DISTRESSING CASUALITY! - As Mr. James S. English was passing a house lately vacated, about half a mile from this village on the Charleston Road, Friday forenoon, 29th ult., he days since, the fire was fortunately discovered discovered the body of a child hanging by the head from a window. He at once hurried to town and dispatched Dr. Webb to the scene. On his arrival he found the girl quite dead, though the body had been released from its hanging position during Mr. English's absence. It proved to be the body of a little girl of Mr. D. H. Updike's, of Charleston, and about twelve years old. She had evidently raised the window to look inside, when it fell, catching her by the ucck. Dwellers near by heard her scream, but did not suspect anything terious to be the matter. It is long since so distressing an accident has shocked this community. We have just learned that a terrible casuality of the same nature, occurred in Farmington township on the same day. We have neither names nor strict details, but the report reaches us in the following shape: A girl returned to a house where she had been at work, in order to get her clothes The people were not at home, and the doors were locked. She seems to have raised a window and put in her head, when the sash fell across the neck choking her to death. If true, the coincidence is as striking as the case is shock-l'ersonal. - Col. Niles, who had been waiting orders, and recruiting his health, hereabout for several weeks, last week received notice of his assignment to duty on the Board o Registration in Mississippi. The Colonel left town on Wednesday last, and will have reached his post ere this time.

Mr. Geo. Stauffer and family have returned from their visit to Maryland, and Mr. S. may be found again in his blacksmith shop six days in a week. The shop will be carried on by Stauffer & Dewey. The new Congregational Church was laid on the 20th, alt., with appropriate religious services, by Rev. Isanc T. Everett, Methodist, on the Knox-ville charge. Among other articles deposited was the "Tiogn Eagle," printed at Wellsboro, August 5th, 1840; and a copy of the "Lycoming Gazette," printed at Williamsport, Dec. 21, 1831. The stone work is finished, and further labor on it is discontinued until Spring. it is discontinued until Spring.

Levi Farguson had a fine beifer thrown from the R. R. by, a Fall Brook train. It was so badly injured he was obliged to kill it.

Royal Walker, aged 76, dug 50 bushels of poatoes per day, for three successive ditys; a pattern for some young men.

The School Directors of Covington Boro have secured the services of Mr. Inc. Youngurs and Miss Hattie Hubbard for the winter ferm of schools. This means business, boys.

Persons wishing a nice family horse, or for children's use, can have the opportunity next.

lect the event described by Mr. Simpson in the "Turf Field and Farm," none more vividly than Mr. Videan. The same old residents recollect of boped that the singers of Charleston and Delmar will come down and take part in the Convention.

Mr. Videan. The same old residents recollect of a cortain "Jo. Simpson," then a pedagogue, and Levi Thomas, during high water, making a slab raft near Irolan's Mill, striking out, and making a rather boisterous run, until they came to the turn in the river, opposite Mayor Gerould's orchard, when the raft brought up against a big stump in the middle of the river, and went to places of business will be closed on the 18th, but we presume that is the arrangement. I cannot vouch for the truth of the above, "but relate it, as t'was told to me."

> TIOGA.—The silence of your correspondent for the past two or three weeks must be attributed to a sort of lethargy which has possessed our little village, and items of news, like angel visits, have been few and far between.
> G. W. Hazlett celebrated the fifth anniversary of his marriage, by a wooden weeding, each of the guests bringing something of wood. The variety and multiplicity of household articles and implements of all kinds, both useful and orna-hental, was amusing in the extreme. Many of the ladies decked their heads with shavings, which gave them a very fautastic appearance. The ball room was opened, good music in attendance, and the lovers of the dance, danced until they were tired; clegant refreshments were served, and all wont home, wishing George many happy cturns of the anniversary.

Joseph Adams, we understand, has pronounced single-blessedness a bore, and confirmed his opinion by getting married. May his shadow never and put out before much damage was done. The citizens of Mansfield fear that justice will not be accorded them in their own town, and bring their petty inwants to Tioga to be tried. The member or members of the Tioga Lodge I O. of G. T. who make a practice of telling the pass-word us soon as they receive it, will be toughly dealt with, if they are found out. The man or woman, boy or girl, who has no more honor han to thus violate a solemn obligation, is not worthy of a place in society; not what the Creator intended they should be, when he created them in the image of himself. They would distill the heart that the treater in the solemn of the solem would dislike to have their names in the paper, perhaps, but such may be the case if they are not INCOGNITO.

LAMB'S CREEK.-W. F. Lamb, and H. E. Cooper have done a good thing by destroying those elders in front of their lots, which leaves those on Mr. L. Carpenter's sticking out like a sore thumb. We would very much like to see G. Lamb clear them out of his fence on the other side of the street. 📜 👶 D. L. Fralie is rushing things about his new house, having it nearly or quite enclosed, and we understand auticipates having it ready in a week or two for the plaster; also W.C. Ripley's will soon be ready for the same, together with M. II. Fraise and J. L. Moore. The latter gentleman deserves credit, for he has done all his own work.

Chas. Pitsley has made a decided improvement n the looks of his house, by putting on siding and painting it. W. C. Moore has sold his house and lot, to liss Julia Shaw. W. C Ripley Esq., has sold be building now occupied by G. Thayer to J. mith was has by the way as good assortment of rouds as is usually kept in a country store and soils them as cheap. Give him a call. D. P. Shaw has somewhat surprised us by putting up another building which we understand is to be fitted up for a store and dwelling house. He has it quite as nearly completed as some of the others, and only began a low weeks ago. Henry. Wells, son of W. Wells, mot with a very serious accident on the 22 inst., by falling from an apple tree and breaking his leg near the ankle joint. It was nicely set by Dr. Smith of Tioga, and I believe is doing well.

Hon. L. P. Williston and family for so many years residents of this village, have gone to live in Towanda. The Judge resumes the practice of law in Towanda, and it is safe to assume that he will succeed. He certainly has the best wishes of his many friends hereabout. Meantime Towanda has gained, and Wellsboro has lost, a family whose absence from any social circle would be marked and regretted.

Tioga, and I believe is doing well.

I baye not written you for the past three or more about the corrupt society here, of which he thinks there is no change for a change, while so many are in the habit of using strong drink. We think if there are any here with such habits, they are in a very poor place to keep it up, for indeed we have not had a drunken person in the place for two years or more, and we flatter ourselves that the society here is quite the reverse. As regards the new meeting house, we say
