Lift a little! Lift a little! Rifort gives one added strength; That which staggers him when rising, Thou canst hold at arm's full length. Not his fault that he is feeble, Not thy praise that thou art strong; It is God makes lives to differ, Some from wailing, some from song.

Lift a little ! Lift a little! Many they who need thine aid; Many lying on the road-side, 'Neath misfortune's dreary shade, · Pass not by, like Priest and Levite, Heedless of thy fellow man; But with heart and arms extended, Be the Good Samaritan.

LETTER FROM KANSAS. SALINA, Saline Co. Kansas. May 8, 1869.

DEAR AGITATOR: Many of your readers feel interested in the welfare of the subscriber, who have been promised a letter, and as time is precious at this season of the year, especially to far-mers, he humbly begs a means of escape from numerous epistolary obligations, through your columns. Details of travel are omitted, and we will jump from Mansfield to a pre-emption claim in Saline County Kansas, whereon is located a small house which contains the lively remains of your Pennamite Kansan. I say lively remains, because it is necessary to be quite lively in order to remain here, owing to the fact that my partner Mr. Poverty, (perhaps some of you know him,) maintains stern objections against everything in the rocking-chair line, and as he has advanced the major portion of the capital invested in our enterprise, I am, through courtesy, obliged to defer to his opinion, until the firm be dissolved. Mr. P. is opposed to this dissolution, as he was greatly benefited in our east-ern association, but I feel fully justified in endeavoring to free myself from such an arbitrary and uncongenial union. Saline county is situated near the geographical centre of the State, and is, in every respect, as fine an agricultural region, as ever gladdened the heart of industry, and for stock-raising, is unexcelled. The Kansas Pacific R. R., (until lately called the Eastern Division Union Pacific,) traverses the county diagonally, thus superior facilities for ship-ping eattle and produce to market. At present all surplus produce is sent west, to supply Government Posts, and the mining districts of Colorado; and upon the completion of the Denver Branch, the demand upon this section will be still greater, as there is very litthe production west of Saline county.

Prices rule much higher than in the eastern counties, corn being now worth $1,25, oats $1,00, wheat $1,75, and potatoes $1,10 per bushel.

The Grasshopping-fraternity, or more properly the red-legged locusts, made rather strong requisitions upon the farmers during the two past seasons, but they seem disposed to omit their indiscriminate foraging this Spring, and wheat is out of danger.

Kansas, like every other State, has her drawbacks, but she is free from rsome of the greater and more frequent evils, which afflict the eastern farmer. Rust is unknown here, and the numberless species of worms, bugs and flies, which appear in the eastern and some of the western States, have not yet made their appearance.

But I am crowding rather to much upon your space. A sketch of Salina, our county seat, and a few notes concorning religious, educational, and ag-ricultural interests, railroad projects &c., may form the ground-work of future agitation. For the present, I will subscribe myself Yours for dissolution,

C. E. FAULKNER.

[For the Agitator.] -I am an old man. One short year more will give me all the age that is allotted to man. I had the fortune to be born in the good old nutmag State, on the banks of the brantiful Housa-tonic. I have bobbed for cells, and angled for bullheads in its placid waters. I have seen the famous Canazu Falls, where the whole river deseemds rapidly for half a mile, and then makes a mad plunge over a precipice of sixty feet. I have traveled all the way through the great State of New York, and finally landed on the banks of the beautiful Tioga, near the famous city of Mansfield. My journey to this land of promise, occurried my fourteen recent and of promise, occurried my fourteen recent and of promise, occurring the famous fourteen recent and of promise, occurring the state of the state pied near fourteen years, and gave me an oppor-tunity to study the manuers and customs, and dabble in the politics of all classes, from the Yan-kee to the backwoods Pennsylvanian. I was born a democrat, and adhered to the party until I slid off on the Wilmot provise. I have voted at every Presidential election since 1824, and have heard the slavery question agitated ever since my remembrance. I shave seen Abolitionists mobbed, pelted with stones, turf, and rotten terms and driven from subsequences and driven from subsequences. eggs, and driven from school houses and churches, and that too by respectable (psople. But I never found a man, of whatever name, whether Abelitionist or democrat, lecturer or politician, who had taken a right view of the institution of Slavery. It order to get an insight into this complex and difficult subject, we must go back to the persecution in England, that drove the Pilgrims from their homes to seek a shetter in th wilds of America, and trace carefully the history through to the present time; note all the mira-cles, or special providences as we call them, and then conclude that this Nation—this unrivalled Yankee Nation-has a destiny, and that destiny must be worked out, and that the Negro has a part to perform in this great work. But what is this work, this destiny that we as a nation are charged with? Now I am no prophet or son of a prophet; but when we study the past and compare with the present, and take a look into the future, it takes no great prophetic vision to fore-tell that the Nation's destiny is to give a univer-sal language, a perfect government which ac-knowledges the brotherhood of man, and a libcral religion which all can understand and practice, to the Nations and people of the whole earth. In this great work the Negro has a part. He was sont here to learn our language and laws and the art of government, to prepare him for administering the same in his own land. The All-Wise ruler of the universe often suffers evil that good may come, therefore he suffered the Negro to be enslaved for a good purpose.

An ignorant, but well-meaning man, having been placed on the commission of peace in a rural district, declared, on taking his seat as a magistrate, that, "it would be his anxious endeavor to do justice without fear, favor, or affection, in short," said he, emphatically, "I will take care that on this bench I will never be either partial or impartial.

A correspondent heard a droll story the other day of a pretty little girl aged six. One of her father's friends called at the house, and as usual, took the child on his lap. 'Oh, don't, Mr. Thompson! I can't sit on your lap now.' 'Why, you little elf!' 'Because it's Lent. 'What difference does that it's Lent. What difference does that make! 'A great deal; mamma told Mr. Dinkwell in the library, yesterday, the past, that she wouldn't sit on his lap in Lent, the same. and I won't either.

Harper's new monthly magazine. Critical Notices of the Press.

American Watches in Silver Hunting Cases at | This most popular Monthly in the world .- N. We must refer in terms of culogy to the high We must refer in terms of cutogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine — a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages of readingmenter appropriately illustrated with good wood matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissimination of a love of puro literaturo.— Trubner's Guide to American Literature, London.

We can account for its success only by the simple fact that it meets precisely the popular taste, furnishing a variety of pleasing and instructive reading for all.—Zion's Herald, Boston. 'A Repository of Fashion, Pleasure, and Instruction.' HARPER'S BAZAR.

A supplement containing numerous full-sized patterns of useful articles accompanies the paper every fortpight, and occasionally an elegant colyou must have enough to out, dry wood, in good ored fashion plate. Harper's Bazor contains 16 folio pages of the size of Harper's Weekly, printed on superfine calendered paper, and is published weekly. Uritical Notices of the Press.

> Harper's Bazar contains, besides pictures, pat-Harper's Bazar contains, besides pictures, patterns, etc., a variety of matter of especial use and interest to the family; articles on health, dress, and housekeeping in all its branches; its editorial matter is specially adapted to the circle it is intended to interest and instruct; and it has besides, good stories and literary matter of merit. It is not surprising that the journal, with such features, has achieved in a short time an immense success; for something of its kind was desired in thousands of families, and its publishers have filled the demand.—N. Y. Evening Post.
> Whether we consider its claims as based upon the elegance and superiority of the paper, its typographical appearance, the taste and judgment displayed in the engravings, or the literary aontributions contained in its pages, we unbesitatingly pronounce it to be superior in each and every particular to any other similar publication
