Child, art thou weary in the path below? No cares oppress thee? Art thou filled with wor? Do fees assail thee in the narrow way? Spread out spares to lead thy soul astray?
Do friends forsake, unheeding thy request? Come unto me, and I will give you rest.

Thou wandering one from God thy Helivenly King, Is the way thorny thou art traveling in? Do earthly joys clude thy cager grasp? The seeming gold prove but alloy at last? Oh, weary soul, with guilt and sin oppressed. Come unto me, and I will give you rest.

Oh, marine upon life's stormy sea, Do waves of trouble almost cover thee: Without an anchor and thy compass lost, Is thy frail bark by wind and tompest torsed? Ready to sink, with sorrows rudely pressed, Come unto me, and I will give you test.

THE PRODIGAL SON IN CHINESE. A young Chinaman, Choy Awah, scholar at the Five Points House of In dustry, reads the Testament in English, and then gives the sense in a dialect of his own; and this is what he makes of the parable of the Product Son:

A man, he two sons. Son speak he to father; father got mondy; give some he; father he take it all right. I just have give to half. He give him half: now give you half. He give him half; he go long way—like me come China to New York. No be careful of money, use too much; money all gone; he very hungry. He went to man. He want work, he say; all right; he tell him to feed pigs. He give pigs beans; he cat with pigs himself. He just now talk: "My father he rich man-too much money. What for me stay here hungry I want go back and see my father. I, say to him, I very bad. He knows I bad. Emperor [God] see I bad. No be son, me be coolie." He go back; long way, father see him. He take him on the neck. The son say, "I very bad.—
I just now no be your son; I coolie." His father talkey to boy, and say, "Get handsome coat; give he ring; give he shoes; bring fat cow—kill him; give him to eat." They very glad. He all same dead; just now come back alive; he lost; he get back. Number one son come. He hear music; he tell servant, "What for they make music?" He say, "Your brother come back; your father very glad he no sick; he kill fa cow." Number one son very angry; he no go inside; very angry. Father he come out; he say, "No, no be angry.' Number one son, he say, "I stay all time by father; never make lim angry. My father; never make lim angry. My father never kill one fat eow for me My brother he very bad, he use money too much; he have fat cow and music. Father say, "You no understand; he just dend; he pow come to life; he lost he now come back." - Drawer. Harper's Magazine for August. TREATMENT OF SCARLET FEVOR.— Dr. Charles T. Thompson reports in the Langet his manner of treatment in -carlet fever as follows: The patient i immersed in a warm bath in the early stage of the disease, and this is repeated frequently, or as the strength of the patient will allow. The first effect is to produce a soothing and refreshing feeling in the patient, to be followed soon by such an eruption on the surface, of so vivid a color, and in such amount as would astonish those who had never witnessed it. Thus one of the greatest dangers of this fenrful disease-thesuppression of the eruption—is escaped. The appetite generally returns after the first or second bath, and the strength of the patient is kept up by putritious food. The bath prevents the dissemination of the disease by remofing the exercta from the skin as soon as it is deposited. This treatment promotes cuticular desquamation. -The body should begently dried by soft linen cloths after the bath By this procedure the various secre-tions are deprived of their noxious properties, and the irritation of internproperties, and the irritation of internal organs is quickly relieved, thus dissibilitat a very serious case is soon reduced to a mild one, and the patient recovers in less than half the usual time. Since Dr. Thompson has pursued this practice during the list fifteen years—he size during the last fifteen years—he has never lost a patient from searlet fe-

BATHING. — The following suggestion to bathers have recently been issued by the Royal Humane Society of London, and are worthy of consideration;

Avoid bathing within two hours after a meal. Avoid bathing when exhausted from Avoid bathing when exhausted from any cause.

Avoid bathing when the body is cooling after perspiration; but bathe when the body is warm; provided no time is lost in getting into the water.

Avoid remaining too long in the water; leave the water as soon as there is the slightest feeling of chilliness.

Avoid bathing although in the open air, if, after having been a short time in the water, there is a sense of chilliness, with numbness of the hands and feet.

The vigorous and strong may Lathe early in the morning, on an empty

The young and those that are weak had better bathe three hours after a meal; the best time for such is from two to three hours after breakfast.

Those who are subject to attacks of giddiness and faintness, and those who suffer from diseases of the heart; should not bathe without first consulting their medical adviser. medical adviser,

A promising young shaver of five or six A promising young shaver of five or six years was reading his lesson at school one day, in that deliberate manner for which urchins of that age are somewhat remarkable. As he proceeded with his task, he came to the passage, "Keep thy tongue from evil and thy lips from guile." Master Hopeful drawled out, "Keep—the—tongue from—evil—and—thy—lips—from—girls."

'Is my face dirty?" remarked a young lady to her aunt, while seated at the dinner table on a steamer running from Cairo to New Orleans, 'Dirty! noi Why do you ask?" 'Because that insulting waiter insisted upon putting a towel beside my plate. I've thrown three under the table, and yet every time he comes round he puts another one before me.'

Bridget, what have you done with the cream? Those children cannot eat skimmed milk for breakfast.' 'Shure, marm, and it isn't mesilf that would be afther givin' the scum to yees. I tuk that off and give it to the cats.'

This paper has been recently enlarged to mammoth proportions. It is the language the Union Movement, and opposes ritualism, close communion, exclusiveness and church casto. It is the only paper that publishes Henry Ward Beecher's Sermons, which it does every week, just as they are delivered.— without qualification or correction by him. It advocates universal suffrage; a union of christians at the polls; and the rights of labor. It has the best Agricultural bepartment of any paper in the world; publishes stories for the family, and for the destruction of social evils. It editorial management is impersonal; its writers and editors are from every branch of the church, and from every grade of society. It has been apily formed the freest origan of thought in the world. Such a paper, offering premiums of Sowing Machines, Dictionaries, Appleton's, Cyclopedia, Planos, Organs for Churches, etc., makes one of the bost papers for canvassers in the world.

ITHAGA WHEEL BAKE

THE undersigned, a practical farmer, is offer-ing this implement to the farming public with perfect confidence in its superiority to any with perfect confidence in its superiority to any other rake in use. The teeth are oil-tempered spring steel and fully warranted not to break with fair usage. By an ingenious arrangement the loaded rake is easily discharged by a foot treadle and hand lever, and the pressure of the teeth upon the ground can be exactly gauged by the foot. Every tooth is independent of every other tooth, and the head being movable the rake adapts itself to every inequality of the ground. It rakes clean, is simple, strong and ground. It rakes clean, is simple, strong and lasting. To try it is to buy it.
