Thompson of Wellsboro, teacher of Drawing and Painting at the State Normal School, of Mansfield, showed his pleasant countenance in our office the other day, and brought with him a fine specimen of his work with the brush—a truly excellent copy of rang's Chromo of the Magdalena of Correggio. The fineness of the work, the delicacy with which the outlines are copied, the correctness and fidelity of the copy, show that Charley has made

MANSFIELD, LOCAL.-A new Street, ranning from Elmira street through | Petersburg, over Prospect hill to the Picket hill road, is be-their appearance and the beauty of our village, and shows that the education of their domestic tastes is not being neglected; if any one desires to become acquainted with a school that is thoroughly "Model," let them visit this school, and be convinced the "Model" schools, rightly managed, are practical. Mr. Jolin Murdaugh has set out trees around his lot. The enterprise is worthy of general im-tation. Yet seems as though they would look better with some portion of the top left on. Trees gather much of their nourishment from the atmosphere. The leaves are the lungs of the tree, and without them it must die of sufficiation. The "Grecian bend" may be fashionable and stylish," but that is no reason why the side walk on the upper end of Academy street should put on "Greenan" airs.

Gossip.—Our exchanges are descantng upon the absurdity of an ubiquitous boy who has been seen by over a thousand editors living in as many different towns, on the very same day, and at the very same hour viz; "on our way home to tea"-trying to lift himself over 'a fence by his boot-straps. The absurdity of that thing does not strike us so forcibly as does the folly of the boy who never tried to get over the fence at all. That boy may be found everywhere. He would go a mile to find a gap sooner than climb a five-rail fence. The boy who has furnished so much aid to digestion in essaying to hished so much aid to digestion in essaying to lift himself by his boot-straps has the honor of trying to lift himself somehow.
