PIC-Nic.—There will be a pic-nic party near the Eikhorn School House, Farmington, Saturday, July 3. We believe it is intended to commemorate Independence Day.

COUNTY FAIR.—The Executive Committee will meet at the office of Henry Sherwood Esq., July 8, 1869, at 2 p. m., to make arrange ments for holding the County Fair. H. W. WILLIAMT, Ch'n.

PERSONAL. - Rev. Chas. Breck, o Wilmington, Del., has accepted a call to the Rectorship of Trinity Episcopal Church, Clevehand, Ohio. His many friends in this village wish him happiness and usefulness in his new field of labor. Trinity Parish, Cleveland, has secured the services of one of the best workers of the Church.

PERSONAL.—On Monday Mr. Charles Williams, for ten years identified with the Foundry business in this village, and one of our most upright, honorable, industrious man. Success attend him whenever he goes.

ARSON.—Constable Waklee, of Westfeld borough, reached this village Friday morn-10, at 3 o'clock, having in charge one Ike Burreff, charged with burning a house and barn in Chatham. The house was burned on the night of the 21st inst., and the barn on the next night. Burrell had his examination before Justice Strang, Greene. and is now boarding with Sheriff Potter. The haddings were owned by David Churchill. Fire was communicated to the horse-barn also, but was quenched byeffort.

CORRECTION.—The difference in "a gang or two," as far as gangs relate to sawmills, was well illustrated in our notice of the day's work at Visscher & Randall's mill, Niles Valley, and Vision of the Union" By the Graduating Class. two weeks ago. That mill only operates one gang of saws.. We found "two gangs" on the memorandum left for our information. The other "gang" was made up of men of muscle, as everybody knowing aught about sawing must bnow. The difference is considerable, and the day's work takes on its full proportion in the light of this correction?

SCAMPERY .- Some, either thought or scampish persons, are whittling fence posts, rails and caps about this borough. Others seem to delight in writing names and making pictures en painted surfaces. We sugest to His Honor, Burgess Truman, the propriety of erecting large Mackboards at convenient distances along the streets, with chalk handy, so that the literary and artistic public may be accommodated and encopfaged. It would be a good plan, also, to deposit bundles of pine at the street corners, for the whittlers. Nothing like accommodating gen tlemen of elegant leisure.

CATFISH. -One of the most respected of our singlehearted citizens last week went lishng in the Marsh Creek waters. Fortune, as usual, favored him; that is to say, he succeeded their first hocing and look forward to full barns after a day of wet feet and grawing hunger in and granuries. tagging a few pounds of trout. Reaching a firmhouse he dressed his fish and had them carefully put away down cellar for breakfast tered with speckled beauties. He hungered, and was feasted on trout, crisp and sweet. He woke: shaled the morning air and imagined that he smelt trout. Alas! the goodwife had a sorry tale totell. During the night, a Thomas cat, wild with the pangs of famine, and fearless of the wrath to come, stole into the cellar, ate the trout, and denarted. Our fellow-citizen was, and still remains, a

Bowman, Rector of St Paul's; at the close of which he proposed "The Bench" which was appropriately responded to by Judge Williams. "The Press," was next proposed; thinsorously responded to by P. C. A vote of thanks was unanimously tendered to D. D. Holiday for the splendid collation. The tables were bountifully spread with all the luxuries of the senson and admirably

-cried by attentive waiters. We think none will disagree with us when we prohounce the occasion one of much profit to the lider. There was a tree interchange of views touching the objects and aims of Freemasoury and the means best adapted to the attainment of those objects and the progecution of those nime. The members of the several Lodges were brought tegether as members of a family are brought tegether on stated occasions, and the result can Let be less than a better acquaintance, and a broader view of the duties of the craft. It is to to hoped that this idea of occasional conventions so happily and successfully inaugurated, will be caried out in this District.

Gossip.-A close observer of men and things may note many curious incidents every day of his life. For instance :

-We have seen men quite liberal in the use of their own money; and we have seen a great many men who were astonishingly liberal in the us of money belonging to other people. We know quite a number of people who appropriate large sums to the purchase of Leer, whisky, and eights; who owe their washwoman, the tailor, the shoemaker; who horrow money of men who consume no useless luxuries, have no tailor, shoemaker, or mangling hills due and owing; who borrow money of the latter unfortunates and never think it incumbent upon them to

Many men would be actively good if God would take the responsibility, and turn aside the blows which oftenest repay efforts to make the world Some men pay for being religious, others will be religious if paid liberally. Some are honest through sacrifice, others are onest when it costs nothing. It is the bark of our neighbor's dogs which disturbs us, not the bark of our own curs. Men find it easier to sympathize with others in misfortune than to bear their own ill-luck. The devil makes more display of indignation when a stone is loosed in the foundation wall of public virtue than he who spread the cement and laid the stone.

-And so on. These are only a very few of the facts which even a cursory observation re-veals. It pays to watch the progress of events, and to note the inconsistencies of all sorts/
