish pertater!"

Snipedriver dashes up gallantly, misses the ring, and, in the literal truth of a chivalrie you, received a cold three of a chivalric vow, receives a cold turnip on the side of his face. in this way the knights of Swam-poodle, the Unknown knight, the knight of Marlboro, the knight of the Black Horse Cavalry, and many others, dash in at the ring with varying succe-s, till the joust is over, and the successful riders are to name their ladies, amidst much pouting, wriggling, and remarks of:

"Geo aweay! Ma'y Jane, i don't want to be queen of love and beauty no how, jest cause I know there ain't no beauty about me with talkin' about!" "Yeas! Poll! He's geowyn to crown you sho, as yo' live. He's picking you out certing as he rides along!" The knights take their ladies in this way, and get dubbed in order: the ladies, with a giggle, saying:

"Sir knights! be valiant, and true!"
And the last of the noble ladies who figure in this feudal folly, giving to force some shadow of tragedy, is-Miss Anna Suratt. And among the spectators, jolly as Sancho Panza, stands John Surratt, her brother, upon whose head there lies such blood as chivalry never either inherited or shed.—Letter to the Chicago Tribune.

AN INDIGNANT WIFE.—The other morning an indignant wife visited Judge Castineland solicited his authorify in compelling the return of her truant husband. . "But my dear madam," said the bashful official, "I can't make him come back. 'An' what's the reason ye can't, I'd

"Why he is a free man, and can go where he pleases." "An' can be do all that, ye say?" "Certainly but then you can get a divorce," "An' allow him to go about with the creature whenever he pleases!"

There was an expression of indignant surprise on the woman's face as she inquired:
"Was ye ever a mother, Judge? Did ye ever have any children?"

The Judge thought he never had.
"Then don't be after talking to me about a divorce," and she swept indignuntly from the room .- N. O. Picayune.

A Tough Story.—An old fellow who never yielded the palm to any one in reeling a knotty yarn, was put to his trumps at hearing a traveler state that he saw a brick house placed upon run-ners and drawn up a hill to a more favorable location, some half a mile distant.

"What do you think of that, Uncle Eithel?" said a bystander.
"Oh, fudge," said the old man, "I once saw a two-story stone house, down east, drawn by oxen for the distance of three miles.

A dead silence ensued. The old man evidently had the worse end of it, and he saw it. Gathering his energies he bit off a huge bit of pig tail, by way of gaining time for thought: "They drawed the stone house," said he, ejecting a quantity of tobacco-juice toward the fire-place; "but that wasn't the worst of the job-arter they'd done that, they went back and drawed the cellar."

The stranger give in.

A VERY GOOD LITTLE BOY.-Little Walter Draper is a very good little boy, according to all the rules laid down for very good little boys. Last Sunday he asked his mother to go down to the (fould & Curry Rservoir, which his mother refused, on the ground of its being the Sabbath. Good little boys sometimes cry, and Walter commenced blubbering

"Why, Walter," cried his mother,
"I am astorished! The idea of your wishing to go down to the reservoir on the Lord's holy Sabbath, to go swim-ming with a bad lot of little boys!" "Boo hoo!" blubbers Walter, "I didn't want to go swimmin' with 'em, ma: I only wanted to go down and see the bad little boys get drowned for goin' swimmin' on Sunday-boo hoo!' - Sacramento Union.

GOOD ADVICE. - If your coat is comfortable, wear it two or three times longer; no matter if the gloss is off. If you have no wife, get one; if you have God bless her, stay at home with M H Cobb her, instead of spending your evenings of W Barker in expensive fooleries. Be houest, frugal, plain, -seek content and happiness at home, -- be industrious and persevering; and our word f ; it, if you are in | JD Smait. debt, you will soon become easy, no matter who may be President, or what may be the price of stocks.

GENERAL LONGSTREET, in his letter to Mr. John H. Dent, of Georgia, published this week, sets a most praiseworthy example to the men of the South. The boys, chevaliers, and women we are afraid are past hone; but to the men who fought and toiled west of Westfield Boro, on Potter Brook Road as Longstreet did, his words to day are a gospel of peace and prosperity. They can, if they will stand by their old leader, redeem and build up their shattered country. Co-operation by the substantial and influential men of the tered country. Co-operation by the substantial and influential men of the South is all that is wanted under the Tioga Co., Pa. new Administration.

The man who was capsized from a boat was asked how he wasgetting on? "Swimingly," was the reply.

Time is money to every man.

important facts. SINCE Salutifer is now being used in thousands of families the following facts are important to be known.

First—Though it is the most powerful of all popular remedies, yet it is so compounded, as to be safe and harmless. It is of such a nature that it may be handled and used by children, and persons who are ignorant of Medicines. SECOND—It is found that Salutifer will relieve severe pain in any part of the body sooner than invother application. THIRD-It is important that the bottle be well corked, if left open only a few minutes it loses trength.

Founth—This useful remedy can be obtained rom almost every dealer in medicines. ATTENTION FARMERS
