[Elmira Advertiser, Jan. 25.] The most terrible and destructive fire which has visited our neighboring village of Troy in ten years, broke out yesterday morning about half past one, and before it was stayed one half of the business part of the village was in ruins. There being no Fire Department in the village, as soon as it became apparent that the fire was to be dangerous and destructive, a telegraph dispatch was sent to Elmira calling for nelp. There is no night operator employed on the Northern Central Railway Telegraph Line at this place, but Mr. F. Ellery Fitch, the Train Master, who resides at 23. Fourth Street, has a wire running to his house and an instrument there to use in case of emergencies in the night business of the road. He was sound asleep when the alarm was given, but the signal for "Elmira" which the Troy operator was loudly giving woke him up. He immediately sought out Mr. G. A. Gerow, the wide awake and efficient Engineer of Steamer No. 1, who hastened that steamer to the Depo ready for Troy, Besides Steamer No. 1, H. W. McIntyre, Foreman, Hose Company No. 2, J. E. Nicks. Foreman, Our's 4, George Robinson, Foreman, also went down. Mr. Fitch, meanwhile hastened to the Car Shops of the Northern Central in Southport, and had an Engine fired up to take down the Steamer and Firemen. The train went down in forty-three minutes. The Firemen were received with open arms, and most generously treated, but the fury of the fire was spent before their arrival,

The following is nearly or quite a complete list of the losses:

7 V. M. Long, & Co., Troy House. O. P. Ballardis Block, next to the Rotel, was somewhat injured. Dewey & Winston, occupants, moved ont their goods. Also John H. Grant, Jeweller, prop erty removed and a good deal damaged Mr. Grant was absent from home. Strick store, occupied by S. M. Leonard, and owned by Pomeroy Bros. Loss $15,000. The fire caught in this building. A wooden building, also owned by Pomeroy Bros. Loss $10,000. This building was occupied by Mitchell, Parsons & Co., Grocers and Drugg-

Also by M. A. Gates & Co., clothing, loss $6,000, and F. J. Calkins, clothing, loss $6,000.

James Adams, Tailor, occupied a room in the second story.
Pomeroy's Bank. Loss $10,000. The books and papers were secure in the vault which is one of the best in the country. This bank building was enin most elegant style, surpassing in expensive ornamentation any bank building in Elmira. A building owned by V. M. & H. F Long, and occupied by Davidson & Mc-Cabe, Grocers and Produce Dealers .-

Loss $8,000.

G. D. Long, Dry Goods. Loss $10,000—also $10,000 worth of butter, the butter having been insured the day be-Meat Market of F. H. Person. Building owned by Pomeroy Bros. Hobert & Porter, Harness shop stock mostly saved. C. T. Merry & Co., Jewelers. Goods mostly saved.

A. S. H-ooker & Co., Northern Tier Gazette, damaged by water and removal. This is the third great fire by which the village of Troy has suffered. The first was about twenty years ago and the second about ten years ago.

A Formidable Gang of Horse Thieves Broken up

For the past year or two, Carbon, Luzerne, Monroe, Northampton, Schuyikill, Bucks, Berks and Lehigh counties have been infested with what was supposed to be a gang of horse thitves. Many valuable horses have been stolen, as will as carriages, buffalo robes, de , and in but few instances recovered again by their owners. Those returned were brought back by the offer of a liberal reward, which was generally pocketed by some interested party in the gang. About two months ago two norses and a wagon were stolen at Reigelsville, Bucks county. Bills were printed and sent out all over the country, offering a reward for the re-cover; of their any property, but no trace was obtained until about ten days ggost detective officer in Reading, who had Leard of the their, accidentally everland aremark made by two parties in conversation that "the Reigelville horse went to Hazieton."

the actestive started at once for the latter place, and in a livery stable there found the horses. He questioned the attendant us to how the horses came there, and was told that the proprietor, Jacob Reth, brought them there. Roth was found and questioned, but could give no satistactory answer as to how became in possession of the animals when he was placed under arrest and taken to Doylestown, locked up in jail and subsequently released on $3,000 bail. About the same time, asuspicious char actor was arrested at Hazleton, who, becoming alarmed, divulged the whole secret of the existence of a most formidable gang of horse thieves. He gave the names of thirteen who were known to operate, nearly all of whom have been arrested.

He also gave a description of the modus operandi: A horse stolen in this section of country was at once taken south from here and transferred to some member of the band, who would transferent to another, and he still to another, when the animal would be sold to some unsophisticated individual, who, if ever called upon for the horse by the owner, of course could not give the name o the party of whom he bought it. Carriages were taken to an isolated point near Hazleton, where all the appliances were ready, and they received a complete overhauling in painting and trimming, making so complete a change that the owner himself could not recognize his property. Robes and whips were also manipulated to avoid recognition, and thus their nefarious work was carried on. A large amount of property has thus been stolen and disposed of, and no doubt the profits of the gang were quite large. Roth is a young man, formerly from Saucon township, Northampton county, where his family is well known and highly respected, his father being a wealthy farmer and one of the most respectable citizens of the township. A few years since, young Roth went into the livery and horse jockey business at the effort of Democratic courtship up-Hazleton, and was continually receiving fresh horses from "down country," as us soon as opportunity offered. These arose for "action," and the General of which costs at retail $6. The "Hearth & Home" were evidently the fruits of his colleagues' labors in the lower countles. The breaking up of this gang of vil-lains will be gratifying news to all honest people, and we lione no efforts will be spared to ferret out and bring every one of them to justice. - Mauch Chunk

A SIGNIFICANT HAPPENING.

The selection of professional politimoral and spiritual growth. From that be? time forward to this, either one, or both of the great parties of the country has presented, invariably, a political demagogue every four years, as a nandiame or the sumages of the people. Very seldom, for more than thirty rears, has any party sought a man for he Presidential office. Still more sellom has any party sought men for any office of considerable profit or honor. But all parties have been more or less fflicted with professional office-seekrs from the highest to the least of duces in the gift of the electors. Van Buren, Clay, Scott, Polk, Cass, Pierce, Buchanan. Douglas, Seymour-all these and the Presidency on the brain, and sought that, or other places, as an ambitio s 2d Lieutenant seeks a Captain cy. Office, prominence in public life, was at once the bane of each and all of them. On the other hand we have Harrison, Taylor, Fremont, Lincoln, and Grant-men whom the office sought, or whom a party sought for-whose presence in the van as leaders of a great party was almost as unexpected to them as their popularity was brilliant. The nomination of each of these men was a significant happening; but by far the most significant happening in the political world, which pertains to modern history, was the nomination of Gen. Grant. The war had aroused ambition in thousands of hearts, in which, otherwise, it had remained dormant. cy of the Rebellion only developed a lew great men. Among them, and the superior of all, stood a man so modest that his promotion was rather crowded upon him than desired by him, and so reticent that he won the cognomen of "The Sphinx." This man was taken up, in name by the Democratic party early in the first year of peace, and freely offered the candidacy of that party, 'if-;" but "the sphinx," refused

The resolution appears to us a "job." The "outs" ask for places. The "ins" create more. That is the way it looks. If the House lacked officers, the proper mode of action was to appoint a commission to examine, determine the number wanted, and then report to the House. We assure the Legislature that such reckless ways of doing business will not fail of severe reprehension from that portion of the people who do not look upon the public treasury as their oyster. We regret that Mr. Strang offered such a resolution; bound, as we are, to admit that he offered it in good faith and without designs upon the treasury.
