Flashes the firelight upon the dear faces, Dearer and dearer as onward we go, Forces the shadow behind us, and place Brightness around us with warmth in the glow, King, King, crown me the King, Home is the Kingdom and Love is the King!

Flushes the levelight, increasing the glory, Beaming from bright eyes with wheath of the foul.
Telling of trust and content the sweet story.

Lifting the shadows that over us roll.

King, King, crown me the King:

Home is the Kingdom and Love is the King!

Richer than miser with porishing treasure Served with a service no conquest could bring; Happy with fortune that words eannot measure, Light-hearted I on the hearthstone can sing, King, King, crown me the King! Home is the Kingdom and Love is the King?

SUSAN'S SISTER

A country editor in Illinois has been having a prolonged debate, on the woman's question. Hear him:
. I was sittin' in my office, speculating in my own mind whether on the whole it wouldn't be best for me to give my-self away for the benefit of my family, when there came a knock at the door. There, says I, is some one anxious to subscribe for the El Pasco Journal, so I uttered in a loud voice:

'Come in." She was drest in a pair of store boots and an iron gray set of spectacles, and she walked up to me with a majesty in her mich. I know who it was the minuto I set my eyes on her.

It was a woman.
I gracefully arose and said: "How are you ma'am, was you wish-in' to subscribe for the El Pasco Journal! at the time dipping my pen in the ink and openin' my subscription book. This alluz gets 'em. It looked like biznis.

I didn't git her. She fixed her glassy eyes on me and "Young man, are ye an advocate for the holy caws of woman's rights?" ''No, ma'am,'' said 1, '£l'm a Presby terian." "Air yew," she said, "prepared to embark with us over the sea of ckal suffrage?"

"Madam," said 1, "I haint no objection to takin' a quiet sail with you, provided the boat ain't leaky, and you'll do all the rowing." A smile persued her features for a nio-ment, and then she said: "I am willing to suffer for the caws."

"Yes," said I, in a polite and softnin manner. "It'll cost only two dollars, and we'll send it to any address for an entire year." 'Hev yew a wife?" she asked. "I hev," said I, wonderin what she was commin' at. "So that fou see I could not marry yew of I wanted to ever so much." I throwed this in as a

"Air you willin' that she should share with me the burdens and trials of "I ain't no ways perticklar," said I. "an I'll let her shoulder the hull lot ef she has a hankerin' thus."

"Would you consent that she should go to the poles "" She kin go where she pleases," said I, "she generally duz."
"Yew air a hole soled man," said she, and throwin' her arms around my neck, laft wildly,

"Git out," said I, "what are you up to? I ain't one of them men. Stop." After much labor I succeeded in unloosening her hold and sot her down in a chair. I judged from her conduckt that she stood in need of a few moral "You air an impulsive female," I aid. "Your nature is at once spontaneous and outbreakin'. You need pair of martingails. Consider what would be your state of a man's wife was man's Rights.'' "Yes," said I, "you air. You ought to be ashamed of yourself. I should judge you was one of them lobby women the Chicago Tribunc correspondent speaks of. But you can't come your nefarious arts over me. I'm steeled against 'em all."

"I should be pleased," she said, "to go arm and arm with you to the polls."
"No you don't," said I in alarm,
"not if I have anything to say in the matter. I won't go with you—not a single darned pole."
"Young man," said she, "hast thou children ?" "I hev," sed I, "seven of them. Can you show as good a record?" "Wood you," said she, "hev your your girls grow up and be married to base, sordid men, who wouldtake away their political rites and allow 'em n franchises ?" "Darn the franchise," says I in a rage, "they are the thing that woman put on behind to give em the Grecian bend. Ef my darters ever go to wearin

"No, no," said she, "they are pan niers. "Well," said I, "panniers or franchises, or whatever you call 'em, I) am opposed to 'em. They are onnatural and humpty. They degrade the form into a likeness of a camel, and bring logely women down on all fours like

"Then," said she' "come with me and we will emancipate women from the slavery of dress. 'No," said I, with some severity, "I hev no wish to take the close away from any woman. Wimmen without close would be a sad spectacle, particularly in winter when the howlin' blasts prevail. Who air you, any way?" I asked of my visitor.

"I am a pilgrim," she said, looking to the interests of the Agitator, a noospaper devoted to the caws of femail suffrage in Chicago."

"Well," said I, calmly, "the wimmin in Chicago need something of this sort. Where them that air married never known on goin' to bed at night but what on wakin' up in the mornin' they may be devorced, and them that ain't married spend their time in betting how many times they can be married, and divorced within a month. The wimmin in Chicago need agitatin' powerful. Keep a stirrin' of them up ef you please. The more you agitate, the tter for 'em." With these words I arose, and tellin' her to set still until my return; I stole softly down stairs. I have not been back since. What will be the effect of leavin' a femail agitator sittin' in my seat the whole of this time I no not, but if she waits until I go back her patience will be of east iron. "Your wife's fat, but she's not handsome. Smith."

"Well, Jones, that's expressing your opinion plump and plain, anyhow."
"You are right, Smith; that's exactly my opinion; she's very plump and plain."

THE AMERICAN BUTTON-HOLE OVER-SEAMING AND SEWING MACHINE.

THE greatest invention and the best sewing-Machine in the world. It has no equal as Family Machine. And INTRINSICALLY THE CHEAPEST.

It is really two machines in one by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement, making both the Shuttle or Lock-stitch and the Overseaming and Button-hole stitch with equal faility and perfection. It executes in the very best manner every variety of sewing, such as HEMMING, FELLING, CORDING, and in addition OVER-SEAMING. Embroiders on the edge and makes beautiful Button and Eyelet-holes in all fabrics. Every Machine is warranted by the Company or its Agents to give warranted by the Company or its Agents to give entire satisfaction.

TUCKING, STITCHING, BRAIDING AND QUILTING, GATHERING and SEW-ING ON,

For further information inquire of F. KINGS-LEY, at R. C. Bailey's in Morris Run, or of Mrs. S. K. EVERETT, four doors south of the Depot near R. Farr's Hotel, Blossburg, where the machine may be tried, and instructions received in using the Machine, by all those wishing to buy.

It is the landing organ of the Union Movement, and opposes ritualism, close communion, exclusiveness and church caste. It is the ouly paper that publishes Henry Ward Beecher's Bermons, which it does every week, just as they are delivered,—without qualification or correction by him. It advantes universal suffrage; a union of christians at the polls; and the rights of labor. It has the best Agricultural Department of any paper in the world; publishes stories for the family, and for the destruction of social evils, Its editorial management is impersonal; its writers and editors are from every branch of the church, and from every grade of society. FOUTZ'S CELEBRATED

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure not ventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per pent, and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetito, loosens their hide, and make them thrive much faster.
