

THE NEW POSTAGE STAMPS.—The new postage stamps are already in use, and the following are the designs and colors for each particular stamp.

One Cent.—Head of Franklin in circular ornamental scroll. Color, Roman ochre.

Two Cents.—Postboy on horseback, within ornamental scroll-work printed in light brown.

Three Cents.—Locomotive on track, surrounded by ornamental scroll-work; the color is blue, the word "Postage" in white on a panel of dark blue.

Six Cents.—Head of Washington in square frame; blue.

Ten Cents.—American shield an eagle surrounded by stars in the form of a section of a globe, printed in orange.

Twelve Cents.—The Landing of Columbus—a miniature copy of the picture in Rotunda at Washington. The picture is beautifully executed and printed in blue, with ornamental scroll-work framed around it is of pale redish brown.

Twenty-four Cents.—The report of the committee to the Continental Congress in 1776 on the Declaration of Independence. Though of a diminutive size, the figures are all portraits. The design is printed in green and the ornamental border is purple.

Thirty Cents.—On this is again represented in the American shield and eagle, printed in carmine, resting on a battle-field of blue.

Fifty Cents.—A Medalion head of Lincoln in black, die scroll work and lettering being carmine.

For the thirty cent stamps another design has been submitted, namely, a miniature copy of the picture in a national capitol representing the Surrender of Burgoyne, to be printed in black with a purple scroll-work and border. For some reason this has been rejected and the eagle and shield substituted.

THE CUBAN REVOLUTION.—The present movement for the liberation of Cuba from Spanish tyranny began on the 10th of October last, when 127 men at Yara under Gen. Gomez made a public declaration for the independence of the island. In less than six months it has spread all Havana, and there are 20,000 out of the 30,000 square miles included in the whole island. Within limits there are 147 cities, towns, and villages, of which more than one half are in the hands of the revolutionists.

Out of the 150,000 men able to bear arms on the whole island, 45,000 are in the ranks of the patriots. The rest are being stationed in the Eastern, and 15,000 in the Central department. The total population of the district in rebellion is 47,758, of which there are in the Eastern Department 128,268 whites, 83,374 negroes free before the revolution, and 61,778 slaves just emancipated by the patriot leaders. The Central Department (the numbers are 172,567 whites, 42,444 negroes formerly free, and 49,227 slaves newly freed. The patriots have thus, it will be seen, given liberty to more than 120,000 slaves, and when they succeed in redeeming the whole island will do so for some 150,000 more.

The estimated wealth of the real estate in the territory held by the patriots was, in 1868, $550,000,000, and its industry and commerce were reckoned as representing a capital of $774,000,000. The annual products were: Sugar, $2,000,000,000; tobacco, $15,000,000; other produce, $52,000.

It will thus be seen that the insurrection is by no means the trifling matter the Spaniards represent it. It is a contest of men who are conducting it can be fairly organized and put in action a form of government, there is no reason why intelligent men should not be consulted to them, if, indeed, their independence should not immediately be acknowledged.—N. Y. Sun.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—On Thursday morning last, Mr. De Witt C. Fordham, of Albion, had a very narrow escape from sudden death. He had built a fire in his copper shop, and was inside of a large cistern he had just finished, sweeping it out, when the floor beneath him, which were stored several thousand feet of lumber, suddenly gave way, and the whole came down together. Mr. Fordham was severely injured, and his head did not hit him with full force; yet he was considerably wounded, and his right arm was broken. He was rescued by a neighbor who closed that he could not get out. His first thought was of fire from the stove, and he immediately raised a cry for help. The lumber from his store found its way to the spot, and liberated him. The cistern unquestionably saved his life.—Montrose Republican.

IS VACCINATION OF ANY VALUE?—The San Francisco physicians, who have recently been investigating facts in relation to small pox, now prevailing in that city, reported the following cases:

A man who had been vaccinated, and lately re-vaccinated with the usual results, on exposure to the disease was violently attacked by it and died in three days. The second case was still more singular. A man whose face bore the characteristic marks of the disease from an attack several years since, was vaccinated as usual. He had built a fire in the house, and hurriedly walked away with the impression that he had been nearly caught in a very contemptible trick. The result of the experiment, however, was that he died in a few days after being admitted to the hospital.

On Sunday night, last week, a certain young man, possessed of rather more curiosity than discretion, undertook to peep into the cloagly curtain window of a respectable physician's study, and fortunately for Clay Fry, he had taken his situation on some loose boards which covered a cellar way, and greatly to his astonishment, he saw the doctor, who happened to be in the study, and he was in a distance of some eight or ten feet. He was promptly helped out of his unpleasant predicament by the door of the house, and hurriedly walked away with the impression that he had been nearly caught in a very contemptible trick. The result of the experiment, however, was that he died in a few days after being admitted to the hospital.

In the Chester county prison last year about seven thousand yards of cloth and carpeting, and a considerable number of other articles, were manufactured by the inmates. The goods sold by the prison authorities amounted to $5,261, and the sum drawn from the county treasury was $4,800. The labor of the prisoners thus paid more than half the expenses, and they were protected from the effects of idleness and promiscuous association.

POTTER COUNTY.—From the Journal we learn that Potter County is to have a new Jail, costing $13,000. Dr. French of Condit, writing from his wagon on the 24th inst., is retaining a fracture of the collar bone.

Robert W. Benton, Esq., of Ulysses, died at his residence on the 24th inst., at the age of 63 years. He was a native of New York, and had spent most of his life in this county. He was a member of the bar, and had been a member of the Legislature. He was a man of high character, and was respected by all who knew him.

The Agitator.
WELLSBORO, PENN'A.
WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21, 1869.

Gen. Grant has appointed Robert M. Douglas, a son of Stephen A. Douglas, one of his Private Secretaries. That's right.

We rejoice in the appointment of Hon. I. B. Gara, Dep. Secretary of the Commonwealth, to the office of Postmaster at Erie. He is a noble fellow, and deserves preferment. Vive the Press.

We congratulate brother Jones, of the Vindex, upon his appointment as Post Master at Jersey Shore. He deserves it.

—And brother Alford, of the Reporter, on his appointment as Post Master at Towanda.

Mr. Hollands, our Blossburg Correspondent, requests us to ask "Accidental" if he knows of any place where they take only those who vote on one side as a basis of representation. Our Mansfield correspondent will oblige by stating what he knows about it. Till then we reserve our opinion.

We have not yet received a copy of Mr. Strang's speech upon the proposition to amend the National Constitution, nor can we find it in the Record. We learn, however, that he made an able effort. Should any one have a copy we will thank him for the loan of it long enough to put in type.

Mr. S. W. Alford takes business charge of the Bradford Reporter during Mr. Goodrich's term of office as Surveyor of Customs for the port of Philadelphia. Mr. Alford is an experienced business man and we gladly hail his return to his legitimate business. Mr. Goodrich will still edit the paper.

Mr. Beecher has succeeded in righting the "orthodox sectarian" clergy of Elmira into disapproving of his teachings in the Opera House meetings. The "orthodox sectarian" Ministerial Association of Elmira, whatever that may be, has invited Mr. Beecher to retire. He accepts the invitation.

We are now curious to learn what Mr. Beecher's crime is; what the effect of disfilialship upon him may be; and whether he is prohibited by the taboo of the "Association" from telling the truth as he sees it, and getting to heaven if he can.

A NEW EXODUS.
We notice in the last Potter Journal an appeal to certain migratory persons who, not having reached the stage of infatuation presumable in the case of the author of "Home, Sweet Home," are packing up their household goods and going, and preparing to follow in the glittering wake of the Star of Empire. The appellant declares that Potter County has claims innumerable, among them pure air, sweet water, pine timber, and mineral wealth. But we suspect that he will fail to arrest the exodus of which he complains. He is not so favorable as Tiooga, Bradford, and Susquehanna counties for growing purposes, still has enough advantages to render it, some day, a rich and prosperous county. Some portions of its farming lands are about as elevated as the least habitable lands in this latitude. The bottoms are as good as elsewhere, and the high table lands produce good grass, oats, and root crops. The rigors of the climate in such elevated regions deter many from locating—a thing hot to be wondered at. But we suspect that many who are leaving the Sweden hills for the prairie lands of the west, will find that there are other disabilities besides the "three weeks of poor sleighing," which a friend assures us is an annual calamity in Sweden township. Men who have battled with the big trees which distinguish Potter County, and divided the profits of years with the stumps, dream of a land where trees are unknown, and stumps cannot be found. Nearly all want to get a living easily. Few farmers are fond of fields where holding plow is like being jerked out of one's boots every ten minutes. Thousands shrink from the long, cold, snowy winters which distinguish the counties of the northern tier. And thus it is a difficult matter to arrest the exodus of farmers from these regions. The same thing complained of in Potter, exists, to some extent, in this County. But after a careful survey of the field we are satisfied that our population is rapidly increasing, our farms improving, and the forest receding. Probably fifty heads of families have emigrated westward from this county during the year ending April 1. Their places have been promptly filled by producers, many of them from the grazing counties of New York. We acknowledge some pang of regret when old residents have pulled up stakes in our midst, and set out to stick them on the confines of civilization.

Still, to complain of these changes, is to complain of the operation of natural law. Populations, like fluids, become stationary only by stagnating. We may wish with respect health on the shores of a tidless ocean, where gates are unknown, as in the midst of a population which never migrates. It is the law. Humanity has its tides and its currents, like the sea. The breaking of old and the cementing of new ties is as much a process of health and right civilization as the molting of birds is a process of health, and adaptation to changeable circumstances, both physical and climatic.

The appeal of somebody in Potter to other somebody about to leave that county, then, is an appeal against the operations of natural law. Our object is to quiet the alarms of our neighbors, who have a few weeks longer to wait for Spring than we in Tiooga. After the exodus of this vernal season shall be ended, a census will reveal the consoling fact that Potter county has more people in it than it had a year ago. Ought not that to suffice? Or do they want to make extraordinary strides while others are walking? Potter county cannot grow except by the operation of ingress and egress.—There must be purchasers or there cannot be sellers. When a man leaves a community somebody buys his farm.—That somebody, if he be a new comer, will seek to attract some of his old friends and neighbors to his new location. It is thus that emigration produces immigration, just as a demand for butter and cheese induces effort to create a supply of those articles. Population may be compared to a glacier, being never at rest normally, but ever pressing forward and outward. When the glacier debouches upon a precipice, or upon the sea coast, the air is resonant with the noise of its disintegration as it cracks and breaks off into noursisting space. So with populations; they crumble off at the edges, in search of equilibrium, and will continue so to do until the breadth of the Republic shall be divided into farms and the centers of population established for all time.

This is not intended to encourage emigration. It is a plain statement of fact and philosophy. We don't advise men past 45 to go west. But if they do we see no reason for fear depopulation. Young men, especially single men, ought to consider well before setting anywhere. If they are going west, better go while single, prepare a nest for the bird, then mate, and begin to get property together. If the advice is brief it will not harm the taker.

As the time goes on the peculiar fitness of Gen. Grant for the place he occupies because more and more apparent. It is enough to know that the professional lawners at the feet of power are yelling in full chorus. Their bark is worse than their bite. The President has ignored them, big and little, and still continues to exist. It was said, the President would have to call in these political thread-needs before he could get the machine to run smoothly. The machine is running smoothly—more smoothly than it ever run before under pressure,—yet the thread-needle men have not been consulted.

Grant is making a clean sweep of Johnsonian Republicans everywhere. A great reduction in the service of the Departments is being made, hundreds of sinecures, established to reward the democracy by the Johnson Administration, have been abolished, and official deadheading at the expense of the Treasury appears to have received its deathstroke.

Well, then, Grant! Go on. If in a year you can stop leaks amounting to a million dollars, you will have made a good beginning. Let the thread-needle men swear, and the decapitated deadheads revile. The people are with you.

Rejoice! the world moves, even in Pennsylvania. There is enough of common sense in the Legislature to cut loose from the dead carcass of the dark ages and lash to the age in which we live.

We are certain that it will rejoice thinking men to learn that the act to permit parties to a suit to testify in court has become a law. For ages the lawmakers contended that parties to suits-at-law only lacked the courage of their own opinions. The act of the Legislature in this respect is a great step forward. The State of New York did the same thing several times and never could get a majority of 133 men with sufficient stamina to hold up to the work.

Our attention is attracted by the absurdity of the old law; suitors, it said in effect, cannot tell the truth when it makes against them. Now the fact is, it is, and always must be, that if suitors desire to gain a suit by false swearing, they prefer having somebody else to do the perjuring. Never, since trial by judge and jury was established, has there been any lack of men to swear falsely for a consideration. Every lawyer knows who lies and who does not on examination. Every judge knows the same thing. Jurors are quick to detect lying on the witness stand. They will still be judges of the reliability of the testimony of all witnesses, as before.

The parties to a suit are the very men who know most about it, usually. Why the law should have debarrated their testimony is as inexplicable as most laws of a different time. Thank heaven that another old snag of the dark ages is extracted. Out with them.

We can almost forgive the Legislature its blunders in consideration of this step forward.

The most audacious venture on the sea of journalism yet, is the Imperialist, a handsome quarto of 10 pages, devoted to the establishment of imperialism in America. Democracy and Republicanism it denominates failures.—"Democracy" says this bold paper, "means lawlessness, insecurity to person and property, robbery of the public creditors, and civil war; the empire means law, order, security, public faith, and peace." If we have imperialism, let us let them speak out, as boldly as this champion does, and in the fortunes of free discussion there is nothing to fear. We are thoroughly anti-imperialist, but shall read this novel, this audacious organ of old world theories. It may be had at any news office, or of the Imperial Publishing Company, New York City. Price 12 cents a number.

The Governor has vetoed the bill, authorizing the Executive to commute the death penalty to imprisonment for life. We are glad of it; not that we regard capital punishment as the best punishment, but because it is not right to put the life of any man in the hands of any other man. Either a fellow hanging (and after Jeff Davis goes clear why hang anybody?), or let the law stand as it is.

The Governor refused to relieve Eaton and Twitchell, and the latter swallowed poison and got rid of his rope. Threatening letters have been sent to the governor, breathing furious vengeance, but that sort of thing won't pay. The laws must be respected and enforced.

We fear that it may not be safe for the Democracy of Lycoming to follow the advice of Col. Tate in the matter of righting the wrongs of the 29th judicial district. He counsels force, unless the Supreme Court declares the act unconstitutional. Some vague, and some not so vague, recollections of the Fishing Creek Confederacy, may detain the Democracy of Lycoming from following the advice of a leader who assisted in putting several of their friends in a difficult position in Columbia County during the war, from trusting the worthy Colonel. He might not be around when the tug came.

While Judge Gamble was holding an adjourned Court at Williamsport a few days ago, the Sheriff served upon him a writ of quo warranto, issued by the Attorney General. The whole matter will be settled at May Term of the Supreme Court, to which the writ is returnable. There appears to be a difference of opinion as to the constitutionality of the law abolishing the 29th District. A better plan would be to repeal the act and recur to first principles.

We notice that the publishers of the Citizen Democrat have been adjudged to pay the sum of $5000 damages for libeling Maj. W. J. Purman, of Florida. The defendants failed to substantiate a single charge, it is stated, and if so, deserve all they get in the way of punishment. The editor of that paper is fond of making charges against political opponents, affecting their standing in society. If this trifling experience shall render him wise it will not be vain.

We have read Senator Olmsted's speech in opposition to the low grade railway bill, and its proposition to take $3 millions dollars out of the Commonwealth assets. The railway is well enough, and we hope it may be built; but the way proposed is just robbery, and nothing more. It will subject to such means always, even if Tiooga county never has another mile of railroad.

Gen. Harry White, of the Indiana Senatorial district, is talked of as a candidate for Governor in the Republican Convention. Senator White might have stood some chance for a nomination had he been possessed of the golden virtue of silence. The legislator who is always on his feet cannot be a wise man.

Yes; Mr. Ketcham is the candidate of the "Ring." But Gov. Geary will be renominated, all the same.

The renomination of Gov. Geary is demanded by the people, just as the nomination of Grant was demanded.—The only attacks upon Gov. Geary are by the "four thieves," an organization which includes nominal Republicans and poison Copperheads in its ranks. However, you can try it on, gentlemen.

THE LEGISLATURE.—The act to provide for the sale of school lands for the non-payment of taxes in Tiooga and Potter, has passed both Houses.

The bill to change the time of holding courts in this judicial district has passed both Houses.

On the 12th, the bill to permit parties to suits-at-law to testify passed the House and went to the Governor.

A concurrent resolution of adjournment, to take effect Friday, April 16, was adopted by both Houses.

On motion of Mr. Strang, an act providing that a writ of error in the Supreme Court, in murder cases, shall be a writ of right, was taken up and passed.

THE COUNTY SUPERINTENDENCY.—"Eve" article on County Superintendent, must command the attention of the County who would wish to have the right man in the right place. That the position requires, and the wants of the people demand, a practical education, one who has labored in the cause of education with might, mind and strength, none will deny.

All must admit with "Eve" that "men really qualified to fill the office, very few." But who shall the coming man be, is a question? We think a man who will devote his life to the duties of the office. Here we such a man? We answer, yes. Prof. E. Horton, Principal of the Normal School in this county, where he is young, active, energetic, and has made teaching a life business thus far, (with the exception of about two years in the army, and all who are acquainted with his school testify to his success. Again, with "Eve" "if it is not the duty of the Director to give notice to a man?" He can be induced to accept.

County Superintendent.—As the time has nearly arrived when the most important act of the common school directors is to be performed—the election of County Superintendent, we have taken the liberty to make for the right man. The kind of man we all want, without doubt, is one having the proper moral, mental, and physical qualifications for the position. He should be a man of mature years, of high character, and who is fitted, by much practical knowledge of the schoolroom, to be able to take the requirements into active operation; a man of such life and energy as will enable him to do his duty with promptness and efficiency.

Such a man we undoubtedly have in A. W. Rockwell, of Covington. He has taught up to the age of 20 years in the common school, and has resided for the last six years. The rest of Bradford. He has done more to elevate the common school in this county, than any other man. He can show by undoubted facts, the amount of compensation for the same; and his own experience as a teacher in that respect, and we know that his merits are undoubted in this County, wherever he has taught.—E. H.
