CORNER-STONE LAYING. 4 The corner stone of St. Andrew's Church, Tioga, will be laid, with appropriate services, on Thursday, June 3d, at 2 o'clock p. u.

PERSONAL .- Dr. Webb leaves on Friday for Eric, to attend the Annual Session of the Tuesday. The Doctor will probably extend his trip to the West, and will be absent about ten Dr. Humphrey, of Osccola, is also a delegate from this county to the Meeting at Eric. OBITUARY. - Mrs. Wm. English. whose fatal injury by falling from a wagon we chronicled two weeks ago, died of her injuries on Wednesday of last week. Mrs. English was a superior woman and her loss will be deeply felt in the social and family circle of which she was a beloved member. She was followed to the grave

on Friday by a large number of people. THE WAY TO DO IT.-Last summer Mr. James Gerow, of Charleston, stumped, plowed, top-dressed, sowed and harrowed a five-acro lot, supposed not to be equal to a fair crop of white beans. The field now exhibits as tine a growth of wheat as can be found in Tioga county. The wheat is about two feet high, even and thick. Mr. Gerow knows how to do it. He has two cows which give 22lbs of milk, each, to a milking.

Such cows eat no more than poor ones.

BAPTIST QUARTERLY METTING. The 3d Quarterly meeting of the Tioga Baptist Association was held with the Wellsboro Society Wednesday and Thursday of last week. Nearly every church in the Association was represented and the house was crowded to the close. Excellent discourses were delivered by Revs. N. L. Reynolds, of Bloss, A. B. Chase, of Tioga, C. A. Stone, of Charleston, and Beebe, of Farmington. The exercises were unusually interesting, and the reports witnessed the general growth and prosperity of the church. . The Association adjourned to meet in annual ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING. - Master Erhardt Sticklin, a lad of eight years, son of Mr. John Sticklin, of Germantown, on the State road just beyond the limits of this borough, was accidentally shot by his brother John, Tuesday aftermoon of last week. The circumstances, as we receive them from the father of the boys, were as meeting with the State Road Church, in August.

Mr. Sticklin had been fitting a new rainroll to his gun a day or two before, and on that occasion snapped a cap upon the tube to clear it. He afterward loaded the gun and hung it in its accustomed place. On the day of the accident Mrs. Sticklin went on a visit to a neighbor, locking up the house, and forbidding the children to enter until her return. The boys-returned from school, and with a cousin, Frederick Sticklin, entered the house by a window. John got the gun and putting on a cap thought to frighten the younger slipped from his fingers and discharged the gun. Thirteen shot struck Erhardt on the inside of the thigh, inflicting a dangerous wound one shot struck the cousin in the knee. Mr. Samuel Bernauer chanced to be passing at the time, and to his timely aid the boy owes his life no doubt, as the wound bled freely. The wound was dressed, by Dr. Packer, and is doing well.

Boys, Boys,-never trifle with guns and pistols, loaded or empty. Above all. obev wour hidars "SAW-DUST.—Having a spare hour on Monday of last week, we dropped over to Bowen & Truman's Steam Sawmill, unpropared for the evidences of progress and improvement there exhibited. We found everybody at work and a state of business activity truly edifying. Within ten days a roomy addition has been made to the piling ground by purchase, and the railway has been extended several rods. One of the finest sights about the grounds is a huge pile of white ash plank, probably 200,000 feet, the balance on hand of a much larger stock. This plank is all to be shipped to the factories where mowers and reapers are made. The mill, a circular, will turn out over a million-and-a-quarter feet of lumber this year, embracing pine, ash, hemlock, cherry, hickory, bass, and whitewood! The circular used

The mill property has been much improved and increased in value and capacity for work since it came into the hands of Messrs, Bowen & Truman. The lot now extends to the Cemetery on street on the South. The property is situated on , the extension of Queen street—a portion of that street destined to be the chief way of access to the Cometery, and capable of being made a handsome street. Messrs. Bowen & Truman have already graded the worst part of the street, and a its economy. And yet hear the growls and grumbridge is to be thrown across the creek in a few bles on every hand. Get out!

Wellsboro needs more manufacturing establishments devoted to working up the crude material so abundant on every hand. We need a woodenware factory, a stave factory, a tannery big enough religiously observed by the people of this village to require 150 hands. Such improvements will and vicinity. Alba a lot on the corner of Main and Mill-st., in this Boro, eighty feet front on Main-st., and one hundred and sixty on Mill-st., for eight hundred dollars, and intends to put up a fire-proof brick three-story store on it this summer.

LAWRENCEVILLE LOCAL.-A correspendent from whom weshall be glad to hear as often as he may choose to write, the following two weeks ago. It reached us after a letter from Lawrencevillo was in type, and we deferred it-However it has kept well, as the reader will dis-

"Lawrenceville is a pleasant little village of about six hundred inhabitants, situated at the junction of Tioga and Cowanesque rivers, and is surrounded by a good farming country, while there is no reason for its not being one of the most promising places in our county, it has been at a stand still, or rather retrograding, for the past few years. Perhaps it has been on account of the frequent fires that have destroyed the entire business portion, part of which has since been rebuilt. There is now in contemplation the erection of a large brick block on the site of the old Ford House, under the auspices of Joel Park-hurst, of Elkland, and J. F. Rushng, of this

GOSSIP.—Favored by the humidity of the atmosphere, the dwellers upon the turrets of the Alleghenies are peculiarly blest. Nature spreads a carpet of brightest green up to every threshold, however humble, and away and up to the crown of the highest hills. Take a full-spread maple leaf from any tree in your let here in Tioga.

Mainsburg, May 28. 1869. manle leaf from any tree in your lot here in Tioga. and travel northward balf a degree of latitude then compare that leaf with the biggest maple leaf in the region you happen to stop in; you will be surprised to find that you have traveled into a country, where the forest verdure is thinner and smaller. So, eastward, the same phenomenon will be observed. The humid atmosphere, and the fierce, unbersided heats of these elevated plateaus produce more magnificent foliage, greener. hardier, and ranker growths of grass and grain. than more southern regions less than semi-tropic. We who live here in the mountains never see a Spring, really. Our season passes from February into June, skipping March, April, and Maymonths of perpetual delight on the 36th parallel. Place a field of Lancaster county wheat beside one in Tioga, were it possible, and a stranger would pronounce the Lancaster field a variety of dwarf grain. We not only get as much, or more wheat to the acre, but we get more and better traw. So with grass; it is perennial with us. in regions supposed to be more favored, land lands are not proper for grazing. They are nat-ural grain lands. In other words, such lands roduce annuals most profitably. But then--"But then," says somebody, "the humidity of the atmosphere on these mountains is favorable o rheumatisms, and accute inflammatory diseases; to lung and throat diseases; -to untimely frosts and variable weather." Well-whoever expects to get on healthily in these regions must make the weather his willing servant. Does the sun rise amid sultry heats, you leave off your flannel; by two o'clock the air becomes damp and chill. If you add as much to your over, as you subtracted from your under clothing in the tion don't grumble it you rise next day with stiff joints and a sore throat. You may find a dry atmosphere in the west, and comparative freedom boys; and while playing with the hammer it from inflammatory and lung diseases. But those dead levels, treeless wastes, and unfathomable sloughs. are the home of whirdwinds and th breeding-pens of deadly malaria. When men trayerse the Sahara the transit is a fierce struggle for life. Men cannot live and thrive where the vegetable kingdom is absent. Trees absorb librium of the life principle of air; but you cannot have trees without a corresponding moisture or montmosphere. When you see a pale face for exercise; many -- in the mande Whe? nothing. A week or two in the woods is good medicine to a man whose blood lacks vitality, because there he must breathe air which has been purged of its deadly acids. If he sleep in camp, every breath expired is at once taken up by the foliage about him. Therefore sign not for treeless wastes, but be thankful for mountain air, though frosty out of time, and for a humid atforning, you may snap your fingers at rheuma-

ism and bronchitis. If you neglect that precauthe surplus carbon of the air, stored up in a safe and innocuous shape for the use of man. -All this has to do with the Law of Compensation. We never cease to feel grateful that God is God, and that He doesn't deputize any man to unfold the plan of life. Stagnated souls waste has the patent movable teeth, and cuts from 10.000 themselves in sighs for the good old days when to 15,000 feet per day, according to the kind of Webster, and Clay, and Adams, and Calhoun were the intellectual giants of the day. The events of the last nine years passed the power of those men to shape. Remember that the gigantic task embodied in the history of that period of time was laid upon the hands of new men .the North and within a hundred feet of Water Every old stager failed to rise to the occasion .so it is everywhere. The men for the times, the remedy for any temporal destemper, and the policy for the crisis--these are always present in God's plan. Here we are, holding in fee simple a universe without an accident or a blemish known to mosphere, for that is life to the vegetable world.

By 101 A. M., the Court Room was densely packed, and hundreds remained outside unable to gain admittance. Half an hour later the audience assembled on the Public Square where a stand had been erected and scats provided. The address was by Rev. Jno. A. Bowman. Rector of St. Paul's Church, Mr. Bowman served throughout the war as Chaplain, and was the senior officer of that grade in the army. His experience in the hospitals bore a sad and significant relation to the occasion. Talking his text from the first verse of the ninth Chapter of Jeremiah he proceeded with an address which held the undivided attention of the large audience for more than an hour. Many of its passages were tender and touching, inspiring the soul with love of country, gratitude to the slain, and to Providence, who brought the nation out of its great perils and over the Red Sea of conflict. We shall not at empt to speak of the aildress in detail.

The Band was present and executed several pieces of sacred music with fineeffect. Dr. Webb sang the Battle Hymn of the Republic, accomonnied by the Band, the audience joining in the chorus. Revs. Messrs. Calkins, Brookman, and Gibson, assisted in the preliminary and closing services. The occasion was solemn and impressive, and characterized by a decorum which honors our people.

At 3 o'clock P. M., a large number of people repaired to the Cemetery and laid their offerings of flowers and evergreens upon the graves of the soldiers there buried. Nearly every grave was beautifully decorated, and all were remembered. The day was fine though cloudy, and not less than 1500 people participated in the ceremonics

IMPROVEMENTS.—The borough authorities are grading up Main street to the crossings, and otherwise improving the borough ways. We hope that First Avenue may receive little attention this year. It is one of the main channels of egress and ingress, and the rowlway is devious, rutty, and hummocky. Van Horn's new warehouse is progressing, and promises to be a very great improvement to Main street as well as to his business.
