Life should be full of earnest work,

Our hearts undashed by fortune's frown; Let perseverance conquer fate,
And merit seize the victor's crown. The battle is not to the strong.
The race not always to the fleet;
And he who seeks to plack the stars,
Will lose the jewels at his feet.

The Boy's Two Rules.

'Here are two rules for you Fred,' said Giles Warner, looking up from the pa-per he was reading, and addressing a younger brother, who was sitting by the stove, playing with a favorite dog. 'Well, what are they? let's have them,' said Fred, suspending his sport with the dog.

'The first is, 'Never get vexed with anything you can help.' The second is, Never get vexed with anything you 'Are not those rules as applicable to Perfumery, Notions, Dyeyou as to me?' inquired Fred archly. 'No doubt of that,' replied Giles good-humoredly; 'but then it is so much easier to hand over a piece of good ad-vice to another than to keep it for one's own personal use. It is a kind of generosity that does not require any selfdenial.' Fred laughed. But what do you say to these rules?' continued Giles. 'How would they work if we adopt them?'

work if we adopt them? 'I think they take a pretty wide and clean sweep,' said Fred. 'They don't leave a fellow any chance at all to get Varnishes, That might be an objection to them, said Giles, 'if any one became wiser, better, or happier for getting vexed. I think they are sensible rules. It is foolish to vex ourselves about what can't be helped. Let us assist each other to remember and obey these two simple rules. What say you?'

usually ready to agree to anything his brother proposed, if it was only propos-ed good humoredly. "That's too bad,' exclaimed Fred, the next morning, while making prepara-'What is the matter?' inquired Giles,

'I have broken my shoe-string, and it is vexatious; I'm in such a hurry.' 'It is vexatious no doubt,' replied Giles, but you must not get vexed, for this is one of the things that can be helped. You can find a string in the left corner of the upper drawer in mother's bureau.' 'But we shall be late at school,' said

Fred. 'No, we shall not,' said Giles. 'We shall only have to walk a little faster .-Besides, if you keep cool, you will find the string and put it in much sooner than you can if you become vexed and "That's true,' said Fred, as he went for the string, quite restored to good-Several opportunities occurred during the day for putting the rôle into practice. The best was this: In the evening, Giles broke the blade of his knife while whittling a piece of hard wood, It can't be helped, so you are not to get yexed about it,' said Fred.

'Id can't be helped, but I can do better than fret about it. I can learn a lesson of care for the future, which may some day save me a knife more valuable than this. The rules work well.—Let's try them to-morrow.' The next morning Fred devoted an hour before school to writing a compo sition. After he had written half a dozen lines, his mother called him off to do something for her. In his absence his sister Lucy made tise of his pen to write her name in a book, and she let fall a great drop of ink on the page he was writing. Fred returned while she was busily employed in doing what she could do to repair the mischief. 'You have made a great blot on my composition, he exclaimed, looking over her shoulder.

'I am very sorry. I did not mean to do it it,' said Lucy. But I'red was so vexed that he would have answered his sister very roughly if Giles had not in 'Take care, Fred; you know the thing is done and can't be helped.'

Fred tried hard to suppress his vexa 'I know it was an accident,' he said pleasantly, after a brief struggle. Lucy left the room, and Fredeat down again to his composition. After a moment he looked up. 'No great harm is done after all. Two or three alteration are much needed, and if I write it over again I can make them.'

"So much for a cool head and not getting vexed,' said Giles, laughing. 'Our rules work well.'

'At night Fred tore his trowsers in climbing a fence. 'That's too bad.'

'It can be helped,' said Giles; 'they can be mended.' "The way to help it is what troubles me, said Fred. 'I don't like ask mother, she has so much to do.'

Giles proposed that he should get over his difficulty by asking Lucy to do the job for him, as her mother had taught her to mend very neatly. Fred was not at first disposed to adopt this measure. He knew that Lucy disliked mending very much and was afreid the mould. very much, and was afraid she would be cross if asked to do it; but at last decided to run the risk of that. They found Lucy busily employed with a piece of embroidery, and quite absorbed with her work.

Fred looked significantly at Giles. when he saw how she was employed; but he concluded he had gone too far to retreat and must make a bold push. 'I wish to ask a great favor of you, Lucy, but I fear I have come in the wrong time, said Fred.

'What do you want?' said Lucy. 'I am almost afraid to tell you. It's too bad to ask you to do what I know you dislike.'

'You are a good while getting to who; is wanted,' said Lucy, laughing. 'Cop', e, out with it.' Fred, thus encouraged, held ur, his foot and displayed the rent.

'Well, take them off; a will do my best, said Lucy, cheerfully.

'You are a dear, good sister,' said Fred.
'When I saw what you were about, I thought you would not be willing to do

'My unusual amiability quite puzzles you, does it?' said Lucy, laughing.—
'I shall have to let you into the secret.
To tell the truth, I have been thinking all day what I could do for you in return for you not getting vexed with me for blotting your composition. So now you have it. 'So much for our rules,' exclaimed Giles, triumphantly. 'They work to a

'What rules?' inquired Lucy.
'We must tell Lucy all about it,' said

They did tell her all about it; and the result was that she agreed to join them in trying the new rules.—Amer. Phrenological Journal.

Their reputation is such that scarcely anything need be said regarding their being desirable, having been awarded premiums and medals at the principal Fairs and Institutes, both in this and foreign countries. Many fine modern improvements, which are so desirable in all good reed instruments, are owned and retained for their exclusive use by the manufacturers of these instruments. This paper has been recently enlarged to mammoth proportions. It is the Langest relicious paper in the wonld. Is the leading organ of the Union Movement, and opposes ritualism, close communion, exclusiveness and church caste. It is the only paper that publishes thoury Ward Beecher's Sermons, which it does every week, just as they are delivered.— without qualification or correction by him. It advocates universal suffrage; a union of christians at the polis; and the rights of labor. It has the best Agricultural Department of any paper in the world; publishes stories for the family, and for the destruction of social evils. Its editorial management is impersonal; its writers and editors are from every branch of the church, and from every grade of society. It has been apply termed the freest organ of thought in the world. Such a paper, offering premiums of Sewing Machines, Dictionaries, Appleton's Cyclopedia, Pianos, Organs for Churches, etc., makes one of the best papers for canyassers in the world.

THAGA WHEEL RAKE

THE undersigned, a practical farmer, is offer-ing this implement to the farming public with perfect confidence in its superiority to any other rake in usc. The teeth are oil-tempered spring steel and fully warranted not to break with fair usage. By an ingenious arrangement the loaded rake is easily discharged by a feet treadle and hand lever, and the pressure of the toeth upon the ground can be exactly gauged by the foot. Every tooth is independent of every other tooth, and the head being morable the rake adapts itself to every inequality of the ground. It rakes clean, is simple, strong and usling. To try it is to buy it.
I refer the public to the following persons who have the rake in use: R. Toles, Chatham; Chancy Ackley, Clymer; E. H. Stebbins, Clymer; J. W. Davis, Brookfield, Isaac Thompson, Kelsey Erway, Harrison Valley, Patter County.

Mo Orders for this Rake may be addressed to me at Westfield, Tioga Co., Pa.

June 9, 1869. ISAAC PLANK, Ag't. SHRINER'S FALSAMIC COUGH SYR Will cure the ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, BLOOD SPITTING, DIFFICULTY OF BREATHING. PAIN and WEAKNESS IN THE CHEST, TROUBLESOME COUGHING AT NIGHT, &c. It will effectually remove the Cough that frequently follows Measles, and any affection of the respiratory organs, no matter of how long standing, or whatever the age of the person. It acts as a specific, is purely vegetable, and is pleasant to the taste. Its effect is soothing, allaying the violence of the cough, facilitating expectoration, quieting Mothers, Save-Your Children

No child need die of CROUP, if this Syrup is used in time: this is a fact demonstrated by experience. No family should be without this Syrup, as that fatal disease, CROUP, comes like a thief in the night, to steal away your little ones, when regular medical aid cannot be obtained.
