SONG.

My thoughts are gentle waves that run
Ever to thee their golden shore;
Soft glowing airs that, with the sun,
Fondle their beauty o'er and o'er;
Glad mounting larks, by whom is given,
All their sweet joy to thee, their heaven.

My hopes are violets that steal
To sweet life round thy blooming Spring;
Swallows that o'er thee playful wheel,
And track thy May with happy wing;
Motes that dance in thy sun, and bless
Their hours, with thee and happiness.

My dreams are loving stars of June,
Hung over thee, their world, by night;
My life is one warm Summer's moon
That clasps thee in a throbbing light;
All my glad moments can but be
Moths lured by thy sweet light to thee.

THE WAYS OF WOMEN.—Few of our dry goods friends will fail to recognize the following familiar picture—

She stood beside the counter,
The day he'll ne'er forget;
She thought the muslin dearer
Than any she'd seen yet
He watched her playful fingers
The silks and satins toss—
The clerks looked quite uneasy,
And nodded to the boss.

"Show me some velvet ribbon,
Barege and satin turk,"
She said, "I want to purchase;"
Then gave the goods a jerk.
The clerk was all obedience,
He traveled "on his shape,"
At length with hesitation,
She bought a yard of tape!

All Safe.

Some years ago the worthy citizens of the town of F——, in the State of Maine, voted in their united wisdom to purchase a fire engine. Thereupon an order was transmitted to Boston for one of Huneman's crack tubs, and a company was formed to take charge of it upon its reception. But the most difficult matter in relation to the affair, was to select a proper foreman. However, after mature deliberation, their choice was fixed upon Squire W——, a worthy ex-representative and trader of the town, who had seen the machine in operation on one or two occasions during a transient visit to Boston. In the course of time, the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen received a bill of lading of the engine, and a few days after, rumor announced to the company that the sloop Susan Jane was coming up with the tub on board.

The b'hoys dropped their hoes, scythes and pitchforks, and started for the landing. As soon as the sloop touched the wharf, they took possession of the tub, and snaked her on to the wharf. After various conjectures upon the mode of operating the critter they attached the suction-hose in order 'to see her squirt.'

At this moment the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen approached, and in a tone of authority told the boys that the machine cost too much money to be played with, and that they better unship the leather pipe before the foreman came, or he would raise Ned with them.

By this time the worthy foreman (who upon the first intimation of the arrival of the engine, had gone home and donned his ruffled shirt and representative suit) arrived to assume the active duties of his office.

'Fall in, boys,' he exclaimed, 'man the rope, two and two. I'm foreman, and I'll go ahead. Now then—forward march!'

And off they started up the hill, down Ragged Lane, over the bridge, up to Sleepy Hollow, around Dogtown Corner, across Ten Shares, and thro' every highway and byway of the town, until their weary legs and the setting sun admonished them that it was time to tie up.

That was a great day for the town and the foreman; and for an hour after ten, he sat and expatiated to his wife upon the responsibilities of his station. At length he retired, and was soon locked in the arms of Morpheus, while his worthy fellow citizens viewed with pride the gallant lord would have an opportunity to distinguish himself.

Her reflections, however, were soon disturbed by a bright light glaring into her chamber windows. Could it be possible? There was—there must be a fire somewhere?

'Husband, husband,' she said, 'there's a fire!'

'Wake her up!' shouted the new foreman half waking.

'There's a fire, I tell you,' she said.

'Poh; let it burn?'

'There is a fire, and I am going to get up and see where it is.'

'Pshaw, you fool! you will catch your death of cold!'

'But I tell you there is a fire shooting up like blazes!'

'They're only burning brush at Sleepy Hollow.'

'No—it's the other way.'

'Well, I 'spose it's Captain True's brick kiln.'

'Why, good Lord, it is Deacon Putnam's house up to Four Corners! It is all of a light blaze!'

'Well, get into bed, you fool, and let it burn! Thank the Lord our new engine is nowhere near it!'

GUTTA-PERCHA.—In regard to this very useful material, which has come to be so common almost everywhere, a writer in an exchange says:

I often wonder when I see children wearing gutta-percha combs in their hair, and rings upon their fingers, if they know what gutta-percha means. I think they would like to, and I will tell them.

They are made from the gum of the percha tree. Gutta means the gum or juice of a plant, and percha means the particular tree from which the gum is procured.

The gum is contained in the sap and milky juices of the tree. The way in which the gutta, or gum is obtained is by cutting down the trees, and ranging the bark at a distance of from ten to fifteen inches apart, and placing a cocoa-nut shell under the fallen trunk of the tree to receive the hardened sap that oozes out upon every incision. After the sap is collected, it is boiled to separate the gum from the water. When the gum has become well softened by boiling, it is rolled out in thin sheets, and all impurities are picked or rubbed off.

This gum is remarkable for the ease with which it may be manufactured. By immersing it for a few minutes in hot water, it becomes soft and plastic, and may be moulded to any form, which it retains upon cooling. This was first discovered by the inhabitants of the Malaysian Islands, who manufactured it into various domestic articles, some of which were buckets, tubs, basins, jugs and shoes.

The gutta-percha tree is a native of the Maylasian Islands and the neighboring countries, where it attains the height of from sixty to seventy feet, and from two to four feet in diameter.

—What effect do flouring mills have upon a town? Make it flour-ish.

—Stockings are now darned by machinery, and they are darned nice.

—Where cases of kid-napping are frequent—In goat pastures.

—Why is a man who has no children invisible? Because he's not a parent.

There is a girl in Jersey whose lips are so sweet that they stick together every morning by the honey they distil, and she cannot open her mouth until she has parted her lips with a silver knife. She will be a treasure to her husband, not only on account of her sweetness, but because she can occasionally keep her mouth shut.

A little boy being asked if he knew where liars went, answered, yes—that they went to New York and wrote for copperhead newspapers. They don't all go to New York for that purpose.

HAVING obtained the agency from the manufacturers of the above named instruments we have the facilities for furnishing them at prices to compare favorably with those of dealers in either the same or other reed instruments. Their reputation is such that scarcely anything need be said regarding their being desirable, having been awarded premiums and medals at the principal Fairs and Institutes, both in this and foreign countries. Many fine modern improvements, which are so desirable in all good reed instruments, are owned and retained for their exclusive use by the manufacturers of these instruments. Hence it is, while they claim strength and durability, together with volume, and quality of tone equal to any, they excel all other reed instruments, in the variety and combination of tones which can be produced.

THE CHURCH UNION.

This paper has been recently enlarged to mammoth proportions. IT IS THE LARGEST RELIGIOUS PAPER IN THE WORLD. Is the leading organ of the Union Movement, and opposes ritualism, close communion, exclusiveness and church caste. It is the only paper that publishes Henry Ward Beecher's Sermons, which it does every week, just as they are delivered,—without qualification or correction by him. It advocates universal suffrage; a union of christians at the polls; and the rights of labor. It has the best Agricultural Department of any paper in the world; publishes stories for the family, and for the destruction of social evils. Its editorial management is impersonal; its writers and editors are from every branch of the church, and from every grade of society. It has been aptly termed the freest organ of thought in the world. Such a paper, offering premiums of Sewing Machines, Dictionaries, Appleton's Cyclopedia, Pianos, Organs for Churches, etc, makes one of the best papers for canvassers in the world.

Every Congregation may obtain a Communion Service, an Organ, a Melodeon, a Bible, or a Life Insurance Policy for its Pastor, or almost any other needful thing, by a club of subscribers.

ITHACA WHEEL RAKE.

THE undersigned, a practical farmer, is offering this implement to the farming public with perfect confidence in its superiority to any other rake in use. The teeth are oil-tempered spring steel and fully warranted not to break with fair usage. By an ingenious arrangement the loaded rake is easily discharged by a foot treadle and hand lever, and the pressure of the teeth upon the ground can be exactly gauged by the foot. Every tooth is independent of every other tooth, and the head being movable the rake adapts itself to every inequality of the ground. It rakes clean, is simple, strong and lasting. To try it is to buy it.

I refer the public to the following persons who have the rake in use:

R. Toles, Chatham; Chancy Ackley, Clymer; E. H. Stebbins, Clymer; J. W. Davis, Brookfield; Isaac Thompson, Kelsey Brway, Harrison Valley, Potter County.

☞ Orders for this Rake may be addressed to me at Westfield, Tioga Co., Pa.
