Heriwaterfall was gorgeous, And all who saw contend

That her grace was never equaled By the Saratoga bend. But alas, for maiden beauty. Dust will return to dust, And the most enchanting bender Is doomed to moth and rust,

In stooping to assume her seat, (I hate to tell, but must,)
Some whalebone thing that staid her up Bent double—and then "bust!" She softly sighed, and sweetly smiled, And then in accents tender, As she rubbed her back, she gently said "Thank Heaven, I'm off my bender!"

TAKEN DOWN.—A conceited fellow by the name of Head, in making new year's calls in a certain city, made the acquaintance of a young lady upon whom he flattered himself be had effected a very decided impression. He felt that he was irresistible to the fair sex; anyhow, but in this particular instance he was confident that he had accomplished a complete conquest. Not lo be too cruel to the damsel whom. he imagined to belanguishing over his absence, he called upon her again after the new year was a week or so old. That he might feast upon the surprise and joy she would evince on discover ing whom her caller way, he refrained from giving his name the servant who answered his ring, but instructed her to tell Miss-that a very patticular friend desired an interview. He was ushered to the purlor, and after a brief delay the young lady whom he supposed to be rapidly approaching disjointing on his account, entered.

She paused on the threshold and looked embarrassed. He expected that but, contrary to his expectations, no blush of emotion or gleam of recognition, even lighted her countenance.
"Do you not remember me?" said he putting on a smile which he imagined had melted her young and susceptible heart upon their first meeting. "You know I called here last new year's day, with a party in a four-horse sleigh?" "O yes," said the young lady, who didn't appear in the least crished by the recollection, "I remember. Your face did look familiar, but your name-"

"Don't you remember my name?" inquired the heart pulverizer, with an air of deep chagrin. "I have almost got it," said the lady, "I have almost got it," said the lady, with Efficial sanile. It isn't Brown?"
"No indeed. But really, madam; this is not very flattering to me, your forgetting my name. I imagined that I had made a decided impression."
"So you did, so you did," the lady hastened to say. "Strange that your name should have escaped me, though. I was thinking of it just before you I was thinking of it just before you rang. Don't tell me what it is. I shall think of it in a minute. Really, this is quite mortifying; what has become of my memory?" And she trotted her pretty little foot impatiently on the carpet.

"But let me give you a hint," said
Mr. Head, whose mortification was rapidly increasing.

"Well, just a little hint. I should think of your name in a minute, any-how-just the least hint in the world I ment of Fall & Winter

'Now, then, what do I carry on my shoulders?" queried Head.

A moment's puzzled reflection, then her face brightened up she advanced towards him with outstretched hand, and cordially éxclaimed "Why, Mr. Squash, how do you do?"

A LICENSEAT THE BAR OF GOD .-"Yes," said the Rev. John Pierpont, "you have a license-and that is your plea. Well, my friend, if that is your plea, I adjure you to keep it; lock it amongst your choicest jewels; guard it as the apple of your eye; and when you die, and are laid in your coffin, be sure that this precious document is placed within your cold and clammy fingers, so that when you are called upon to confront the souls of your victims before, God, you may be ready to file in your plea of justification, and boldly to lay down your liceuse on the bar of the Judge. Yes, my friend, keep it— you will then want your liceuse, signed by the county commissioners and endorsed by the selectmen!"

The appetite for strong drink, when indulged and pampered, gains such a mastery of the soul that its subjugation is almost impossible. An Eastern fable illustrates it thus: "A king once permitted the devil to kiss him on either shoulder. Immediately two serpents grew from his shoulders, who, furious with hunger, attacked his head and attempted to getathis brain. The king pulled them away and tore them with his nails. But he soon saw, with indescribable horror, that they had b come a part of himself and that in wounding them he was heerating his own flesh. Such is the deplorable condition of every victim of appetite and lust.

A man passing through the country during an excited political canvass, rode up to a farm house, and thus accosted a tow-headed urchin wno was seated on a gate post.

'Bub, where is your pa?'

The youngster eyed the enquiring stranger curiously a moment, and re-

Montville, Conn., on the New London Road. The child, suddenly pointing out of the window, exclaims: "Mother, is that a 'en?" "No," replied mater, "that is an how!" Here paterfamilias, looking up sternly and sorrowfully from his reading, solemnly elaculated, "No, my daughter, adn my wife, that is neither a 'en nor a howl, that is an heagle, the hemblem of this dom blarsted country." An Irish woman, who is always at war with her neighbors, and whose troubles are never at an end, was complaining to her milkman the other morning to her milkman the other morning about everything rising to such high prices. To show her that such was not the case, he said, 'Madam, the price of milk is not rising.'—'No bedad,' she auswered, 'nor the crame nayther.' A WORD TO BOYS.—Begin in early life to collect libraries of your own—begin with a single book, and when you find or hear of a good book obtain it, if you can. After a while get another, as you are able, and be sure to read it.-Take the best care of your books; and in this way, when you are men, you will have good libraries in your heads as well as on your shelves. A locomotive on a western railroad has been adorned with the title, 'I still like.' That is more than many of the passengers can say at the end of their journey. A bummer accosted a tavern keeper thusly: 'Please, sir, give me a drink of water cause I want some cider though I prefer rum and will trouble you for a cigar as I am so hungry that I need lodgings for to night.

"Why do women spend so much time and money on dress?" asked a FOUTZ'S Horse and Cattle Powders. This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate forcem down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER GLAMDERS, VELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite-tive samooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton listos fine-looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this prepare tion is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cont. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs; Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putfing from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirally prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera. THE CHURCH UNION. This paper has been recently enlarged to mammoth proportions. It is the landing organ of the Union Movement, and opposes ritualism, close communion, exclusiveness and church caste. It is the only paper that publishes Henry Ward Beacher's Sermons, which it does every week, just as they are delivered.—without qualification or correction by him. It advocates universal suffrage; a union of christians at the polis; and the rights of labor. It has the best Agricultural Department of any paper in the world; publishes stories for the family, and or the destruction of social wills. Its editorial management is impersonal; its writers and editors are from every branch of the church, and from every grade of society. It has been aptly termed the freest organ of thought in the world. Such a paper, offering premiums of Sewing Machines, Dictionaries, Appleton's Cyclopedia, Planor, Organs for Churches, etc., makes one of the best papers for cauvassers in the world.

Every Congregation may obtain a Communion Service, an Organ, a Melodeon, a Bible, ora Life Insurance Policy for its Pastor, or almost any other needful thing, by a club of subscribers.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE. Critical Notices of the Press.

This most popular Monthly in the world.-N. Y. We must refer in terms of enlogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the authors the Arabica Papelov and the of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages of reading-matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily) journal. It has great power in the dissimination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature, London.

We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive rending for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston. "A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure, and Instruction." HARPER'S BAZAR.

A supplement containing numerous full-sized patterns of useful articles accompanies the paper every fortnight, and occasionally an elegant colored fashion plate.
